Landslide Vote Greater Than '52

Stevenson conceded the election about 1:15 a.m. (EST) today at Chicago.

Clark Sees No Decision Until Dawn

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Democrat Joseph S. Clark said today he expected no decision until dawn in his fight to unseat U.S. Sen. James H. Duff.

The former Philadelphia mayor was alternately elated and concerned as he watched his lead over Duff drop, then climb, then drop again.

With 7,531 of Pennsylvania's 8,808 precincts reported, Clark led Duff by some 41,000 votes—1,884,373 to 1,843,980.

Declines on Opinions
He declined to say what factors he believed led to his surprising showing as President Dwight D. Eisenhower swept the state and wide areas of the nation in defeating Adlai Stevenson.

"I'm sick at heart," about the presidential outcome, Clark said. However, he told newsmen:

"This is no time for partisanship. The country should unite behind Mr. Eisenhower and hope he can pull us through this grave crisis." He said he thought Eisenhower's personal popularity was greater than that of the Republican party.

'Really Cutting' Lead
Clark asked immediately for the latest state count and then commented either:

"Gee, he (Duff) is really cutting into my lead" or "I'm doing better than expected in several Republican areas. Hope it keeps up."

At one point, a newsman told him that Univac, one of the electronic machines used as an aid in interpreting trends, predicted that he would win by 76,235.

Clark smiled and said: "I'll take it."

Dr. Eisenhower Visits State College to Vote

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, former University president and president of Johns Hopkins University, returned to State College yesterday to vote in the national election.

Dr. Eisenhower, who is said to have convinced his brother, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, to seek a second term, is maintaining his official residence in State College.

papers—the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and the Philadelphia Inquirer—claimed victory for Eisenhower. Both supported the President.

Stevenson carried Philadelphia as expected but the margin there appeared below the Democrats' prediction of 160,000 or more.

Eisenhower won Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes four years ago by a plurality of 269,520—120,000 more than the edge registered by Thomas E. Dewey over Harry Truman in 1948.

The Eisenhower sweep carried into office GOP U.S. Sen. Edward Martin and 19 of the state's 30 U.S. congressmen.

A shift in the political winds since then cut the GOP margin in the state's congressional bloc to 16-14 and in 1954, Pennsylvania elected its first Democratic governor in 20 years, chicken farmer George M. Leader, who carried the state by 279,196.

Since the founding of the Republican party in 1856, Pennsylvania's electoral votes have been captured only five times by the Democrats—in 1856, 1872, 1936, 1940 and 1944, the last three times by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The GOP counts heavily on the vote from the rural areas of the state, the middle heartland, with the Democrats normally running up big vote margins in the cities of Pittsburgh on the western border and Philadelphia in the extreme southeastern corner.
