North to Start At Left End In Only Change

only non-senior in the starting lineup. The remainder of the lineup has Walt Mazur and Jack Calderone at tackles, Dick DeLuca and captain Sam Valentine at guards, Dan Radakovich at center, Milt Plum at quarterback, Billy Kane and Ray Alberigi at the halfback spots, and Schleicher at fullback.

In the past two games Engle has been using the two-platoon system, inserting his second team into the game late in each quarter, and has been achieving exceptional results.

The second squad will consist of Walters and Doug Mechling at ends, Bill Wehmer and Clint Law at tackles, Joe Sabol and Jack Arnst at guards, and Steve Garban at center. Al Jacks, quarterback; Andy Moconyi and Bruce Gilmore, halfbacks; and Ben Williams, fullback, comprise the backfield.

Holy Cross' lineup has captain Dick Arcand and Dave Stecchi at ends, Joe Murphy and Jack Kern at tackles, Jim Cavanagh and Ray Guerard at guards, and Gordon Massa at center. Bill Smithers is at quarterback, Paul Toland and Bob Rainone are the halfbacks, and Joe Stagnone is at fullback.

Today's game pits two potent passing attacks and a sextet of hard-running backs against each other. Plum and Smithers can both pass and if rain doesn't inter-

On the other hand Kane and Alberigi provide the Lions with a strong ground game as does Stagnone and Toland for the Crusaders. So, look for anything in today's game. The Lions' leading ground gainer, Gilmore, will also see plenty of action and will be attempting to maintain his edge over runnerup Alberigi.

Freshman Gridders In Opener Today

The Penn State freshman football opens its 1956 season today when it tangles with the plebes from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

This year's frosh contingent is one of the biggest freshman squads in Penn State history and several linemen have won the praise of the varsity coaches for their play in intra-squad drills.

Two all-state centers are the bulwarks of the yearling line. Former all-Pennsylvania center, Earl Kohlhass, has won the starting berth at the pivot spot for Bruce's team.

Sam Stellatella, all-New Jersey center, has been moved to left guard because of Kohlhass' play and is reported to be adapting himself to the new position fairly rapidly. Stellatella weighs 191 while Kohlhass goes at 227.

Norm Neff is scheduled to handle one of the end spots with Andy Synchrona, a 214-pound converted tackle, at the other wing post. Both have shown up well in pre-season practices.

John Sava, 256-pound Farrell High School graduate, and Charley Janarette will team up at the tackle slots. Janarette weighs 215 pounds.

Dan Maddigan, a 217-pound frosh who is noted for his defensive tackles, will man the other guard spot. Tom Mulraney, a 227-pound converted fullback now playing tackle, and 209-pound guard, Mike Ro-migh, are Bruce's top substitutes along the line.

The frosh have two more games remaining on their schedule after today's encounter. They will meet the Pitt frosh on Oct. 20 at Pittsburgh and will host Bullis on Oct. 27.
