Dodgers Whitewashed On Kucks' Three-Hitter

BROOKLYN, Oct. 10 (AP)—Slender Johnny Kucks humiliated Brooklyn with a three-hit shutout to win the World Series for the New York Yankees in the seventh game today with the fearsome backing of four home runs, including two by Yogi Berra and a grand slammer by Bill Skowron.

After losing six straight at the Ebbets Field ballpark, the Yanks again crushed Don Newcombe in a "big game" to end the Dodgers' one-year reign. This time the score was 9-0.

High Court Supported By WSGA

Daisy Zimmerman, president of the Women's Student Government Association, said last night that she will vote at All-University Cabinet for the continuation of Supreme Court.

WSGA Senate last night decided to go on record as in favor of retaining Supreme Court. However, members felt that a revision of the Court is needed.

Sandra Shogren, freshman senator, explained the arguments that had been expressed in the Student Encampment workshop on regulations and controls.

Court Said Needed

Mary Ann Gemmill, sophomore senator, said "the fact that it was used last year shows that there is a need for the Supreme Court."

Further discussion in favor of retaining the Court was expressed by Jo Fulton, chairman of Judicial committee, who argued that "Court members are not biased."

Lower Courts Suggested

Miss Fulton also said that student leaders have considered the possibility of setting up a lower court to which appeals would first be heard before sending the case to Supreme Court.

The Senate approved a motion saying that they prefer a longer Christmas holiday as opposed to a longer semester vacation. The change was made by the University Senate last week so as to allow more time for computing student averages.

Cool Weather Will Continue

Yesterday's cloudless sky is expected to continue today, tonight, and tomorrow. Cold northwesterly winds may bring the thermometer even further down into the freezing regions during the night hours.

Temperatures are expected to dip as low as 25 tonight and tomorrow morning from a predicted high of 60 to 65 for today, according to the University weather station.

The weatherman expects the fair, cool weather to last until at least late Friday.

Yesterday's high was 56 from a low of just freezing.

Price of Haircuts May Climb to $2

If Pennsylvania's barbers follow a suggestion made by the State Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians, haircuts will cost $2 soon.

The group closed out its annual convention Tuesday with a resolution calling for the $2 haircut. Prices for this service now generally run about $1.25.

Women's hairdressing will also become more expensive. A $5 minimum for a combination haircut, shampoo, and set was suggested by the convention.

Collegian Staff to Meet

The Daily Collegian business staff will meet at 8:30 tonight in 11 Carnegie.

It was the Yanks' 17th championship in 22 attempts and their sixth over Brooklyn in seven series.

Kucks, making his first series start after four relief jobs, didn't allow a hit after Duke Snider slicked a single to left in the first until Carl Furillo dropped a soft liner into center for another single with one out in the eighth. Snider lined a single to center with two out in the ninth for the third hit.

It was a tremendous effort by another Yankee pitcher and a surprising performance by an 18-game winner who was not effective in late season. Kucks walked three and didn't strike out a man until he whiffed Jackie Robinson for the final out of the game.

When Berra threw to Skowron for the final out on Robinson's strike out, the entire Yankee ball club gathered around the mound to pound Kuck's back.

Berra, who had a bases-loaded home run off Newcombe when he was knocked out with a 6-0 deficit in the second game, lashed into the jumbo-sized righthander for two more to send him home again. It was Newcombe's fourth series defeat and the 27-game winner still is looking for win No. 1 in the fall.

The Yanks sent Newk to the showers before there was anybody out in the fourth inning. Berra had hit two home runs, in the first and third with a man on base each time, and Howard had opened the fourth with a shot over the scoreboard in right field before Newk trudged head down to the dugout.

The much-maligned Yankee pitching staff that wasn't supposed to be able to contain the Dodger right-handed power at Ebbets Field, finally wound up by holding the Brooks to a total of one run and only seven hits in the last 28 innings.

Hank Bauer lined a single over Peewee Reese's head to start the Yankee attack on Newcombe in the first inning. With two gone, Berra smashed his first homer over the right-field screen.

That 2-0 lead held until the third when Berra came up again with Billy Martin on first. This time he powered a Newcombe 2-2 service high over the scoreboard clock in right field. After that Manager Walt Alston took no chances on Yogi. He walked him.

Negro Voting Denial Charged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Senate Elections subcommittee was told today that thousands of qualified Negroes in Louisiana and other Southern states are being denied their right to vote this year.

Warren Olney III, assistant attorney general in charge of criminal prosecution, described the situation as "mass disenfranchisement... purely because of their race."

Public Hearings Asked

Olney suggested the Elections subcommittee hold public hearings at Monroe, La., and other places where he said there have been complaints.

In Louisiana, State Sen. W. M. Rainach, president of the Louisiana Assn. of Citizens Councils, said, "I would consider this move by the attorney general an effort

Borough Will Conduct Traffic Survey Today

By BOB FRANKLIN

Every motor vehicle moving into the borough's business area between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. today will be surveyed in the first step of a long-range plan aimed at solving the downtown parking problem.

The survey will be made by the Don McNeil Engineering Company, of Pittsburgh, in cooperation with the Borough Parking Authority and 165 high school senior volunteers.

The survey is being made with an eye toward purchasing for parking lots whatever amounts of land it shows to be necessary, Marlin C. Mateer, parking authority chairman, said last night.

Buildings would even be dismantled if this became necessary, he said. Parking meters would be installed in the borough-owned lots.

Police at each intersection leading into the area will stop the vehicles and wave to the curb those whose drivers plan to stop within the district.

Similar Surveys Made

McNeil, a former traffic manager of the City of Pittsburgh, has made similar surveys and developed parking solutions in many other towns and small cities throughout the state.

He and some of his associates arrived in the borough yesterday.

At the curb, two of the high school seniors will ask the driver where he is going, how long he plans to stay there, and where he is going when he leaves his original destination.

The area to be surveyed is bounded by Atherton street, College avenue, Locust lane, and Foster avenue.

Anxious for Normal Day

Mateer said the authority and the Borough Council are "anxious for a normal day" and urged drivers not to avoid driving into the downtown area because of the survey. The district's parking needs can only be judged if the survey is truly representative of the situation, he said.

The high school students will work throughout the day. They will be served box lunches while remaining on the job. The students have been restricted to the curb as a safety measure.

Senate Approves SAE Social Pro

Social probation for Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity for pledging a man with an average below 2.0 has been approved by the subcommittee on discipline of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs.

The probation went into effect at midnight last Thursday and will extend until midnight Oct. 25.

The action was recommended by the Interfraternity Council Board of Control, which heard the case Oct. 2. The board also fined the fraternity $50.

The offense, a violation of the IFC rushing code, was committed last semester.

'Lantern' to Consider Manuscripts for Issue

Manuscripts, to be considered for publication in the Lantern, are now being accepted at the Hetzel Union desk.

Any literary forms—poetry, essays, short stories, plays, profiles—may be submitted. Manuscripts will be returned upon request.

Observatories Open

The University Observatories will be open to the public from 8 to 10 tonight and tomorrow night.

Mars and the moon may be observed through the telescopes.

The Daily Collegian was erroneously informed Monday that the observatories would be open Tuesday night.

West Hall Students Disfavor Automation

Residents of West Halls have expressed sentiments ranging from "Dolores can't be replaced by an automat" to "I'd starve without it," when asked their opinion of the Waring Hall automatic vending machines.

Two Daily Collegian staffers interviewed approximately 100 students and found that three out of four students with whom they spoke did not like the idea of automation.

The main complaint was that the automatic machines provided too impersonal an atmosphere in the Waring Hall Snack Bar.

Results of the poll seem to indicate that students would like more hot foods installed in the machines. They also said the snack bar should open earlier in the morning and close later at night.

At present, the snack bar is open from 10 a.m. to 10:45 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 11:45 p.m., Saturdays, and from 2 p.m. to 10:45 p.m. on Sundays.

The vending machines include such items as soft drinks, coffee, ice cream, cookies, pastries, milk, and assorted sandwiches. They have replaced the counter and waitresses which were in the snack bar until the machines were installed early this fall.

Mildred A. Baker, director of food service, said the change was necessary because "business did not cover the cost of operation."

The machines, which cost more than $12,000, are operated under a contract with the University.

A representative from the company is on duty at the snack bar to provide students with change.

Although the company owns and operates the machines, food service provides the sandwiches, milk, ice cream, and other items for the self-service operation.

Perhaps one of the most unusual suggestions received by the two candidates during the poll came from Edward Henderson, sophomore in the Division of Intermediate Registration.

Prison Trustee Still Missing From Rockview

State Police and Prison guards at Rockview Penitentiary were continuing their search late last night for an inmate who made a "walk away" escape about 10 a.m. (EST) Monday.

William Rosencrance, 28, a parole violator from Berks County, slipped away from a gang under the supervision of officer Rankin Tate, Pleasant Gap.

The inmate was picking stones from a field near the lime kiln in front of the prison and walked away without being noticed by prison authorities.

Rosencrance was originally sentenced 5 to 15 years for burglary. He served at Rockview until July 8, 1952, and was eventually returned there when he violated parole. His maximum sentence will expire in February, 1966.

State Police have received a few calls from people who believed they might have seen the escaped man. A call from a woman at State College that someone was looking in a window of her home and that he might be the convict. A check made by police on all calls revealed nothing.

The man was wearing the usual prison clothing. He is 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighs 177 pounds, of medium build, and has hazel eyes and light brown hair.

Charge Denied

Rainach, reached at his home in Homer, said that in Ouachita Parish-county the cases referred to by Olney involved "voters illegally registered." He said "a considerable number of white voters" were challenged, as well as some 3,000 Negroes.

Chairman Albert Gore (D-Tenn) said the subcommittee was "deeply concerned with the disenfranchisement of any American citizen."

But he and Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) indicated it was too late for the subcommittee to hold hearings on the question. The group has been policing campaign contributions and expenditures in advance of the Nov. 6 election.

Other Developments

There were these other developments at today's hearing:

The Democratic National Committee reported a balance of more than a half a million dollars in its treasury as of the same date.

Olney disclosed the Justice Department is investigating a complaint that national banks in Chicago "may be involved in political activities in violation of federal law." He said the complaint involved alleged political contributions in substantial amounts.

Walker Named Director

Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of the University, was elected one of ten new chamber directors of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce at the close of the group's 39th annual meeting in Philadelphia today.
