

***
Extra!

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

***
Extra!

VOL. 57, No. 29

STATE COLLEGE, PA., SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21, 1956

FIVE CENTS

Lion Gridders Score Upset Win Over Vaunted Buckeyes, 7-6

—Daily Collegian Photo by Dave Bavar

BESERK STUDENTS surround overloaded convertible on Pollock road in celebration of football win.

Praise the Lord, Pity Pittsburgh's Panthers!

By ED DUBBS

Collegian City Editor

Praise the Lord and bring on West Virginia, Syracuse and Pittsburgh. Why stop at West Virginia, Syracuse, and Pittsburgh? Bring on Oklahoma!

That's what students seemed to be indicating as they made dull University Park on a so-called "off-weekend" come alive.

It came alive as probably it never had before, even in 1953 when the famed basketball team, headed by Jesse Arnette, lost out in the finals of the NCAA playoffs.

That time it was not all joy since Penn State had lost, but lost with honor. This time a Penn State team won with honors.

And the students went wild. Toilet paper hung from trees on the Mall. Cars, all vintages, all makes, went down the Mall. The Alma Mater rang loud—but still with reverence.

Even townspeople were joining in. Cheers ran wild. Chorus-line and snake-line dancing was the thing.

Noise was the result. As soon as the game had ended, and Penn State ran out the clock, students were jumping in their cars out Fraternity Row way, heading for campus, the foot of the Mall.

Freshmen, Independents, women students rushed out of the dormitories.

Long after the game was over, as this story was being written, the noise could still be heard outside the Collegian office.

The Campus Patrol had a diffi-

Today's High 64 to 68; Rain, Storms Expected

Showers and thunderstorms are expected today with a high of between 64 and 68 degrees.

Last night the temperature was expected to drop to near the freezing point. Earlier in the day it climbed from near the freezing point to 58 degrees with skies remaining overcast throughout the day.

cult time keeping the cars off the Mall. The patrolmen were outnumbered. They were doing the best they could under the circumstances. They later brought out their nightsticks.

At about 7 p.m., Campus Patrol was able to start moving the jubilant students to the golf course, where there would be less chance for them to be injured.

When asked if he had ever seen

—Photo by Bavar
HAROLD W. PERKINS, assistant dean of men, peers at demonstrating students across Pollock road from Willard. Wild celebration of football victory over Ohio State caused a few minor student injuries.

anything like this before, a patrolman did not hesitate to say "no." By "he tone of his answer, one did not have to ask him if he wanted anything like this again.

Jim Coogan, the University's football publicist, sounded like the happiest man around when Collegian placed a phone call to the Ohio State press box just minutes after the game had ended.

Fran Fanucci, Collegian sports editor, when told Collegian was coming out with an "extra," said: "What am I going to do. I can't find a typewriter. And I'm leaving with the team in an hour."

Fanucci said he would write the story out longhand and send it back via Western Union, with it probably being filed over the wire after he had left Columbus.

The press box seemed to be in as much of an uproar as University Park. Fanucci was yelling in order to be heard.

"There's sportswriters running all over the place," Fanucci said. Here there were students running all over the place.

Yes, bring on West Virginia, Syracuse, and Pittsburgh. And why not Oklahoma?

Billy Kane in key plays

Students Will Meet Team This Morning

By FRAN FANUCCI
Collegian Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 20—Penn State's football team pulled one of the biggest upsets in its history here today when it whipped, outclassed, and outplayed Ohio State, fifth ranked team in the nation, 7-6.

A 14-point underdog at game time the Lions held the Buckeyes scoreless for three periods and then scored themselves on a one-yard plunge by sophomore back Bruce Gilmore, which climaxed a 45 yard drive in the last period.

Quarterback Milt Plum led the drive, which will probably go down in Lion history as the greatest, with a 12-yard run, for a first down on the 23. Plum almost fumbled on the play but held and cut off guard for the yardage.

Gilmore then drove to the 20 for four yards.

Kane and Gilmore then combined to take the ball down to

PEP RALLY TODAY

A pep rally has been planned for about 9:30 a.m. today at Recreation Hall.

The team, Blue Band, cheerleaders, and coaches are expected to be on hand.

The Blue Band is to meet at 9 a.m. in front of Carnegie Hall the 10, from where Plum hit Kane with a pass on the one-foot line. Gilmore, after two plunges were unsuccessful, hit the line for the score.

But the Buckeyes were not to be denied. On the ensuing kickoff, the Buckeyes began their drive. Don Clark, sophomore speedster, gained four yards to the 24 and then fought to the 32. Jim Roseboro then faded back, for one of Ohio State's few passes, and hit end Leo Brown on the 45 yard line. On the very next play Roseboro again threw, this time to Clark, who grabbed the ball and ran to the three before being knocked out of bounds by Ray Alberigi.

Two plays later Clark hit the line for the score, making it 7-6.

The all important extra point had the stands in a frenzied uproar. Frank Kremblas was the kicker, but before he could get the placement off, a delay of the game moved the ball back five yards to the eight. This only made the fans become more nervous.

Kremblas kicked and it went to the left of the goal posts, giving the Lions their victory.

The Buckeyes threatened once before in the third period but an interception by Gilmore on the one-yard line halted that rally.

The attitude of the people here in Columbus was that the Lions were a breather; everyone, including the team, was looking toward Wisconsin. But the overconfidence resulted in their first defeat of the year.

The statistics prove quite clearly that the Lions were in command almost all of the game. In the first half the Lions had 10 first downs to five for Ohio State and gained 162 yards rushing against 68 for the Buckeyes. They were said to have one of the strongest offenses in the country.

In their three previous games the Buckeyes had averaged 333 yards rushing.

Plum was remarkable at the quarterback spot and played his greatest game. His booming kicks, one 72 yards, kept the provoked Buckeyes deep in their own territory, when it seemed as if the

Open Houses Scheduled For Today

Open houses from 2 to 5 p.m. today at the 54 fraternities at the University will climax the Interfraternity Council's freshmen rushing program this week.

Hugh Moore, IFC rushing chairman, has urged all freshmen and new students to visit as many houses today as they possibly can.

Visiting more houses will give them a broader background and a wider selection of fraternities to choose from, he said.

A similar open house program will be conducted from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11, with all houses participating.

Moore said he expects an exceptionally large number of freshmen to visit the fraternities today, judging from the "tremendous turnout" of new students for other events in the rushing program earlier this week.

The program began Tuesday with the showing of the film, "A Toast to Our Brother," and the distribution of the IFC rushing magazine, Penn State Fraternities.

Moore said most of the freshmen—many more than were expected—attended the meetings. They filled out rushing registration cards at the conclusion of the talks.

Freshmen and new students who did not attend the meetings have been requested to fill out cards at the Hetzel Union desk by tomorrow.

BusAd Council to Meet

The Business Administration Student Council will meet at 6:45 p.m. tomorrow in 217 Hetzel Union.

Bruce Gilmore Scored touchdown

(Continued on page three)