

Red China's Fall Predicted

By PAT EVANS
Dr. T. Z. Koo, visiting Chinese professor from Bucknell University, predicted last night the eventual downfall of Communism in Red China if the present totalitarian government continues.

Starvation and danger can be endured; but when a soul is deprived of freedom it will revolt, Dr. Koo said.

He spoke on the topic "Red China—And You" at an International Affairs Forum in the memorial lounge of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

Explains Background
In explaining the background of the revolutions in China, Dr. Koo said China was a "secluded nation" until the middle of the 19th century. The open door policy, he said, caused "the beginning of a series of changes in Chinese life."

The monarchy, he said, was overthrown in the 1911 revolution.

The three principles which set off that revolution are now prevalent in the countries of the Middle East, according to Dr. Koo.

- The principles are:
1. Democracy, or primarily, abolishing hereditary government.
 2. Nationalism, or, the "welfare, honor, and dignity of the nation as well as of the clan."
 3. Livelihood. ("People have to eat no matter who is in power.")

Dr. Koo predicted similar revolutions will "pop up" within the next 10 or 15 years in such countries as Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, and Turkey.

Cites Stages
The Communist movement in China today, he said, is not rising by accident, but it is the second stage in the series of revolutions.

He said the movement has punch today because the intelligent dedicated men in it and behind it are firm in their beliefs.

Dr. Koo told two instances where acquaintances of his explained to him their reasons for turning Communist. The reasons were the so-called racial prejudice in the western world, and the fundamental action in improving the state of the workers under Communist government.

Discusses UN Topic
In discussing the question of whether or not to admit Red China to the United Nations, Dr. Koo compared the two Chinese revolutions mentioned earlier in his talk.

In the first uprising monarchy went down and out, he said. In the second, "nationalism went down, but not out."

He said if Red China is admitted a blow would be dealt to anti-communist forces in countries where nationalism still exists.

Opinions Asked
In a question and answer period following the lecture, Dr. Koo was asked his opinion of the effect of Communist education of youths "from the cradle up."

He replied that if the children accept what they are being taught

Graduate Student Gets Scholarship

The State College branch of the American Association of University Women has awarded its annual $125 scholarship for an outstanding woman graduate student to Mrs. Helen A. Brown.

Now working on her Ph.D. in English, Mrs. Brown has tentatively chosen "A General Semantic Study of the Essays of Samuel Johnson" as her thesis subject.

She was graduated from Howard University in 1947 and received her M.S. from Atlanta University in 1955.

the Red regime may last longer. Dr. Koo said that no free universities now exist in China; the professors, he said, have been "brain washed."

He said Red China and Russia are bound industrially by a chain "it will be impossible to break for many years to come."

Downtown Men Offered Jobs

Several openings are available for men living off campus who are interested in working for their meals.
