

Unbeaten Booters Still Unscored-On

By LOU PRATO

Future opponents of the Penn State soccer team could do well and heed some advice from Syracuse soccer coach Joe Weber.

"Take a little lesson from these guys," the Syracuse mentor told his reserves during the second period of Penn State's 10-0 rout over the Orange booters Saturday morning on Beaver Field. "At least learn something."

Weber's remark may have been one of those "off the collar" statements that are always made during the heat of an athletic contest, but it does reflect on the all-round play of the Nittany soccermen Saturday.

Coach Ken Hosterman's booters were so hard on the New York School that Syracuse managed to get the ball in Lion territory only a few times.

The win kept the Lion's undefeated streak intact after 21 games and left their 1956 mark at 2-0-1. They have yet to be scored upon.

Statistically, the Lions outclassed the Orange by an almost 4-1 ratio. Hosterman's eleven tried 61 shots at the Syracuse goal and had five corner kicks. In sharp comparison, the Syracuse unit attempted only eight shots and two corner kicks.

Hosterman Clears Bench

Hosterman cleared his bench early to prevent a complete walk away. His reserves, plus captain Steve Flamporis, who played the full 88 minutes, saw action through all of the third period and half of the fourth.

Per Torgeson and Mike Stollmeyer lived up to their roles of Lion scoring threats by leading the 10-point attack. Torgeson, a doubtful starter before the game because of a leg injury, sunk four goals while his counterpart put in three.

Only one of Torgeson's goals was made with his injured right foot. That was in the fourth period when he breezed the ball past the Syracuse goalie from 15 yards in front of the goal. However, the score was costly to the flashy sophomore for it aggravated his bruise and forced him to leave the scene.

Walz Scores Twice

Dutch Walz and Dave Haase scored the other Lion goals. Walz had one in each of the first and fourth periods. Haase scored his in the second.

Penn State started out fast, slowed down briefly in the first period, and then picked up enough momentum to coast to the victory.

Torgeson opened the scoring after only a minute and twenty seconds had gone by in the initial stanza. But the Lions bogged down at this point, and although they kept the ball in Syracuse territory for the next ten minutes, it took a goal by Walz at the 13:50 mark to get them moving again.

two more goals before the period ended to give the Lions a 4-0 lead entering the second stanza.

Syracuse began to move the ball into Lion territory in the early moments of the second period but they could not keep up the pressure. Stollmeyer scored his second point at 13:00 and fifty-five seconds later Torgeson boosted the scoring margin to 6-0. Haase tallied his goal 24 seconds before the half ended and the Lions went to the dressing rooms with a 7-0 lead.

Subs Can't Score

Hosterman substituted a whole new team in the third quarter—with the exception of Flamporis—but the Lion reserves could not score. They had plenty of opportunities, taking 13 shots at the Syracuse goal, but the Syracuse goalie Jim Barker came through to keep the Lions scoreless during the period.

With the Lion first team back in action for part of the fourth stanza, Penn State counted three more goals. Stollmeyer scored at 14:32, Torgeson at 19:35, and Walz completed the scoring after 20 minutes and 44 seconds had elapsed in the period.

Frosh Soccermen Win Opener, 2-0

Frosh soccerites Bill Feidler, center forward; Garry Miller, center halfback; and Ralph Bocker, goalie, combined their talents to blank the Frostburg Maryland State Teachers varsity in the opening game last Saturday, 2-0.

Weak on experience and uncoordinated in the first half, the freshmen held their hosts scoreless and then drove the two winning scores into the nets in the second half when their attack "began to jell," according to coach Dave Bishoff.

William & Mary, Vanderbilt and Marquette will be newcomers to Penn State's 1957 football schedule.

Council to Post Election Lists

Lists for self-nomination to the Engineering and Architecture Student Council are being posted for freshmen today.

Freshmen enrolled in the College of Engineering and Architecture may become a candidate by self-nomination. The election will be held Oct. 30.

The lists, which will be removed on Oct. 23, are situated on the Main Engineering bulletin board, and in the basement of Hetzel Union Building. Lists are also posted on the individual department bulletin boards.

Freshman representatives will be elected from electrical engineering, mechanical engineering,

History Instructors To Attend Meeting

Four faculty members will attend the forthcoming Pennsylvania Historical Association meetings to be held Oct. 26 and 27 at York.

Dr. Warren W. Hassler Jr., instructor in history, and Dr. Harold E. Dickson, professor of history of art and architecture, will deliver papers on historical topics at the meetings.

Dr. Philip S. Klein, professor of American history, is president of the association and Dr. Robert K. Murray, associate professor of history, is secretary.

industrial engineering, aeronautical engineering, civil engineering, architecture, and architecture engineering curriculums.

STUDYING CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Is studying bugging you? Do you have trouble remembering names, dates, facts, figures, and the location of the library? Dear friends, it need not be so. All you have to do is master the simple art of mnemonics.

Mnemonics, as we all know, was invented by the great Greek philosopher Mnemon in 526 B.C. Mnemonics, incidentally, was only one of the many inventions of this fertile Athenian. He is perhaps best known for his invention of the staircase, which, as you may imagine, was of inestimable value to mankind. Before the staircase, people who wished to go from floor to floor had to leap from springboards. This meant, of course, that aged and infirm persons were forced to live out their lives, willy-nilly, on the ground floor, and many of them grew cross as bears. Especially Demosthenes, who was elected consul of Athens three times but never served because he was unable to get up to the office of the commissioner of oaths on the third floor to be sworn in.

But after Mnemon's staircase was invented, Demosthenes got up to the third floor easy as pie and took the oath-to Athens' sorrow, as it turned out. Demosthenes, his temper shortened by years of confinement to the ground floor, soon embroiled his countrymen in a series of senseless and costly wars with the Persians, the Visigoths, and the Ogallala Sioux. He was voted out of office in 517 B.C., and Mnemon, who had made his accession possible, was pelted to death with fruit salad in the Duomo.

But I digress. We were discussing mnemonics, which are nothing more than aids to memory—catchwords or jingles that help you to remember names, dates, and places. For example, any student of American history surely knows the little jingle:

*Columbus sailed the ocean blue
 In fourteen hundred ninety two.*

You see how simple a mnemonic is? There is no reason why you can't make up your own. Say, for instance, that you are proceeding with American history.

*The Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock
 In sixteen hundred twenty, doc.*

(This jingle is especially useful to medical students.)
 The next important event is the Boston Tea Party. Let us compose a rough-and-ready couplet about that:

*Samuel Adams flung the tea
 Into the briny Zuyder Zee.*

You can see how simple and useful they are—not only for history, but also for current events. For instance,

*In nineteen hundred fifty six
 It's the cigarette that clicks!*

What, you ask, is the cigarette that clicks? Why, Philip Morris, of corris! And why shouldn't it click? Could any cigarette be more pleasing to the palate? No! Could any cigarette be more tempting to the taste buds? No! A thundering, thumping, resounding no! Get some today, hey. You'll see.

©Max Shulman, 1956

You won't need mnemonics to remember the wonderful natural flavor of Philip Morris Cigarettes, whose makers are delighted to bring you this column every week.

Deadline Nears For IM Sports

Intramural competitors in basketball and swimming must register their organization by 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 18 at the Intramural office, 202 Recreation Hall.

Independent and fraternity teams will play a round-robin tournament in basketball and a single-elimination tourney in swimming which will be held in Glennland Pool. Entrance fees are $1.

Swimming will begin Wednesday, Oct. 24 with each meet consisting of five events: 60-yard free style, 60-yard backstroke, 60-yard breast stroke, 120-yard relay (4 men), and diving (1 front dive, 1 back dive, and 1 optional).

Basketball teams will play a minimum of eight games over the season which begins for indies Thursday, Oct. 25 and continues through the spring semester into March.

Fraternity basketball will start two weeks after the indies open.

Intercollegiate basketball rules are used with few modifications by the IM department. Complete rules can be obtained in the IM office on payment of entrance fees.
