

Church Secretary To Speak Sunday

Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, first American secretary of the World Council of Churches, will speak on "Tomorrow's World Is Here" at the Ecumenical Worship Service at 7 p.m. Sunday in Schwab auditorium.

The service, sponsored by the University Christian Association in cooperation with the student religious foundations, is open to the entire university community.

An informal coffee hour in the Memorial lounge of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel will follow the service.

Dr. Leiper, the minister and executive secretary of the Missions Council of the Congregation-Christian Churches, is the father of the Rev. Hal Leiper, associate director of UCA and Protestant chaplain to the University.

Served as Missionary

He has served as secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement for Missions, for five years as a missionary under the American Board of Foreign Missions in China, and as Ecumenical Secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America before the formation of the World and National Councils of Churches. He is a widely traveled author and lecturer.

Others who will participate in the service are: the Rev. Preston Williams, assistant to the Chaplain; the Rev. Earl F. Spencer, pastor of the University Baptist Church; the Rev. John R. Whitney, Episcopal Chaplain to the University; and Edwin P. Nye, associate professor of mechanical engineering and chairman of the U.C.A. Board of Trustees.

Students to Participate

Students who will participate are: George Buckhout, co-chairman of the U.C.A. worship committee; Richard Martin, U.C.A. vice president; Clyde Angle, Lutheran Student Association man students who are over 21 years of age, freshman veterans, and second-semester freshmen. Persons in these categories are required to carry selective service, and Veterans Administration claim cards and University matriculation cards to provide information for exemption. All University students are requested to carry matriculation cards.

Violations of the customs regulations may be turned in to the Customs Board at the HUB desk. Written reports of violations must contain the name of the violator, his violation, the date and time of the violation, and the name of the informant. The violator will appear before the board for hearing and, if found guilty of the violation, will be sentenced.

The board has indicated that it will not recognize ignorance of the regulations as a valid excuse.

Members of the Customs Board may not actively participate in customs. The board consists of the following: George Willis and Katherine Dickson, co-chairmen, and Heather Lorentz, Patricia O'Neill, Sara McCoy, Sandra Gusk, Dana Harrison, George Sifter, Samuel Moyer and Alvin Clemens. They will carry identification cards.

Other freshman customs regulations are:

1. Freshmen shall not walk on campus grass or any unpaved shortcuts.

2. Senior Walk, the strip extending along College Avenue from Allen street to Pugh street gates, is out-of-bounds. This includes the wall adjacent to the walk.

3. Freshmen are required to know the names and locations of all major buildings on campus.

4. Freshman men will answer to the call, "Button, Frosh," by doffing their dinks in the direction of the upperclassman giving the call. Freshman women will respond to the call, "Curtsy, Frosh," by delivering the polite gesture in the direction of the upperclasswoman giving the call.

5. Freshman men will not be permitted to place their hands in their pockets while strolling or lounging on campus or in the bor-

State to Extend Survey For Interstate Highway

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department said today it will extend its preliminary survey for a proposed north-south interstate highway between Washington, Pa., and the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

After a meeting with Western Pennsylvania legislators, the department said it would survey an alternate route for the proposed road which would by-pass Pittsburgh.

ough of State College.

6. Freshmen shall know the name of the dean of their college, the name of the president of the University, and the name of their counselor.

7. Freshmen are permitted to smoke only in their dormitories while on campus.

8. High school athletic awards or sweater, and pins of high school organizations shall not be worn on campus. The only athletic letter worn on campus is the Penn State "S."

9. The east side of the Mall and the diagonal walks extending from the front of Old Main shall be considered "hello" walks. Freshmen must say "hello" to all persons they meet while on the walk.

10. Freshman men must doff their dinks and bow to the Old Willow on the east side of the Mall, while freshman women must curtsy.

11. Freshmen must know all University cheers and songs and must sing or chant them when requested by upperclassmen and upperclasswomen.

12. Women must be in their dormitories by 8:15 p.m. weekdays during customs and at 11 p.m. and 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

13. The "hello spirit" is encouraged on all parts of campus.

14. Customs offenders will appear before the Freshman Customs Board for a hearing.

Sticker Needed On Vehicles

In a move to alleviate the traffic problem the University will require all student cars to be registered in the Campus Patrol office. In turn, the Patrol office will issue a special windshield registration sticker.

The new rule includes students living downtown who will not utilize campus parking lots. A $5 fine will be imposed for all violators.

In previous years, the University required student cars to be registered, but stickers were only issued for campus parking lots. The new registration sticker will be pink.

The new rule, in addition to all other campus parking and traffic regulations, will go into effect Monday.

president: Shirley Winter, Wesley Foundation Council president; Glen Elder, U.C.A. president; and George Imperial, graduate student in fuel technology from the Philippines.

William Reeves, of the University Choir, will sing the offertory solo, while G. E. Ceiga, University organist and assistant professor of music, will play the organ.
