

Soccer Streak Snapped at 19

Nittanies, West Chester In Scoreless Struggle

A gloomy and disappointing feeling prevailed at West Chester Saturday afternoon after West Chester's soccer team had stopped the 19-game winning streak of the Penn State soccer men in a 0-0 double overtime encounter.

The gloom came from the Nittany players who saw their bid for victory number 20 (over a four year period) come to an abrupt end.

And the disappointment emerged from West Chester soccer men who outplayed the local booters most of the game.

However, the game wasn't a complete failure for either team. Even though their winning streak was snapped, the Nittany soccer men are still unbeaten and still in contention for the national title.

West Chester gained revenge for last year's 3-2 defeat to the Lions, which ruined an unbeaten season for the Rams.

Both coaches had little to say about the outcome of the tilt. Lion mentor Ken Hosterman hated to see the winning streak come to an end but he thought that his boys played the best game that they could. West Chester Coach Earle Waters, on the other hand, felt that his Rams outplayed the Lions and that the victory should have been theirs.

Hampered by Injuries
Hosterman's forces were hampered by injuries to Mike Stollmeyer and Per Torgeson, key players in the Lion attack. Stollmeyer was nursing a blister that broke before the game and Torgeson re-injured his foot in the first quarter.

Both continued to play practically the whole game, but their injuries limited their scoring potential. This was especially true of Torgeson who attempted only one shot—far below his average—the whole time he was in action.

The Lions started off in the first quarter as if they were going to run roughshod over the Rams. They were on the offensive most of the period and although they didn't score they kept the West Chester goalie on his toes.

Lawrence Stars
But the rest of the game it was the Lion goalie, John Lawrence, who had to keep awake. West Chester put the Lions on the defensive for the last three periods and both of the overtime sessions and it was mainly through the efforts of Lawrence and fullbacks Ralph Brower and Otto Rosenberger that the Rams failed to score.

West Chester had 46 shots at the Lion goal including six corner kicks. The Nittanies collected only 25 attempts and had four corner kicks.

Hosterman Pleased
Hosterman, despite the let-down, feeling stimulating from the end of the winning streak, was pleased with the play of his fullbacks, Brower and Rosenberger. In last week's victory over Bucknell, the fullbacks were the only disappointing factor. However, Brower and Rosenberger—a sophomore making his first start—came through in such fine style that Hosterman is not worrying over the matter anymore.

The Lions will try to start another winning streak Saturday afternoon when they entertain Syracuse University as part of the Homecoming celebration. Last year, the Nittanies walked to a 14-1 win over the Orange.

SOCCER SHORTS—It rained prior to the game making the field slippery and muddy. A larger turnout was expected, but the weather and the World Series probably kept the fans away.

All-American Dick Packer, the Olympic product who last year set a Lion scoring record with 25 goals, was in attendance at the game along with his parents. Packer is in the United States Air Force.

Myerson Takes Fraternity Crown In IM Golf Play

Dave Myerson, Alpha Zeta, shot a 153 total to win the fraternity division of the 36-hole intramural golf-medal tournament held on the University course over the weekend.

Don Bernhart won the independent crown as he shot a 156. John Owens was indie runner-up with 163.

Myerson shot a 76 for his first 18 holes Saturday and added a 77 Sunday. Myerson's winning score bettered last year's top figure by two strokes.

Bob Bishop, Alpha Chi Sigma, finished second, one stroke behind Myerson. Bishop shot a fabulous 73 Saturday but skyrocketed to an 81 Sunday. His 73 represented Saturday's best effort.

Last year's winner, Bob Knee, Alpha Chi Sigma, finished in a three-way tie for eighth with a 162. Like Bishop, Knee proved a poor Sunday golfer following a good Saturday session.

Don Lee, Phi Delta Theta, came in third with 156. Joe Riley, Delta Tau Delta, was fourth at 158. Fred Donahoe, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Carl Schmid, Pi Kappa Alpha, tied for fifth at 160. Jim Lysek, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, shot a 161 for seventh.

Tied with Knee in the eighth spot were Paul Trimmer, Phi Delta Theta, and Nick Molloy, Phi Kappa Sigma.

Myerson's triumph dumped 50 points into the Alpha Zeta coffer toward the All-Year Trophy. Bishop's second place finish and Knee's eighth made Alpha Chi Sigma 40 points richer.

3 WRA Hockey Games Inaugurate 2nd Week

Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta and Kappa Alpha Theta will play Beta Sigma Omicron, Delta Zeta and Delta Gamma at 4 p.m. today on Holmes field as the coed intramural field hockey league begins its second week of play.

Thompson will meet Atherton, the 1955 champions, at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Yanks' 2-0 Win Pushes Bums Behind in Series

Memories of Floyd Bill Bevans and his 8½ hitless innings for the Yanks against the Dodgers in 1947 came back when Manager Walter Alston sent up Mitchell, a Cleveland castoff, to face the pitcher with two out and nobody on base. Everybody remembered how Cookie Lavagetto's pinch double had ruined Bevans that October afternoon and sent him reeling to the dressing room with a heart-breaking defeat.

Larsen threw a teasing ball to Mitchell. Then he came in with a called strike. Mitchell swung at the next and missed. He fouled a pitch to the left field stands, leaving Larsen still one pitch away from that shiny goal.

The final pitch slid past Mitchell who started to swing and then checked his bat while Umpire Babe Pinelli, working his last series plate job at the age of 60, made the "out" sign. It was Larsen's 97th pitch of a beautifully-pitched ball game.

Until this perfect job, the closest any series ever came was a one-hitter. Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs in 1906, Claude Passeau of the same Cubs in 1945 and Bevans had reached that peak.

Larsen had his closest call in the fifth when Mickey Mantle raced into left center to make a sensational backhanded catch of Gil Hodges long drive, always curling away from him as he ran. A few seconds later, little Sandy Amoros lined a ball into the right field stands, just barely foul.

A second-inning smash by Jackie Robinson almost got away for a base hit when it slanted off Andy Carey's glove toward shortstop Gil McDougald who just made the throw in time to get Jackie.

Larsen's pitching was such a tremendous job that few paid attention to Maglie, the first game winner. Old Sal gave up only five hits, after matching Larsen pitch for pitch in the first 3½ innings.

Walter S. Kerstetter wishes to announce to his former patrons that he is now at the
