Coed Is First Woman To Win American Royal

By JIM KOPP

Sandra Snowdon, junior in animal husbandry from Allison Park, became the first woman ever to win the highest individual score at the American Royal Livestock Show in the meat judging contest in Kansas City Tuesday.

The University meat judging team won second place in the contest competing against 16 college and university teams.

The University of Wisconsin won the contest with a score of 2632 points. The University team was second with 2551 points, and Ohio State University was third.

In winning the individual judging, Miss Snowdon scored 909 out of a possible 1000 points. She finished above 47 men from 16 colleges and universities.

She won first place in pork judging and tied for first in beef judging.

Team Takes Second

The team won second place in pork judging and third in beef judging.

The team also won fourth in lamb grading and 13th in beef grading.

In judging the contestants select the best meat and in grading they classify its quality.

Thomas Blose, junior in animal husbandry from Glen Campbell, tied for fourth place in lamb grading, to become the team's only other individual winner.

Highest Score

On Saturday, the University livestock judging team made the highest score it has ever made in the American Royal Livestock Judging contest.

It finished seventh competing against 21 college and university teams.

Earlier in the season the dairy cattle judging team won first place in two other national collegiate judging contests.

The team won first place in holsteins at the International Intercollegiate Judging in Waterloo, Iowa, and at the National Dairy Cattle Judging in Chicago.

Pipe-Smoking Frosh Coeds Startle Males

By PAM CHAMBERLAIN

The lineup of assorted males which nightly greets Thompson coeds after supper almost collapsed Tuesday night.

The fellows were on hand with the usual comments and wolf whistles, but four freshman girls had their number.

Puffing merrily away on pipes purchased especially for the occasion, Bonnie Baldwin, Sarah Wilt, Susan Targer, and Gretchen Leffler walked right by with nary a holdup.

Several onlookers were seen rolling on the sidewalks holding their sides, and the air was filled with exclamations of horror, delight, and pure disbelief.

The coeds were actually smoking, though they confess to having practiced the night before.

As the girls put it, they just did it for laughs.

But as one of the crowd gasped between whoops of laughter, they managed to "fake out" even the stalwart wolves of West Dorms.

The moral to this little tale is, of course: "Never underestimate the power of a woman."

Fair Weather Will Continue

Yesterday's warm weather is expected to continue in the Centre County area.

Today will be fair and warm, according to the University weather station.

The forecast calls for clear skies and warm temperatures prevailing throughout today and tomorrow. Temperatures are expected to rise as high as 60 to 65 degrees. Tonight's low should be near 40 to 50 degrees.

Yesterday's high temperature reading was 61 degrees at 1 p.m., and the low Wednesday morning was 48 degrees.

An extended forecast predicts possible rain in the area Friday night and Saturday. There is also a chance of showers again on Monday, but total rainfall is expected to be light.

Tomorrow Is Last Day To Claim Unsold Books

Tomorrow will be the last day students may claim unsold books or money from the University Book Agency.

The UBA will be open from 3 to 5 p.m.

All unclaimed books will be forfeited to the UBA.

Cabinet Will Vote On Court Tonight

All-University Cabinet will take the second of three required consecutive votes at 7 tonight on the elimination of the Supreme Court.

Final decision will also be made tonight as to whether or not the University should give a $1280 scholarship to a foreign student leader.

To abolish the Supreme Court, three Cabinet members will have to change their vote between now and next Thursday. Last week the elimination was supported by a 13-11 vote, however, a two-thirds majority is necessary before it is officially passed.

3 Groups Change Vote

Since last week's vote, Education Student Council, and Panhellenic Council have supported Court retention and Leonides, reversing its previous decision, is now against it. It remains to be seen whether this will affect the three Cabinet member's votes.

Elimination of the Court is favored by All-University officers Robert Bahrenburg, president; William Clark, vice president; and Leonard Richards, secretary-treasurer.

Proposed Abolition Amendment

The Court abolition was presented last week as an amendment to the All-University Constitution. If, at the showdown vote next week, the amendment is passed, it will be added as a revision to the constitution. Should Cabinet defeat the amendment, a substitute motion stating retention of the court will be included in its place.

The foreign student-leader scholarship was proposed two weeks ago by Barbara Hendel in participation with the National Student Association program. To bring one of 15 foreign student leaders to the University, a scholarship of $580 would be offered by the administration and an additional $700 by Cabinet.

Purpose Is Idea Exchange

The purpose of the program, Miss Hendel said, is to exchange ideas by working with the student in activities and University government.

Cabinet will also hear tonight recommendations from three September Student Encampment reports—"Social, Cultural and Recreational," "Academic Policies" and "Counseling."

Dr. Albert Christ-Janer, director of the School of the Arts, will present the report on cultural aspects. Included in it are recommendations to improve the acoustics of Recreation Hall by adding batten-board construction, and to increase student fees for future cultural programs at the University.

'Angel' Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the Players' comedy production "My 3 Angels" are available at the Hetzel Union desk. Price is $1.

D.C. Judge Will Speak At Banquet

Judge Frank H. Myers, of the Municipal Court of Washington, D.C., will speak on "Operation Fraternity" at the Interfraternity Council workshop banquet at 5:45 p.m. today at the Nittany Lion Inn.

A member of Kappa Alpha Order, Myers is chairman of the Interfraternity Research and Advisory Council. He is also vice president of the National Conference of College Fraternities and Sororities, and a past chairman of the National Interfraternity Conference.

Presented Gold Award

At the 1954 National Interfraternity Conference, he was presented with the Gold Medal Award for "distinguished service to youth through the American college fraternity."

Myers received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the George Washington University Law School. He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership society; Phi Delta Delta, legal fraternity; and the Order of Coif, law society.

Appointed by Truman

A member of the American Bar Association and the Bar Association of the District of Columbia, he practiced law from 1924 to 1948, when he was appointed to his present post by President Harry S. Truman.

The research and advisory council was organized in 1944 to aid in a post-war restoration of fraternity activities.

Thesis Show Cast Named

Cast members for a thesis production, "Giles Corey, Yeoman," have been announced by the director, Walter Vail, graduate student in theatre arts from Upper Darby.

The play, an early American realistic tragedy by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, will be presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the Little Theatre in Old Main.

Included in the cast are Bruce Taylor as Giles Corey, Virginia Gore as Martha Corey, Patricia Paladino as Olive Corey, Vincent Carlone as Paul Bayley, Kathryn Kelleher as Nancy Fox, Carol Mansell as Phoebe Morse, Gilbert Aberg as John Hawthorne.

Others in the cast are Lowell Salmon as Jonathan Corwin; George Vlachos as Minister Parris; Elizabeth Harned as Ann Hutchins; Carolyn Mills as Mercy Lewis; Jon Wilder as the guard-messenger; and Robert Swarr as the Widow Hutchins. The two afflicted girls will be played by Jane Mort and Gretta Sorokin.

Volunteers Needed For Card System

More freshmen volunteers are needed for the flash card system which will be used at the West Virginia game Saturday.

A meeting will be held for the participants at 6:30 tonight at 119 Osmond. The meeting was not held last night as erroneously reported yesterday.

TIM Seeks Yule Holiday Extension

Town Independent Men last night joined the growing number of student government organizations favoring extension of the Christmas holidays.

The organization adopted unanimously a resolution for a three-day extension of the period. At least three other groups have voted in favor of the extending of the holiday.

Specific Dates Asked
TIM advanced one step further in the resolution by stating specific dates for the lengthening. The group specified that classes end at 11:50 a.m. Dec. 20, and resume at 1:10 p.m. Jan. 3.

Frank Wempa, TIM treasurer, introduced the resolution. He supported his stand by saying that many students obtain pre-Christmas jobs.

If the holiday would not begin until noon December 22, as fixed by the University, this would prohibit many students from obtaining jobs, he said.

Driving Dangers Cited

Another argument in favor of the resolution was that students would be forced to return to campus New Year's Day or early Jan. 2.

Wempa said that the University discourages student driving when conditions are dangerous and he considered New Year's Day an example.

Sororities Start Memorial Fund

Sororities pledged $225 to the Anne Elder-Sally Laughlin memorial fund Tuesday night at a meeting of the Panhellenic Council.

This money is to be used to finance furnishings for the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel.

Barbara Nicholls, Panhel president, announced that confusion over the colonization rule has resulted in Trion, affiliate of Sigma Kappa sorority, being illegally admitted to the council last spring.

Trion was accepted as a non-voting member three months after being organized. The present rule requires a nine month waiting period.

It was recommended by the council that a new rule be inserted into the constitution which is now being rewritten. What the amendment would include has not been decided.

Tickets for Prom Will Go on Sale

Tickets for the Junior Prom will go on sale tomorrow at the Hetzel Union desk for $5.

Tickets will also be sold at Recreation Hall just prior to dance time.

The prom queen, who was chosen Tuesday night by a faculty board of three, will be crowned by Richard Doyle, junior class vice president.

The junior class advisory board has requested a "no corsages" policy for the prom.

Tickets on Sale For 'Ruddigore'

Tickets for the Gilbert and Sullivan production "Ruddigore" are on sale at the Hetzel Union desk.

The comedy opera will open at 8 tonight in Schwab Auditorium. It will also be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday.

Tickets are 60 cents for tonight's performance and $1 for Friday and Saturday.

The opera is a joint production of the Players and the department of music, art, and theatre arts under the direction of Walter Walters, associate professor and head of the department of theatre arts.

Gomulka Will Retain Soviet Troops

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 24

(AP) — Wladyslaw Gomulka told the Poles tonight Soviet troops will stay in Poland so long as there are North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in West Germany.

The new party boss, who led Polish Communists in their political revolt for "freedom and sovereignty" last weekend, spoke before a throng of about 250,000 in Warsaw as news of fighting in Budapest between anti-Soviet Hungarians and Russian tanks excited intense interest here.

Factory and farm workers, office clerks and villagers paraded in trucks to the square in front of the 35-story Palace of Culture and Science, formerly known as Stalin Palace, to hear Gomulka. A great cheer went up when he declared, "It depends only upon us how long Soviet troops may remain here."

But his further statement that they would stay as long as the West has military installations in West Germany was accepted in silence.

Attacks Anti-Soviets

Gomulka bluntly attacked "anti-Soviet sentiment" manifested in demonstrations in several Polish cities Monday night when Russian flags were trampled. He said the authorities would tolerate no action against the Polish state. But despite his earnest appeal for an end to mass meetings and demonstrations, a group of at least 1,500 students paraded from the University of Warsaw soon after, crying, "Rokossovsky go home."

Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, a Polish-born former Soviet marshal, remains defense minister. Sent here by Stalin in 1949, he has been a symbol of Moscow domination.

Promises to Remove Troops

Gomulka said Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev had promised that Soviet troops, which had seemed to be threatening Warsaw, would be back at their bases in 48 hours.

He said Khrushchev had agreed that control of Polish affairs would remain in Poland and be decided by the Polish government and no one else. But, said Gomulka, "We want wholehearted friendship with the Soviet Union and I can assure you that, so far as this is concerned, there is no difference between the opinion of the Polish Communist party and the Soviet Union's Communist party."
