men to keep Brown running towards the middle of the line, where his chances of breaking away are lower.

The Lion ends and backerups are expected to force Brown away from the end and keep him where his speed will do the least amount of damage, much the same way Pittsburgh did when it held him to 65 yards earlier this season.

Another Syracuse back, Jim Ridlon, can't be counted out, according to the Lion coaching staff. He is considered almost as dangerous as Brown and is also a top-notch pass receiver. Ridlon divided his talents between end and halfback last year but this season his forte is strictly the backfield.

Orange Coach Ben Schwartzwalder has formulated a "different" type of offense for this year's team. The Orangemen have been running from the wing-T and using an unbalanced line, which has forced Engle to diversify his defenses. The Nittanians will probably use a 5-4 defense, but at any time this setup could be changed to suit the offense.

Meanwhile, quarterback Milt Plum will handle Engle's straight-T formation with the split-T a possibility if the former does not work.

Working the belly-series in the Lion backfield will be halfbacks Billy Kane and Ray Alberigi and fullback Emil "Babe" Caprara. Kane had the finest day of his career last Saturday against West Virginia, when he gained 130 yards on 20 carries and was outstanding on defense.

The entire Lion team will be in top condition with the possible exception of reserve fullback

Maury Schleicher, who will see only limited action because of a shoulder injury.

Syracuse's powerful running attack will also be pitted against the Lions' awesome defense, which is rated fourth best in the country allowing 200 yards per game.

The Lion's defensive unit has captain Sam Valentine and Dick DeLuca—both three-year veterans—at guards to spearhead the interior of the line, while ends Les Walters and Farls will cover the outside.

Tackles Walt Mazur, who is one of the most improved linemen on the team, and Jack Calderone are stalwarts at that position. Dan Radakovich will be at center, where he is regarded as one of the East's best.

Both team's will use the two-platoon system. It will be one of the few times that both teams will substitute freely, which could mean a high-scoring contest because of the freshness of the players.

Two things the Lions will have to contend with today is the fact that it is "Parent's Day" for the Orange and the game is being played on their home grounds, Archbold Stadium.

The probable starting lineups:

Penn State	Syracuse
Walters LE	Althouse
Mazur LT	Strid
DeLuca LG	Farmer
Radakovich C	Brown
Valentine RG	Bailey
Calderone RT	Cashman
Farls RE	Lasse
Plum QB	Kuczala
Alberigi LH	Brown
Kane RH	Ridlon
Caprara FB	Coffin

Club to Play Booters Seek to Regain Prestige Against Terps

The Penn State Lacrosse Club will play an inter-squad exhibition on Beaver Field at 1:30 this afternoon.

Leaflets explaining the native sport will be passed out and a public address system will be used to give a running account of the contest with explanations by varsity lettermen.

The Lacrosse Club is open to male student and athlete membership. It was formed this semester to promote the game among the students by active participation in the club, to acquaint the student member with the lacrosse player on a personal basis, and to develop a competitive spirit and interest of the game among the students.

Lacrosse is played on a field approximately the size of a football field and consists of four fifteen-minute quarters. The contest today will be shorter—four 10-minute periods.

Ten players compose a team. On the offensive are three attackers backed up by a trio of midfielders who have freedom of the field. The attackers are confined to the forward half of the playing area and a violation of the center line results in a penalty.

Protecting the goal are three defensemen and a goalie who are restricted to the defensive half of the field.

Large Contribution Provides Money For Olympic Trip

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP)—The last-minute receipt of the largest single contribution ever made to the U.S. Olympic fund provided enough ready cash to buy tickets for seven plane loads of athletes and officials to go to Melbourne, Executive Director J. Lyman Bingham of the U.S. Olympic Committee said today.

On the eve of the Olympic team's departure, Gillette Safety Razor Company, which had pledged a dime for every razor sold during July and August, presented a check for $86,200 to complete its contribution of $136,200. This, with other receipts, made up the $400,000 needed to pay for airplane tickets.

Actually, the committee is in good shape financially, Bingham said, although there was a temporary shortage of cash.

Is the Penn State soccer team over-rated this year? This question will probably be answered this afternoon in College Park, Maryland, when the Nittany Lion booters try to regain their winning form against the University of Maryland soccermen.

If the Lions defeat the Terps, much of the prestige that was lost from last week's 3-2 setback by Pennsylvania will be recovered. But if the local booters lose to the Maryland eleven, they will probably be re-classified as just another soccer team and not a national champion as in the past two years.

Maryland has never defeated a Lion soccer team since the series was inaugurated in 1948. The Terps have gone through eight seasons losing to the Lions.

Last year, Coach Ken Hosterman's booters handed Maryland one of its two losses of the season with a 6-1 victory. In 1954, the Lions topped the Terps, 5-1—one of the three defeats for Maryland that year.

Maryland has reigned as Atlantic Coast Conference champion for the past three years and the Terps are again in the lead this campaign.

Hosterman will start the same team this afternoon which lost out to the Quakers last week.

John Lawrence will be at the goalie spot; Ralph Brower and Dave Davis in fullback roles; and Ward Hill, Steve Flamporis, and Herb Hertber in halfback positions.

The forward wall will consist of Jim Hedberg and Dutch Walz at the wings; Per Torgeson and Mike Stollmeyer at the insides; and Tommy Nute at center forward. Hosterman's bench strength includes goalie Don Dougald, fullback Don Meyer, halfbacks Paul Bauer and Walt Krauser, and lineman Dave Hasse.

Torgeson is the leading scorer on the team with nine goals. A leg injury that had been hampering his play earlier in the season has responded to treatment and is practically healed.

Hosterman could not say much about the Maryland unit. "They have always fielded a big team," Hosterman said, "and I expect them to be the same size this year."

2 Win in IM Swimming

Beta Theta Pi flashed its championship swimming form before a heavily anchored Sigma Phi Epsilon team to win, 37-4, last night.

Phi Mu Delta would have suffered a like loss at the hands of Theta Chi had it not been for a first place in the backstroke event. The score was 24-8.

Sigma Alpha Mu forfeited its meet to Sigma Pi in the only other action at Glennland Pool.

The defending champion aquatics from Beta completed their intramural "shutout" with Ted Mignatti and Gil Leu topping the scoring with six points each.

Beta's two Teds, Lyon and Mignatti finished one-two in the 60-yard free style with 78.4 clockings. Mignatti then picked up his final three points with a second in the 60-yard backstroke. Tom Imswiller swam to the first position in 44.1.

Gil Leu was the other six point scorer for Beta with 10 seconds in the 60-yard breaststroke and diving. John Salathe topped the breaststroke division in 48.1.

Chuck Fegley outdove Leu with the high score of the young season, 21.8. Leu had a 19.3 total.

Jay Livziey showed Phi Mu Delta that he was in perfect shape after his football injury when he led Theta Chi with 8 marks and competed in the relay win.

Livziey finished second to Bob Maurer in the free style and outclassed the field in the diving.
