

Engle Shifts Sabol To Aid Guard Spot

By FRAN FANUCCI

(This is the second in a series of stories covering each position on Penn State's football team. Today the guards.)

The loss of five men, since spring training, at the guard spot has so confused matters in this part of the line that Coach Rip Engle has switched fullback Joe Sabol to left guard in an effort to alleviate this bug-a-boo.

Sabol, an outstanding runner last year, will combine talents with captain Sam Valentine, varsity left guard, and Dick DeLuca, who was transferred to right guard the same time Sabol was shifted.

Sabol, who backed up the line last year, will man the backup spot for the Lions this year, and will be used sparingly on offense. Line Coach Tor Toretta said that in the short time Sabol has been at the guard spot he has shown "quickness, aggressiveness, and a great desire to play."

Fullbacks Still Strong

The "Rob Peter to Pay Paul" move by Engle does not weaken the fullback position to a great extent since fullbacks Babe Caprara and Maurice Schleicher have both shown up well in practice sessions.

But as one bug-a-boo is eliminated another seems to emerge from the confusion. DeLuca, although a three-year man and a definite threat as a backup, is still untested in the middle of the line and according to Toretta "it remains to be seen what will happen."

Fine Offensive Player

DeLuca is considered a fine offensive player but his worth as a defenseman in the interior of the line is still unknown.

Valentine will continue to back up the line and play offensive left guard. The 5-11, 200 pound guard is a candidate for the All-East team, and has often brought stadium crowds to their feet with his fan-appealing tackles on kick-offs and punts. He is one of the few players on the team who is guaranteed a starting berth when the season opens against Penn Sept. 29.

Arnst Top Prospect

Another top candidate for one of the guards spots is Jack Arnst, who rates as one of the larger men on the line, standing 6-2 and weighing 210. Arnst is a hot and cold player who has the size and potential to break into the lineup at any time.

His potential and size give Engle a much needed reserve behind DeLuca, who stands 5-10 and weighs 190.

Injuries have forced Clint Law, 6-0, 220, to ride the bench during most of the practice sessions this fall. Law was heralded as the man to fill the gap but his unfitness to play forced the change in plans, which shifted Sabol.

Jim DeLuca Injury-ridden

Jim DeLuca, brother of Dick, was regarded as one of the outstanding freshman last year but injuries have hampered him throughout the last two weeks of practice.

Other noted reserves are Dick McMillen, Skippy Stellfox, and Joe Macecevic. McMillen was regarded as a "hustling ball player" by Toretta and with some experience could develop into a top prospect. The same holds true for Stellfox and Macecevic, who are both sophomores. Boasting the height and weight, 6-2, 190, and 6-0, 195 respectively, both have the potential to give Engle a stronger middle as the season progresses. But here, too, experience is the much needed factor.

Lion Lacrosse Meeting Scheduled by Baer

There will be a meeting of all 1957 varsity lacrosse candidates at 7 p.m. Sept. 20 in 114 Recreation Hall, according to Ernie Baer. Baer, who succeeds Nick Thiel as head coach after serving as assistant coach for the past three years, said arrangements for fall practice sessions will be made at the meeting.

Yankees, Baltimore, 'Sox' Win, Mantle: 48; Pierce in 20th
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13 (AP)—Whitey Ford stubbornly fought off the Kansas City Athletics in the late innings today to win his 18th victory for the New York Yankees, 3-2, as Mickey Mantle hit home run No. 48—his first since Aug. 31.

Mickey also hit a double in the first inning behind Enos Slaughter's single and rode home on Yogi Berra's single that got the New Yorkers away to a 2-0 lead off loser Tom Gorman. The homer came in his next time at bat in the third and ended the Yankee scoring. Bobby Shantz and Jack Crimian handcuffed the New York power hitters the rest of the way.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ron Northey's pinch single in the 10th inning gave the Chicago White Sox a 4-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox today and made Billy Pierce the first 20-game winner in the American League this season.

The victory put the White Sox back in third place.

Jim Piersall's homer in the ninth had tied up a tense pitchers' duel between Pierce, and Tom Brewer, both of whom entered the game with identical records of 19-7. Chicago had held the lead up to that point on homers by Walt Dropo and Jim Rivera.

Nellie Fox opened the 10th with a bad-hop single over Mickey Vernon's head at first base. Larry Doby sacrificed, so Minnie Minoso was handed an intentional pass. Northey then batted for Sherm Lollar and blooped a single to center, scoring Fox.

Brewer put himself in the lead in the second inning when he singled to center with two out to drive home Ted Lepcio, who had walked and moved to second on an infield out.

Dropo tied the score with his sixth homer deep into the left-field stands in the home half of the inning and the White Sox moved ahead in the third when Luis Aparicio walked, advanced on Pierce's sacrifice, and scored on a single by Rivera.

Brewer's bat figured in Boston's fifth-inning run, too. The pitcher singled to center, moved up while Milt Bolling was bouncing to the first baseman, and scored on a single by Billy Klaus. Rivera's homer came with two out in the seventh. It was his 11th of the year.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—A combination of five-hit pitching by Connie Johnson and two home runs by big Gus Triandos enabled the Baltimore Orioles to salvage the finale of a three-game series as they beat the Cleveland Indians 4-1 today at Municipal Stadium. The Indians' only run was scored on a homer by Bob Avila.

Triandos' homers were his 17th and 18th of the season. The first one, over the center-field fence in the second inning, gave the Orioles a lead they never relinquished. The second was hit over the left-field fence in the sixth inning.

Sandwiched between the two homers was an Oriole run in the third inning. Johnson opened the frame with a single to center and moved to second on a sacrifice. He scored when Chico Carrasquel made a wild throw to first after fielding George Kell's grounder and Kell went on to second.

Avila, who entered the game at the start of the fourth inning after Carrasquel was removed, hit his ninth homer over the left-field fence in the fifth frame.
