

3 Youths Sentenced By Communist Court For Poznan Killing

POZNAN, Poland, Oct. 8 (AP)—Polish Communist court sentenced three youths today to prison terms of four to four and one-half years on charges of murder in the fatal beating of a secret police corporal during the June 28 "bread and freedom" riots.

Since the penalty could have been death, the sentences were considered mild. A belief grew that these would set a precedent for leniency in trials to come.

Supreme Court Will Consider Labor Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to review a decision that employers who bargain jointly with a union may not act together in resisting a strike at the plant of one of the employers.

The decision, by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York, was appealed by the National Labor Relations Board. The board sought to uphold the right of the employers to close their plants until the strike against one company was settled.

The decision applied specifically to eight linen supply companies in Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Dunkirk, N.Y. For years they bargained as a group with the Brotherhood of Teamsters Union, Local 449, which represented their truck drivers.

The union in a complaint filed with the NLRB charged seven employers who locked out their workers with unfair labor practices. The board, however, said that in view of the established practice of negotiating a contract uniformly applicable to all members of the association, the strike against one of the group was in support of demands which were common as to all eight companies, and thus carried with it an implicit threat of strike action against all.

The Communist prosecutor told Western correspondents the law provides 10 years to death for an attack on a public official and he believed the punishment should have been more severe. He demanded the "highest penalty"—death—in a second trial of nine young Poles accused of being among "criminal elements" who stole weapons and stormed secret police headquarters during the rioting.

The trial of the three was the first of a series for reputed "criminal elements" involved in the rioting and that of the nine is the second. A third is running currently, but there are indications the government would like to conclude the proceedings as soon as possible in view of the open testimony about miserable living conditions in this country under the Red regime. A fourth trial, scheduled to open in a few days, has just been postponed.

In their one-week trial, the three sentenced today admitted beating the policeman, but denied killing him and defiantly pleaded innocent.

The telegrams opposed an amendment by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) to allow Social Security benefits to go to permanently and totally disabled workers at age 50 instead of requiring them to wait until the retirement age of 65.

Committee Finds New Case In 'Phony' Telegram Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The special Senate committee investigating lobbying today turned up another case of "phony" telegrams going to senators about to vote on a major bill.

Albert H. Stoddard, 40, sales manager for the Jack O'Conner insurance agency, Boston, said he initiated and took "full responsibility" for the sending of 80 wires apiece to Massachusetts Sens. John F. Kennedy (D) and Leverett Saltonstall (R) last July. And he said he knew some of the telegrams' purported signers had not authorized use of their names.

Acknowledges Guilt
He acknowledged he "shouldn't have done this."

Three of those whose names were used, all agents for the Boston firm, took the stand and told of their "amazement" at discovering their names on the telegrams. Two of the three said they were opposed to the views expressed in the wires.

The telegrams opposed an

George's Proposal
The Senate adopted George's proposal July 17 by a 47-45 vote which generally followed party lines. Kennedy voted for it, Saltonstall against. The bill later became law.

In an earlier round of hearings last month the committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), developed that telegrams with unauthorized signatures had been sent to Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) seeking passage of the natural gas bill.
