

Today's Weather:
Possible Showers,
Cool

The Daily Collegian

Too Much—
or Too Little
See Page 4

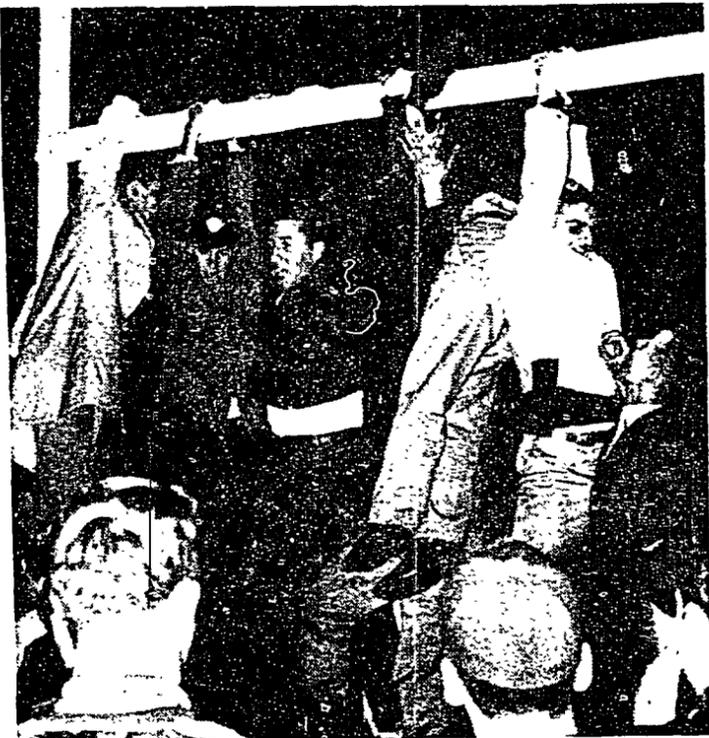

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 57, No. 12

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 28, 1956

FIVE CENTS

No Sophomore Joy

JUBILANT FROSH demonstrate after "pull" win.

Freshmen Win Tug-of-War As 2000 Cheer at Pep Rally

By ANNE FRIEDBERG

Freshman Customs officially ended last night as an enthusiastic and spirited crowd of more than 2000 students saw the freshman class triumph in a run-away tug-of-war with the sophomores.

Signs such as "Put the Brakes on the Quakes," and "Beat Penn" flashed through the crowd, composed mainly of freshman men and women.

Early crowds who thronged in front of Recreation Hall chanted "Go Frosh Go," and "Come On Sophs," until the "big pull" got underway.

Frosh Receive Trophy

The win gave the freshman class a trophy. The sophomore class won last year.

A giant motorcade, consisting of members of Chimes, junior women's hat society, and Androcles, junior men's hat society, co-sponsors of the rally, and cheerleaders, toured the campus before winding its way up to Rec Hall. Cheerleaders, accompanied by the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps Pep Band, led the group in songs and cheers.

Engle, Valentine Attend

Charles (Rip) Engle, head football coach, and Samuel Valentine, team captain, addressed the group amid spirited ovations and gave encouraging predictions about the team's chances for this year's schedule.

Participants in the tug-of-war that was originally scheduled to take place in front of Rec Hall. (Continued on page eight)

Freshmen Car Review Board Now Complete

Three final appointments announced yesterday by Robert Seyler, Association Independent Men vice president, will enable an AJM freshmen car screening board to operate next week.

Appointed to the five man committee were Daniel Thalimer, sophomore in education from Pittsburgh; John Kreps, freshman in civil engineering from Granville, and Theodore Leffer, sophomore in metallurgy from Johnstown.

Seyler to be Chairman

James Wambold, sophomore in mechanical engineering from Allentown was appointed last week. Seyler will act as chairman.

The committee will begin interviewing freshmen who have submitted letters early next week, Seyler said.

Freshmen may submit letters stating reasons for needing cars at the Hetzel Union information desk.

Seyler said he had received 10 letters by yesterday but said he will check for additional letters before the committee begins screening.

Each freshman submitting a letter will be interviewed individually for 15 minutes, Seyler said.

Most recommendations for permits are approved because of emergency or hardships, he said.

Last year the board recommended 25 cases for permits which were later approved through the dean of men's office.

University DG's Named Top Chapter in U.S.

The University chapter of Delta Gamma sorority has been named the outstanding chapter in the United States among schools with 10,000 or more students.

The group was also cited among the 83 chapters for the most outstanding activities record.

Ike Defends Prexy On Peron Charge

President Dwight D. Eisenhower spoke up sharply in defense of his brother Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the University, yesterday and said it was the Democrats who gave financial aid to ex-dictator Juan Peron of Argentina.

No United States money went to Argentina after he took office. President Eisenhower said, until after Peron had been overthrown and driven into exile, according to the Associated Press. The President spoke out at a news conference when asked how he felt

Spalding to Join Staff At Hopkins

Keith Spalding, Administrative Assistant to the President of the University, will join the Johns Hopkins University staff Monday as assistant to the president.

Spalding had served as administrative assistant to President Milton S. Eisenhower since Jan. 1, 1956. He will join Dr. Eisenhower, who resigned as President of the University last June to accept the presidency of the Maryland university.

In his new capacity, Spalding will coordinate the administrative details of the Johns Hopkins executive office.

Spalding came to the University from the New York Herald Tribune where he served as assistant news editor. He joined the Tribune staff in 1948, and held five different positions before coming to the University. He has had experience as a radio copy writer with a Midwest radio station.

University of Kansas Grad

A 1942 graduate of the University of Kansas with a BS degree in psychology, Spalding took graduate work in journalism at the State University of Iowa four years later. During his graduate work, he was city editor of the student-staffed Daily Iowan.

During World War II, Spalding served with the Marine Corps as a fighter-bomber pilot. He holds a reserve commission of captain.

Phi Beta Kappa

Spalding is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society; Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity; and the Overseas Press Club of New York City.

Homecoming Photos Due

Candidates for the Homecoming Queen Contest must turn in their pictures before 5 p.m. Wednesday at the Hetzel Union desk.

about the "propriety" of the opposition bringing his brother into the campaign.

Stevenson Attacks

Adlai Stevenson said in a speech at Miami Tuesday night that the Eisenhower administration had "appeased" the Peron regime.

The Democratic presidential nominee added that "a member of the President's personal family assumed special, if informal, responsibility for our relationships with Argentina." An aide said Stevenson referred to Dr. Eisenhower.

Visits Latin America

Dr. Eisenhower visited Peron and other Latin-American heads of state in 1953 as a representative of President Eisenhower.

The President told his news conference:

1. It was the Truman administration in 1950-51 that loaned 130 million dollars to Peron. After he took office, Eisenhower said, Peron got nothing from this country.

$160 Million Loan Given

2. Not until after Peron had been replaced by a new regime did the United States authorize a 160-million-dollar credit to help Argentina establish a steel industry.

3. Dr. Eisenhower's mission to Latin America was an attempt to revitalize the partnership spirit among American governments. One result, the President said, was that an Argentina censorship on news agency communications was lifted within 24 hours.

Prexy 'Not Involved'

4. Dr. Eisenhower never had a hand in making foreign policy and acted only at the request of and through the State Department.

The President said he had directed the State Department to prepare a full statement on his brother's role in foreign affairs and would make it public when it is ready.

Honorary to Hold Afternoon Teas

Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic society, will hold teas with the theatre art department for members of other chapters and graduate students of the society.

Teas will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday in the Green room in Schwab Auditorium.

Members may contact Joyce-Lee Andruzak in 401 Simmons to ask about free tickets for the Gilbert & Sullivan production of "Ruddigore," which will begin Oct. 24 in Schwab Auditorium.

Cabinet Axes Half-Holiday Protest Vote

All-University Cabinet refused last night to register a formal protest against the University's denial of a half-holiday for the Penn-Penn State football game tomorrow in Philadelphia.

Cabinet recommended the holiday to the University last Thursday, but the deans of the nine colleges in the University axed the request at a special meeting Monday night.

Kramer Makes Motion

Near the end of the 1½-hour meeting, Edmond Kramer, Business Administration Student Council president, asked Cabinet to go record as "not being in complete accord with the University's decision on the holiday."

Kramer expressed discontent with the absence of a University official at last week's meeting, and said he hoped the "University does have a desire to work with Cabinet."

In an effort to curb what he termed would be a "regrettable mistake," Frank J. Simes, dean of men, told Cabinet he didn't think the body should go on record against the University. "It wouldn't help University-student relations," he explained.

Simes Pacifies

Pacifying the group, Simes said: "You must realize that every time you make a recommendation, to the administration you're taking the chance someone's going to say no."

Answering Kramer, Simes said he'd rather see Cabinet act on its own, then have an administration official go before Cabinet on every question.

The members then decided to drop the holiday question.

Perishing Rifles' Drilling to Begin

The University drill champions, Perishing Rifles, will begin regular drill classes at 6 a.m. Monday in front of the Armory.

Perishing Rifles will perform at the Farm Show in Harrisburg, the Washington Cherry Blossom Festival, a regimental drill meet, an East coast drill meet in New York, and the University drill championship.

Any basic cadet desiring to join may attend the Monday morning session.

Common Cold Victims Keep Dispensary Busy

The dispensary has been "very busy" this week due to a rush of students with the "common cold," a dispensary spokesman said.

The high number of students having colds is not unusual for this time of year, according to Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the University Health Service.

BX to Return Money

The Book Exchange will begin returning money for books sold and returning books not sold at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

This is the last week for students to return books not being used in courses.

Ike Steps Up Campaign Speeches

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower, stepping up his schedule of campaign speeches, said today he believed in fighting any battle wholeheartedly—and with the thought there is always "a chance to lose it."

He made the statement in turning aside a news conference question as to whether he was getting reports his reelection campaign against Democrat Adlai Stevenson "may be a closer race than you anticipated."

"Chance to Lose"

"I have not anticipated anything," Eisenhower replied with some force. "I believe that when you are in any contest you should work like there is—to the very last minute—a chance to lose it."

"This is battle, this is politics, this is anything," he went on. "So I just see no excuse, if you believe anything enough, for not putting your whole heart into it. It is what I do."

Shows No Pessimism

However, Eisenhower did not sound at all pessimistic. Nor did the sum total of his remarks on the campaign sound as though he were "running scared," despite his statement about the possibility of losing.

Eisenhower said he had talked last night to his hard-campaigning running mate, Vice President Nixon, and Nixon "seemed to be highly pleased with what he encountered."

And, asked for his impressions of his two trips into the Midwest—campaign forays into Iowa and Illinois—Eisenhower said:

"Both Mrs. Eisenhower and I have been not only proud, we have been practically overwhelmed by the warmth of the personal welcome we have encountered.

"We are very, very happy that people seem to feel toward us like they show."

Indirect on Odds

As for the odds of his being reelected, Eisenhower mentioned this indirectly in comment on a statement by Dean Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration, that the Eisenhower administration "seemed to be playing Russian roulette with an atomic pistol."