

Farm Bill Gains Senate Approval

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The Senate accepted a compromise version of the "second round" farm bill today, passing it on a voice vote and sending it to the House, where legislative action may be completed tomorrow.

The bill is tailored closely to President Dwight D. Eisenhower's pattern. Its big feature is a $1.2 billion soil bank system for paying farmers to cut down their production.

Postal Hike Approved By Group

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The House Post Office Committee today approved a $432 million increase in postal rates which Secretary of the Treasury George H. Humphrey says may spell the difference between a balanced and an unbalanced federal budget.

The committee voted behind closed doors to boost the present 3-cent letter rate to four cents and hike the air mail charge from 6 cents an ounce to 7 cents.

Estimates Higher Rate
Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has estimated the higher letter rate would cost the average family 10 to 12 cents a month.

Bigger increases were approved for second-class mail—chiefly magazines and newspapers—and for third-class advertising matter.

Rejected was an Eisenhower administration proposal that rate-setting authority be transferred from Congress to a postal rate commission.

Bill Vote Reported
The committee reportedly voted 13-8 for the postal rate bill, which apparently has drawn increasing support since it was advanced by the administration early in the session.

However, some Congress members have held out slight hope for increased postal rates in this election year, and the measure has not been listed by House leaders as "must" legislation.

Department in Debt
The administration's big argument has been that the boosts are needed to offset the Post Office Department's operating deficit, now running nearly $500 million a year.

Dulles Disputes Stassen View

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles refused today to go along with Harold E. Stassen's statement that military manpower cuts announced by the Russians are "an initiative we wanted them to take."

Despite the hopeful face put on the Soviet move by Stassen, who is President Dwight D. Eisenhower's disarmament specialist, Dulles stuck to his guns. Dulles repeated his statement of last week that the Russians, if sincere in saying they will cut 1,200,000 men from their armed services, are reaction out of economic, military and propaganda consideration—not in any genuine spirit of disarmament.

Hall Asks for Time To Answer Democrats

By the Associated Press
GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall said Tuesday the Republicans want equal time on the air to reply to the Adlai E. Stevenson-Estes Kefauver debate in Florida even though it "hardly seems worth answering."

"The biggest flop of the year," Hall called this meeting of the two Democrats who are campaigning to get the nomination to run against President Eisenhower.

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—An authoritative source said today Christmas Island, the big Pacific atoll claimed by the United States, will be used as a British base.

Leader Fights GOP Blockade Against Postponing Toll Hike

HARRISBURG, May 22 (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader moved today to overcome a Republican blockade against a proposal to postpone a 41 per cent increase in automobile tolls on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

He said he planned to name John F. Byrne, a Democratic member of the Philadelphia city council, tomorrow to one of two vacancies on the five-man agency.

Democrats Get Vote
That appointment would give Democrats enough votes to void the position of James F. Torrance, Westmoreland County Republican, that the rate revisions go into effect as scheduled on Friday.

Another commission meeting—the second in 24 hours—was expected to be called tomorrow to push through a postponement until at least July 15.

During the day, Torrance blocked a proposal by Joseph L. Lawler, secretary of highways, and a commission member, asking for the postponement.

Votes With Lowler
Chairman G. Franklin McSorley voted with Lawler but with the commission reduced to three members, a unanimous vote was necessary.

Leader recently submitted Byrne's appointment to the Senate but the Legislature adjourned today without confirming Byrne. His name was simply returned to the governor.
