

Killings, Riots, Strikes Erupt In North Africa

ALGIERS, Oct. 23 (AP)—Killings, riots, general strikes and bitter Arab anger erupted across North Africa today. The widespread violence was the Arab reply to France's arrest of five masterminds of Algeria's nationalist rebellion through a dramatic aerial ruse last night.

Three Frenchmen were killed in a clash at Meknes in Morocco. Street demonstrations broke out in Tunisia and Morocco. A 24-hour general strike was declared in both those former French protectorates and started to spread in Algeria. French security forces in Algeria braced themselves for violent reprisals.

The whole Arab world began raising a diplomatic storm.

Mollet Rejects Request
In Paris, Premier Guy Mollet flatly rejected a top-level Moroccan request for release of the five Algerians.

Mollet's rejection was announced after he met with the Moroccans, Premier Mohammed Bekkai and Foreign Minister Ahmed Balafrej, who had flown to Paris from Tunis.

"Events will speak for us in the next few days," Bekkai told reporters on emerging from the conference. He termed the situation "very serious."

Bourguiba Calls Conference
In Tunis, Premier Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia called a special news conference and called the arrests an "abominable act."

The 23-nation Asian-African group at the UN in New York was reported asking Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's good offices in seeking release of the five revolutionaries. The five were grabbed and handcuffed yesterday after their French pilot landed them in French-controlled Algiers instead of independent Tunis on a flight from independent Morocco.

Meeting Broken Up
A meeting of Morocco's Sultan Sidi Mohammed ben Youssef and Premier Habib Bourguib of Tunisia, which had been billed as a conference to bring peace to Algeria and weld it into a new Union of North Africa, appeared to have been broken up.

The five Algerian leaders were en route to the conference when they were diverted by the French pilot's ruse.

Arab leaders called it a kidnaping and an act of piracy.

The Moroccan Sultan was particularly incensed. This conference was his first big diplomatic move in the Arab world.

Adlai Seeks National Aid For Poland

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson tonight called for help for Poland's bid for freedom from Russian control and again urged the United States to take the lead in "curbing this ghastly killer," the H-bomb.

The Democratic presidential nominee started the final two weeks of his campaign with an appearance in Madison Square Garden. It was the first speech in a nonstop drive aimed chiefly at swinging big city votes.

Seeks to Curb A-Bomb
Stevenson related he had suggested "long before this campaign that we take the lead in curbing this ghastly killer," the hydrogen bomb. He termed it a matter of moral responsibility as well as national security.

He said the Democrats "have broken through the blanket of warm, wet fog with which the administration had planned to smother the country," and had turned the campaign into a debate on policies.

Stevenson expressed the opinion that the "decisive days" of the political battle lie ahead.

U.S. Should Aid Poland
And he said the United States should be prepared to join other nations in offering economic aid to Poland.

Stevenson, in his prepared speech, returned to his duel with President Eisenhower on the Democratic candidate's proposal that agreements be sought to ban further H-bomb tests.

Break Out of Arms Race
"Here is one place," he said, "where we can break out of the deadly vise of the arms race . . . I think we must make this effort in the name of humanity. I don't think President Eisenhower should irritably close the door to discussion or agreement on a matter of such vast importance to mankind."

Clark Tours Chester County

COATESVILLE, Pa., Oct. 23 (AP)—Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, toured normally Republican Chester County today in a quest for Nov. 6 votes and promised that if elected he would "go to Washington to work hard for the people of Pennsylvania."

Clark, who ended 67 years of successive GOP rule in Philadelphia when he was elected mayor in 1951, lambasted his Republican opponent, James H. Duff, who is seeking re-election, as a man who isn't around when he has to fight for the people.

Clark promised that he would "work hard" for the people and "work to re-establish government of the people, instead of government of big business."

Aid to 'Free Governments' Proposed by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower said tonight that America has a mission to "expand the areas in which free men, free governments can flourish." He held out what could be an offer of economic aid to the Polish people in their struggle against Soviet domination.

The President said the United States must "help those freedom-loving peoples who need and want and can profitably use our aid . . ."

Poland Used as Example
In a speech prepared for the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at their 75th anniversary dinner, the President used Poland as an example of a freedom-loving country rebelling against tyranny.

"A people, like the Poles, who have once known freedom cannot be for always deprived of their national independence and of their personal liberty," he said.

"That truth applies to every people in Eastern Europe who have enjoyed independence and freedom."

Eisenhower spoke against a background of a bloodless revolt in Poland against Moscow domination, and demonstrations in Hungary against the Communist government there.

No Substitute for Freedom
Eisenhower said that tyranny, for a time, can present a picture of material accomplishment. But, he said, that is an illusion that cannot substitute for true freedom of the people.
