Lions 13-Point Favorites Over Holy Cross

Ankle Injury To Sideline FB Caprara

By FRAN FANUCCI
Collegian Sports Editor

The Nittany Lion football team, potentially one of the best in the East, opens its home season at 1:30 p.m. (EDT) today when it meets Holy Cross before an expected 26,000 fans in the annual alumni Homecoming classic.

This will be the second meeting between the two clubs. The Lions romped in their only other meeting 39-7 in 1954.

Today the Lions are 13-point favorites to make it two in a row over the Crusaders, but Coach Rip Engle is expecting the game to be closer than the experts anticipate. Both teams have identical 1-1 records. The Lions beat Penn in the season's opener, 34-0, and lost to Army last week, 14-7; while Holy Cross was beaten by Dayton, 14-13, in its first game, and came back to beat Colgate, 20-6, last week.

The underdog Crusaders have a television winning streak of three straight wins, extending back to last season. In its three appearances before the cameras they have beat Dartmouth, Boston U., and Colgate. Today will be their fourth TV appearance and the Lions will be without the services of its varsity fullback, Emil Caprara, who sprained his ankle in the Army contest.

Replacing him will be Maurice Schleicher, a 6-3, 230 pound sophomore. Engle's only other lineup change is at left end, where Paul North replaces Les Walters.

Jack Farls will be at right end and along with North and Schleicher will be the (Continued on page nine)

PHI KAPPA TAU'S winning display in the alumni homecoming contest proclaims "To Serve Is Our Aim." The fraternity's entry topped 36 other displays to win the contest for the third consecutive year.

Phi Kappa Tau Tops IFC Lawn Displays

Phi Kappa Tau last night won the alumni homecoming lawn display contest for the third consecutive time to gain permanent possession of the Alumni Association trophy.

Kappa Delta Rho placed second and Phi Kappa Psi, third. Theta Xi, Delta Upsilon, and Lambda Chi Alpha received honorable mention. The theme of the contest, which 37 houses were scheduled to enter, was "The Fraternity System Serves the University."

The winning display, constructed of paper napkins, features a blue and white University seal, with steps leading up to it from a gold and pink fraternity seal at one side. The steps are labeled "Greek Week," "Housing," "Spirit," and "Scholarship."

"To Serve Is Our Aim"

A sign reading "To Serve Is Our Aim" is at the base of the display, and a water fountain stands at the top step.

In the Kappa Delta Rho display, "Service for the Pennsylvania State University Today and Tomorrow" is spelled out in blue across the top of a large white backdrop between two columns. "PSU" is emblazoned on a keystone supported by the Golden Greek, and the word "Service" stands in front of the display.

Viking Boat Display

Phi Kappa Psi's viking boat display proclaims "A full sail with a good crew keeps on keel the PSU." A yellow and white sail rises above the viking shields as "water" glistens beneath the display.

Phi Kappa Tau will receive five points toward the outstanding fraternity award for winning the contest. Kappa Delta Rho will receive three points and Phi Kappa Psi will receive one.

U.S.S. Pennsylvania Bell Erected at HUB Front

The bell from the battleship U.S.S. Pennsylvania was installed in front of the Hetzel Union building yesterday by workmen from the Physical Plant.

The bell, weighing about half a ton, has been "loaned" to the University by the Navy Department.

It will serve as a memorial to the battleship and will be here on a permanent basis.

Two Fraternities On Social Probation

Social privileges have been withdrawn from Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and restricted for Pi Lambda Phi fraternity for this semester because of low scholarship.

The action, announced yesterday by Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, becomes effective Monday. The measure was taken Thursday by the Senate Committee on Student Affairs.

Kappa Alpha Psi, under the ruling, may hold no social functions for the rest of the semester after Monday.

Allowed on Saturdays

Pi Lambda Phi will be allowed to hold social functions on Saturdays only.

The action was taken because both fraternities fell below a 2.0 group average for the second semester last year.

The less extensive action was granted Pi Lambda Phi, a committee spokesman said, because the All-University group average of its present membership is 2.19. The present group average last semester was 2.35.

Study Program Initiated

Prior to the action, the fraternity, with the aid of its adviser, initiated a program of limited social activity, regular checks, and discipline of the members whose average fell below a 2.2. The committee said this was also a factor in its decision.

Last spring the committee set the precedent for this action by placing three fraternities on social probation because their house averages fell below 2.0 for the fall semester.

On PHO Last Year

Pi Lambda Phi was one of the fraternities placed on probation last year. The other two were Delta Tau Delta and Pi Kappa Phi.

Delta Tau Delta and Pi Kappa Phi have since gone off social probation, because these houses raised their group average to a 2.0 or above for the second semester last year.

ACE Urges Government Scholarships

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—A subcommittee of the American Council on Education today recommended that the federal government set up a program of college scholarships estimated to cost 200 million dollars a year.

The proposed scholarship payments would go directly to students.

Still Under Consideration

The recommendation, submitted at the council's annual meeting, still must be considered by another committee next month and then by the full council.

The council's meeting is being attended by approximately 600 representatives from its membership of 972 colleges and universities and 140 organizations of higher education.

A council official said opinion at the meeting "had not crystallized" enough to forecast final disposition of the subcommittee's recommendation.

Council Reaffirms Stand

The council also reaffirmed its stand of previous years in favor of an income tax credit for parents paying their children's way through school.

Noting that each year some 100,000 of the nation's ablest high school graduates are unable to go on to college because of financial reasons, the subcommittee reported that grants "should not be limited by inequalities in the abilities of states to provide scholarship aid," and the program "must be begun soon" but should be "reviewed at regular intervals."

Blue Band to March At Halftime Today

By GINNY PHILLIPS

The Penn State Blue Band will present a half-time performance at the football game today based on the numerous types of bands.

After the fanfare, the band will march down the field playing "Nittany Lion" and then "Chu! Chu!" a Holy Cross song.

The band will then reform and go immediately into a large block S facing the west stands to play the Alma Mater.

The first type of band to be presented will be the circus band. To depict this the band will go into a formation representing a circus ring with an entrance.

Circus Band

As the entire band plays "Thunder and Blazes" a small group representing a circus band will march around the circus ring.

The band will then play the original "Lion-Taming" music as the Lion comes into the ring with his trainer and ultimately takes the training chair from his trainer while chasing him from the ring.

"Aerial Act" will be played while the band watches imaginary trapeze artists soaring through the air and ultimately tumbling to the ground.

"Lion" to Perform

The Lion, with the addition of elephant ears and a trunk, will lumber into the circus, mount the training chair, and take a bow while the band plays "Elephant."

The next presentation will be the revival band playing "Hallelujah" in a mug and beer bottle formation.

"Auch Du Lieber Augustine" will be played during the German band presentation and the band members will take their places for the children's band.

The band will give its interpretation of a children's band by playing "London Bridge is Falling" (Continued on page five)
