

Religious Educator Will Speak Sunday

Dr. Douglas Horton, dean of the Harvard Divinity School, will speak at the Chapel Services at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

Dr. Horton, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., is a graduate of Princeton University. He received his bachelor of divinity degree from the Hartford, Conn. Theological Seminary. He

Chapel Choir Will Conduct Hymn Practice

A pre-service hymn rehearsal will be conducted by the Chapel Choir at 10:40 a.m. Sunday to help students and faculty familiarize themselves with selected hymns in the new hymnal, "Hymnal for Colleges and Schools." The hymnal will be used in the chapel services and in services at the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

The rehearsal will be held 15 minutes before the beginning of the chapel program each Sunday morning. One hymn will be rehearsed each Sunday and this hymn will be sung in the following service.

The hymnal was published earlier this year by the Yale University Press. The University is the first institution of higher education to introduce the book, which includes hymns from all traditions and from periods of the church.

The book also includes notes on the hymns and a section of responsive readings taken from the Psalms, other books of the Old and New Testaments, and from the Apocrypha.

University Team Wins First Place In Cow Judging

The University dairy cattle judging team won first place in judging holstein's at the National Intercollegiate Dairy Cattle Judging contest this week at Waterloo, Ia.

In individual judging, Neil Bowen, senior in dairy science from Wellsboro, placed fourth in judging Brown Swiss cattle, and Gordon Miller, junior in dairy science from Clarks Summit, was fourth in Jerseys.

Earl Berger, senior in dairy science from Lehighton was ninth in Holsteins.

The team was 12th in total scores for judging all breeds and seventh for Brown Swiss.

Thirty-three colleges and universities competed in the contest, which was won by Oklahoma A&M.

On Oct. 8 the team will enter the International Intercollegiate Dairy Cattle Judging contest in Chicago, and will return to the campus Oct. 9.

FMA Nomination Blanks Available

Self-nomination blanks for the student vacancy on the Fraternity Marketing Association may be entered at the office of the dean of men until 5 p.m. Monday.

Blanks are available at the office. The deadline for their return was extended from last Wednesday.

The association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday and will discuss the functioning of various committees.

A complete up-to-date financial report will be presented.

W3YA Seeks Staffers

Students interested in joining the amateur radio station W3YA staff have been requested to send a short letter to Gilbert L. Crossley, associate professor of electrical engineering, stating amateur call, general experience, and personal background.

We Feature the Exclusive Franchise for the
VINCENT & JOSEPH LAMP CUT
VOGUE BEAUTY SALON
402 E. College Ave.
AD 7-2286

50 Judging Teams Enter Field Day

Fifty high school livestock judging teams will compete in the second annual Livestock Field Day starting at 10 a.m. today in the livestock judging pavilion.

4-H high school champions from 32 counties will also compete in a tractor driving contest at 9:30 a.m. at the new dairy barn. The tractor driving contest includes a written examination and a belting up contest in which the contestants must rig up a tractor for various farm operations.

Winners Will Advance

The five winners in the tractor contest will go to Harrisburg in January to compete in the statewide 4-H farm show.

The fifty teams competing in the livestock judging are composed of both 4-H and Future Farmers of America club members. They will judge two classes each, of steers, swine and sheep.

Thirty dollars in cash prizes will be awarded to the top three teams and single judges.

Henning to Speak

Dr. William Henning, state secretary of agriculture, and William Haase of the Swift and Company research department, will speak at 1 p.m. in the pavilion.

Eight educational exhibits and University livestock and poultry will be on display.

Buses will take visitors to the newly opened veterinary research center, where livestock research will be reviewed.

More than 1000 visitors are expected for both contests.

Sororities Set Deadline For Rushing Sign-Up

Registration for informal fall sorority rushing will close at 5 p.m. Monday.

Second semester freshman women with a 2.3 All-University average and upperclasswomen with a 2.0 All-University average are eligible for rushing.

Women students may register at the office of the dean of women. A $1 fee must be paid at registration time.

holds doctorates from Lawrence College, Chicago Theological Seminary, Princeton, Marietta College, and Beloit College.

Dr. Horton began his work in the ministry as assistant minister of the First Church of Christ, Middletown, Conn., in 1915 and from 1916 to 1925 served as minister of this church.

Served Several Congregations
He also served congregations in Brookline, Mass., Chicago, Ill., and from 1938 until 1955 was minister of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches.

In 1930, Dr. Horton was named professor of practical theology at Newton Theological Institute. He became lecturer in practical theology at Chicago Theological Seminary in 1933 and was lecturer in congregational policy at Union Theological Seminary from 1943 to 1945.

Author of Books

Publications by Dr. Horton include "Books: Out into Life"; "A Legend of the Grail"; "Taking a City"; "The Art of Living Today"; and "Congregationalism, A Study in Church Policy."

He is co-author of "Christian Vocation," translated from the German Karl Barth's "The Word of God and the Word of Man," and is editor of "The Basic Formula for Church Union," published in 1937.

Activities Listed

A member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, he is vice chairman of the Friends of the World Council, Inc. and of the World Conference on Faith and Order.

For the anthem, the Chapel Choir, directed by Willa C. Taylor, will sing, "Arise, Oh Ye Servants of God" by Sweelinck.

Andrews Gives Talk On Civil War News

By PAT O'NEILL

Dr. J. Cutler Andrews, chairman of the department of history at Chatham College, Pittsburgh, said Thursday night that Civil War generals, though loathing newspaper reporters and resenting newspaper criticism, still read newspapers diligently.

Dr. Andrews spoke on "Civil War Generals and the Press," after he was presented the 1955 Kappa Tau Alpha Research Award in Journalism and Mass Communications for his book, "The North Reports the Civil War."

The presentation was made by Dr. James Markham, professor of journalism and national secretary of Kappa Tau Alpha. Dr. Markham won the award for 1954.

Did 10 Years Research
Dr. Andrews devoted ten years research on Civil War reporting, which had the best coverage of all wars.

Few generals recognized reporting as a right, but merely regarded it as a privilege, Dr. Andrews said. The background of the generals influenced their relations with newspaper reporters.

Of the leading generals on the Northern side, McClellan, Burnside, Rosecrans, and Grant probably had the best relations with reporters in the field. Halleck, Meade, and Sherman were among the Union generals who were most heartily disliked by newspapermen, Andrews said.

Lee Asked for Resignation

Andrews also stated that Johnston, Bragg, Beauregard, and Stonewall Jackson were Confederate generals who rarely permitted reporters in their camps. Because of press criticisms, General Lee once asked for his resignation. Jefferson Davis refused and the press became more cordial to Lee.

Dr. Andrews explained that Davis never completely censored southern newspapers. Davis felt that there would be nothing gained in winning independence if liberties were lost.

Dr. Andrews concluded his speech with, "both generals and reporters contributed to the evolution of war reporting as a branch of professional journalism."

Chiappetta to Speak On Liberal Religion

Dr. Michael Chiappetta, assistant professor of education, will speak from 6:30 to 7 p.m. tomorrow in 212 Hetzel Union at the first fall meeting of the Emerson Society.

His topic will be "What is Liberal Religion?"

Dr. Chiappetta is the Director of Religious Education of the Centre County Unitarian Fellowship and specializes in the study of philosophy of education.

"The Christian and His God" will be the topic of a forum to be presented at the weekly meeting of the Evangelical United Brethren Student Fellowship following a buffet luncheon at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the parsonage, 306 W. Beaver avenue.

Protestant churches in the borough will celebrate World-Wide Communion tomorrow morning.

Communion services are conducted in Protestant churches throughout the world on this day.

The Westminster Student Fellowship will present a play, "Campus Gods on Trial," adapted from a book of the same name, at 6:20 p.m. tomorrow in the Presbyterian Student Center.

Dr. Joseph G. Raybeck, professor of American history, will speak at the meeting of the Canterbury Association at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow in the St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

Discussion classes sponsored by the Wesley Foundation will begin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday in rooms 210, 211 and 212 of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

Classes offered are "A Philosophy of Christian Leadership," "Life and Teachings of Jesus," and "Methodist Beliefs in Action."

A student panel will discuss the subject, "Keynote on Campus," at the Evening Fireside program of the foundation at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the social room of the Methodist Church. A worship service will precede the panel discussion at 6:15 p.m. and a Coffee Hour will be held at 7:15 p.m.

The Folk Dance Group sponsored by the Hillel Foundation will have its first fall meeting at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Hillel Foundation.

The group specializes in folk dances of Israel, Yugoslavia, Scotland and other nations. Students, faculty and townspeople are invited.

Members of Sigma Alpha Mu will be hosts at a Lox and Bagel Brunch from 11 to 12 a.m. tomorrow in the foundation. Officers of the Freshman Council will be elected at a meeting of the freshman class members at noon.

The Student Bible Group of the Roger Williams Fellowship will study the subject "God and Genesis" at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in the RWF Student Center. Donuts and coffee will be served at 9:15 a.m.

Eight fellowship members who attended a student conference in August will report on their activities at the weekly meeting of the fellowship at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Center. Supper will be served at 5:30 p.m.

Art Exhibition At HUB Billed As Outstanding

An art exhibit which has been billed as "the finest yet to be displayed at the University" is now on display in the Hetzel Union Building.

The paintings and drawings by eighteenth and nineteenth century French, Italian, and American artists have been borrowed from private collections by the University Art Exhibit Committee.

The display will remain in the HUB until next Saturday.

Included in the exhibit are "The Writer and Critic Duranty," by Edgar Degas; "Behind the Stage," by George Rouault; "The Harlequin's Family," by Pablo Picasso; "Women With a Fur," by Edouard Manet; "Teapot and Fruit," by Paul Cezanne; and "English Dancer Taking a Bow," by Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec.

Also included in the display are the works of John Marin, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Maurice Sterne, Maurice Prendergast, Sidney Simon, Constantin Guys, Paolo Veronese, Rufino Tamayo, and Anne Poor.

WDFM to Air Jazz Quartet

Progressive jazz will be presented by the Don Crebs Quintet on station WDFM's live musical show "Hubzapoppin" from 8 to 8:30 tonight.

The show originates from the Hetzel Union assembly room and each week presents a variety of student entertainment.

Appearing with the quintet tonight will be Crebs on the vibraphone; John Wallace, piano; Charles Torrence, saxophone; Lane Ryland, drums; and Robert Waterstradt, bass.

The show is open to the public and admission is free.

"Hubzapoppin" will be presented every Saturday night throughout the semester. Students interested in appearing on the program may contact Robert Zimmerman in 307 Sparks.

Correction

President and Mrs. Eric A. Walker will be unable to attend the Mortar Board tea as reported in yesterday's Daily Collegian.

IT'S NEW UNIVERSITY RECORD SHOP

STARTING MONDAY

The Latest in Records and Phonographs

Opposite Atherton Hall

Open Evenings

For FAST DEPENDABLE SERVICE, send your clothing to . . .
PENN STATE LAUNDRY & CLEANERS
320 W. Beaver Ave. State College, Pa.
Phone AD 7-7629
Agency Also located in Watt's Hall Basement