

Small Crowd Turns Out For Flash Card Meeting

A small but enthusiastic crowd was present at the Hat Society Council's meeting for freshman volunteers for the flash card system last night.

Hat Society Council last week unanimously voted to support a flash card system for home football games. Harold R. Gilbert, director of athletics and business manager, gave University approval to the suggestion.

Car Board Recommends 3 Students

The Association of Independent Men freshmen car screening board last night approved three of nine cases heard for recommendations to operate cars on campus.

One of the three cases approved for recommendation was on a temporary basis. The case involves a student needing dental work performed by his home dentist.

Two Involve Home Problems
The other two cases approved for recommendation involved students having personal problems at home.

The six cases not approved by the board involved students desiring to operate cars on campus for their own pleasure, Robert Seyler, board chairman, said.

One case was not heard. This case together with any others, received by the board will be heard next week.

The three cases approved will be referred to the dean of men's office for final approval. Each student will receive a separate interview.

May Submit Letters
The board last week approved three cases heard for recommendation to operate cars on campus. Final approval has not as yet been announced by the dean of men's office.

Freshmen desiring to be interviewed may submit a letter stating reasons for needing cars on campus at the Hetzel Union information desk.

Four Appointed To Party Posts

Lion party has announced the appointment of four students to internal party positions yesterday, bringing the total of appointed positions already filled to 13.

Roscoe Kauffman, junior in aeronautical engineering, was named general campaign chairman; John Olsen, junior in business administration, fraternity coordinator; Joyce Levenson, freshman in education, and Marilyn Roberts, freshman in arts and letters, secretary committee.

Lion and Campus party steering committees will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday to fill the remaining appointed positions in each party. Campus party will meet in 108 Willard, while Lion party will meet in 217 Willard.

Student Tutors Needed

Students desiring to tutor, especially mathematics and engineering subjects, may sign up at the dean of men's office.

Tutors must have at least a 3.0 All-University average.

One-hundred-fifty students attended the meeting. In order for the system to be run, 304 participants are needed.

The flash cards are to be used at the West Virginia game, Oct. 27.

Sally Jervis, co-chairwoman in charge of planning the mechanics of the system, explained to those present the actual working plans of the system.

Each student will hold a large, overhead card. These cards will be navy on one side and white on the other. On each card the directions for the tricks will be printed.

Directions Simple
The directions for the performance of these tricks are very simple. A card will be placed at each individual seat. There will be a number on each card corresponding to the seat on which it will be put. On this card, one sentence will be used explaining each trick. For example, "Trick one—navy up."

A cheerleader will direct the tricks. He will give the number of the trick, count to three, and simultaneously all cards will be raised.

The middle of the freshman section will be roped off for the participants. At present, some ticket plan is being arranged.

Hatmen Will Be Ushers
Thirty Hat Society members, four from each group, will act as ushers for the performance. They will put the cards on the correct seats before the participants arrive and collect them immediately following the performance. This immediate collection of cards will enable the student to watch the game more easily and avoid loss and damaging of the cards.

Another meeting is planned for 6:45, Oct. 25. This meeting will be used as a practice session. A final practice will be held prior to game time at Beaver Field.

Registration to End For Leaders' Course

Registration at the Hetzel Union desk for the Leadership Training Program will end at noon tomorrow.

Freshman men have been urged to register for the course by Robert Stroup, chairman.

More than 300 students have already enrolled. Stroup said the meetings will be held in 119 Osmond instead of the HUB auditorium in order to seat the large group.

Warm Weather Will Continue

Today promises to be another one of those unseasonably warm days.

There is no rain forecast. Today's temperatures will again be in the high 50's, according to the University weather station.

There is a possibility that the mercury will climb even higher to the low 60's. Temperatures may drop to freezing throughout University Park tonight.

The sky will be filled with a few more clouds today and winds will remain moderate to light.

Political Parties Plan to Nominate Officers Sunday

The University's two political parties will move into the second leg of pre-election nominations Sunday with both parties scheduled to meet at 7 p.m.

Campus party will meet in 110 Electrical Engineering, and Lion Party in 10 Sparks.

Major portion of business for the groups will be nominations for vacant clique posts and freshman and sophomore class officers. In addition, Lion party will elect a full slate of class clique officers. Both parties will elect their candidates for freshman and sophomore class officers Oct. 28.

To be eligible for the Oct. 28 voting, students must attend two of the three general meetings each party holds. This week's meetings are the second for each party.

Scrolls Meeting Canceled

The meeting of Scrolls, senior women's hat society, scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Monday in Grange Playroom, has been canceled.

Vale to Be Invaded By Strange Group

Students, prepare yourselves.

On October 12, 1492, the original American citizenry was invaded by a guy named Christopher Columbus. Now, 464 years later to the day, another strange invasion will take place—this time in Nittany Valley.

Today's invaders are called simply—alumni.

Alumni are said to come in assorted sizes and occupations, but all seem to have the same thought: "We never did this when we were here."

Register at HUB

Their first massing will take place today at a special registration desk in the Hetzel Union building, the headquarters this weekend for the alumni.

During the slow hours tonight, many will undoubtedly "attack" the fraternity houses, where they may find a bunk. They are sure to be critical of the Homecoming displays, one fraternity man said.

Some may wander into either the Thespian original production of "Hat in the Ring" or the Players' production of "My Three Angels," while some are sure to visit downtown "old time hangouts."

Alumni Council to Meet

At 10 a.m. tomorrow, there will be an Alumni Council meeting in the assembly room of the HUB, after which a luncheon will be held in the ballroom.

A cider party is one of the events alumni will be able to attend tomorrow night, but as many are sure to find their way to the fraternities and those downtown

"old time hangouts." There is also a dance, Association of Independent Men's Autumn Ball, tomorrow night in the HUB ballroom.

Most of the alumni will find their way to Beaver Field tomorrow for the Holy Cross football game, and afterward will probably again head for fraternity row or downtown "old time hangouts."

Homecoming weekend comes but once a year. Students will just have to take it and bear it.

University Trustees Will Meet Tonight

The University Board of Trustees will gather for their first formal meeting of the year at 7:30 tonight in 205B Old Main.

At the meeting, the trustees' executive committee will vote on legislation presented by the trustees' four committees. The committees will meet separately earlier today.

No agenda has been released.
