WSGA Approves Drinking Revision

By LIANNE CORDERO

The Women's Student Government Association Senate last night unanimously approved a revised drinking code one day after the Interfraternity Council took action on the drinking question.

The new code reads: "Drinking by women students under the age of 21 is against the regulations of the Women's Student Government Association and violations are dealt with by the Judicial Committee or the Freshmen Regulations Board and, if needed, by the Administration. The same procedures will apply to women students over 21 whose conduct is unbecoming to a Pennsylvania State University student."

Needs University OK

The code will not go into effect until approved by the Administration.

Daisy Zimmerman, WSGA president, said that she believes that there will be very little opposition to the rule. "We have worked hard to find a rule that is in accordance with the state and meets with the approval of the women students," she said.

Seeks IFC Cooperation

Miss Zimmerman said WSGA hope to get cooperation from the Interfraternity Council in applying the rule if it receives University approval. IFC established a drinking ban Tuesday night that prohibits fraternities from serving freshman minors alcoholic beverages.

In other business Senate selected six women to serve on a screening board of WSGA committees. They are Marilyn Seltzer, senior in home economics from Lansdowne; Jo Fulton, senior in education from Apollo; Martha Fleming, senior in home economics from Huntingdon; Sandra Shogren, sophomore in arts and letters from Pittsburgh; Anne Nitrauer, junior in education from Stroudsburg; and Miss Zimmerman.

Positions Open

Women students without a major judicial record may soon apply for committees on scholarship, necessity counters for dormitories, student enforcement of WSGA rules, and WSGA publicity.

Susanne Smith, WSGA vice president, announced that nominations for dormitory unit officers will be held Monday night. A week of campaigning will follow and elections will take place on Oct. 1.

Need 2.5 Average

The president of each unit will automatically become a voting member of WSGA House of Representatives. All nominees must have a 2.5 All-University average and no judicial record. Presidents cannot be members of Judicial, Freshman Regulations Board, or Senate.

Voting for Freshmen Senators will take place on Oct. 9 and 11. Self-nomination blanks will be made available at the office of the dean of women.

Miss Zimmerman announced that Senate meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. every Wednesday. All meetings are open to the public.

Cabinet Will Air Half-Holiday Plan

All-University Cabinet will discuss the possibility of obtaining a half-holiday for the Penn weekend tonight.

If Cabinet approves the half-holiday recommendation, it will then be sent to the Council of Administration. Last year the University granted the holiday after Cabinet's recommendation followed by the same procedure.

At the meeting tonight, opening the fall semester, Cabinet will plan a general agenda schedule for Sept. 20 to Dec. 20. According to Robert Bahrenburg, All-University president, the following major items have been tentatively scheduled:

Sept. 27 through Oct. 11, workshops from encampment; Oct. 18, open; Oct. 25, workshops from encampment; Nov. 1, finals and cut policy for eighth semester seniors; Nov. 8, Cabinet Constitution; Nov. 15, open; Nov. 29, compensations; Dec. 6, evaluation of what has been done to date; Dec. 13 and 20, open.

Information Compiled

Information has been compiled on five campus issues discussed in the past so that ideas will be available for reference. The issues are parking, bookstore, compensations, eighth semester senior finals, and health service.

DSL to Go 'National' In October

Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity will become the Alpha Psi chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma October 13, house president Kenneth Williamson, Jr., senior in chemical engineering from Williamsport, said last night.

The national group, which has about 40 chapters, mostly in the midwest, accepted the local's petition in July.

2 Others in State

Sigma Tau Gamma has two houses in Pennsylvania, at Indian and Clarion State Teachers Colleges. Officials from these houses will install the local during the Homecoming weekend ceremonies.

Members of Delta Sigma Lambda voted shortly before the end of last semester to join Sigma Tau Gamma, founded June 28, 1920 at Central Missouri State College.

Williamson said that the local along with the University of Illinois will be the largest schools with chapters of the fraternity.

Former DeMolay House

Before establishing a chapter at the University, Delta Sigma Lambda was a DeMolay national fraternity, which folded in the middle 30's.

The DeMolay Club at the University founded the fraternity in 1954, and assumed the name of the defunct national fraternity.

At present, the house is being rented, but Williamson said the fraternity hopes to either buy or build a new one in the future. There are 16 brothers and seven pledges living in the chapter house located at 322 S. Allen street.

Last semester the house average rose from 44th to 18th among the other fraternities.

Officers include Paul Fisher, vice president; Barry Bowman, secretary; Jerry Wennerstrom, financial secretary; and George Havens, treasurer.

AIM Judicial to Meet

The Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review will meet at 7 tonight in 217 Hetzel Union.

Collegian Calls For Candidates

Students interested in working on the editorial staff of The Daily Collegian may attend a Coke party from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday in the Collegian office in Carnegie Hall.

Freshmen may attend the candidate party. Students who are not majoring in journalism may also become editorial candidates.

Candidates will be asked to spend as many afternoon hours as they feel they should in the office. In addition they will receive instruction in newspaper writing and office work one night a week. One other night a week they will be assigned to work on a particular issue of the paper.

The first meeting for all editorial staff candidates will be held next week. The Coke party will serve as a mixer for all interested students and present staff members.

Free Froth Overpriced, Vows Prof

Some day Froth, which represents itself as the campus humor magazine, will take a hint and give up.

During registration, a Froth solicitor, who only comes out of his hole once a month, tried to sell a subscription to Dr. Eric A. Walker. The hawkker didn't even know he was talking to the president-elect.

Yesterday, two saleswomen got an expert, unbiased opinion about the magazine from a faculty member.

The member was beset by the two lasses on the Corner who began their spiel about the magazine's good points.

Finally, one of the women asked "Well, will you buy a copy?"

The professor came forth with the perfect squelch: "Thanks anyway. I get a free copy—and it's not worth it!"

C-o-l-d Weather Seen for Today

Pull out the parkas, there's cold weather on the way.

A cold front last night was slated to bring gusty winds, some showers, and colder temperatures today, according to the University weather station.

The low yesterday was 37 degrees, with no frost. Today's high will hit 65 degrees, with partly cloudy skies. The weather will get considerably colder tonight.

New Course to Boost Ike's Atoms Program

President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atoms-for-Peace program has been given a shot in the arm with a course offered at the University in nuclear science and engineering.

The University and North Carolina State College were selected earlier this year as schools to offer the course. It has previously been taught at Argonne National Laboratory, near Chicago, Ill.

Dulles Warns of Suez Boycott

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles asked 18 nations today to press Egypt for a share in control of Suez Canal traffic. He plainly indicated the canal might be boycotted if Egypt refused to cooperate.

Dulles added an emphatic warning that an eventual Suez solution must conform with justice and law as well as with peace.

Balk at Dulles' Plan

Five of the countries at the conference balked at the Dulles outline of the project.

He characterized the canal dispute as a test case of the world's ability to deal with its problems. "If there is no substitute for force in achieving just solutions the world will relapse into chaos," he said.

While Dulles was speaking in London, the Soviet Union came out for a six-nation Suez negotiation conference composed of the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, Egypt and India.

Nasser Calls Cabinet

In Cairo, Egypt's President Nasser summoned his Cabinet to a special night meeting on the dispute. Before the Egyptians presumably was Dulles' London outline of the users' association plan. Nasser already has rejected it as illegal and a danger to world peace.

In Damascus, Arab political leaders called for "an immediate general military and economic mobilization" in their countries and military training of civilians to resist the West. At their rally they also called on Arab governments to prepare an Arab boycott against the West, barring Arab oil and use of bases and airports.

The 18-nation conference here called to consider the next steps in the explosive dispute—wound up its first day's sessions with a majority backing the Western Big Three project to form a users' association.

Shipping Rights Plan

It is intended to protect the rights of the international shipping in the now Egyptianized Suez Canal.

Some smaller nations expressed misgivings about the project. Denmark favored an immediate appeal to the UN. Sweden, Iran and Spain suggested new negotiations with Egypt.

Members of the 1956-57 Cabinet are Bahrenburg, William Clark, All-University vice president; Leonard Richards, All-University secretary-treasurer.

Student council presidents—Norman Schue, agriculture; Edmond Kramer, business administration; Joseph Eberly, chemistry-physic; Judith Hance, education; Donald Patterson, engineering and architecture; Susan Hill, home economics; Richard Schrieger, liberal arts; Donald Kauffman, mineral industries; Ann Farrell, physical education.

Represent Groups

Daisy Zimmerman, Women's Student Government Association; Ann Forster, Women's Recreation Association; Dion Weissend, Athletic Association; Lash Howes, Association of Independent Men; Rosetta Kearney, Leonides.

Daniel Land, Interfraternity council; Barbara Nicholls, Panhellenic council; Robert Martz, drama and forensics; Michael Moyle, editor of The Daily Collegian.

Cabinet members will meet for dinner at 5:30 tonight at the home of Dr. Henry S. Brunner, 732 Holmes St., State College.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Named Top Chapter

The University chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity has been named "Top Teke Chapter of the Year."

The Pi chapter was selected from 130 other chapters as the most representative and outstanding throughout the country.

Last year TKE won the IFC Sing for the sixth consecutive year.

Matric Cards To Be Released

Freshman and new students may pick up their permanent matriculation cards starting Monday in 109 Willard.

Students have been requested to bring their temporary cards with them.
