Blood Drive Closes Today; Many 'Walk-Ins' Needed

Officials of the campus blood drive were counting on a large number of "walk-in" donors today to meet the drive's 600-donation goal, after a record low of 167 persons gave blood yesterday.

Today is the last day the blood-mobile unit of the Johnstown Regional Blood Center of the American Red Cross will be on campus to receive donations.

Personnel from the unit will process donors in the card room of the Hetzel Union building from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today.

Sent to Johnstown

The blood donated at the University will be sent to the Johnstown Regional Blood Center. From there it will go to hospitals in the Johnstown regional area, including the University hospital, upon requisition.

"Walk-in" donations have accounted for most of the donations in past years.

Facilities Good

In contrast to the low turnout, the campus facilities for receiving donations are better this year than ever before, according to Loren Turkey, chairman of the blood program of the State College American Red Cross chapter.

The two-day drive is sponsored by the campus unit of the State College chapter and by the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Of the 168 donors yesterday, 116 were "walk-ins." Sixteen additional "walk-in" donors were rejected for medical reasons.

Fifty-one of the eighty persons scheduled to appear yesterday actually showed up. Twenty-nine did not appear.

John McGill, graduate student in agronomy from State College, specified that his blood be sent either to Hungary or Austria.

Donors have been asked to eat a light breakfast and lunch before giving blood, and to avoid starchy foods. Delta Delta Delta sorority and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, acting as hostesses, will serve orange juice, coffee, and doughnuts to the donors.

Graduate Council Completes Plans For HUB Dance

Plans for a semi-formal dance open only to graduate students were made Monday night by the Graduate Student Council.

The dance will be held Dec. 14, in the Hetzel Union building. No admission will be charged.

The Graduate School Newsletter will be distributed Friday or Saturday, Barbara Bennett, Newsletter editor, said. Copies will be available in the Graduate School office.

The council also decided to investigate the possibility of co-sponsoring the graduate lecture series with the Graduate School. The next lecture will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in 121 Sparks.

Dr. Homer Newell Jr., director of the naval research laboratory, will speak on "The International Geophysical Year."

Chem-Phys Will Elect 5 Members

Elections for five representatives to the Chemistry and Physics Student Council will open at 8 a.m. today in the lobby of Osmond Laboratory.

Political Campaign Moves Into Action

Campus and Lion party candidates for freshman and sophomore class officers move into the third day of campaigning today with an eye toward the elections next Wednesday and Thursday.

Since Monday candidates of both parties have been stamping fraternities and independent living units in an effort to get out the vote.

Posters were distributed on campus and in the downtown area yesterday.

Running for sophomore class president are John Yeosock on the Campus ticket and Lion party's John Sopko.

Other sophomore Campus candidates are William Strieder, vice president, and Valentina Kopach, secretary-treasurer.

John Neifert is Campus party's candidate for freshman president. Opposing him is George Smith of Lion party.

Also on the freshman ballot are Campus candidates Mack Johnson, vice president, and Marjorie Miller, secretary-treasurer, against Lion nominees John P. Arnold, vice president, and Gail Schultz, secretary-treasurer.

Interest Shown

Byron LaVan, clique chairman of Lion party, said the campaign so far is "going great" and after campaigning in the Nittany dormitory area, believes that students are showing particular interest in the party's stand on the Supreme Court issue.

Lion party is opposing the amendment passed by All-University Cabinet Thursday night which would put Cabinet members on the Supreme Court.

As part of the campaign, Lion party will sponsor a jam session-mixer from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. tomorrow in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

Campaign 'Fine'

Thomas Hollander, clique chairman of Campus party, also said the campaign is "going fine" and feels that the Campus party candidates, coming out of a highly competitive contest, are "fine people for the nomination."

Hollander said he believes the most important thing in the election is getting out the vote because "it is the only way to strengthen student government and give it the power it needs to show campus leaders and the administration that the students are behind it."

Last fall Campus party swept the sophomore ballot and Lion party the freshman elections.

In the freshman elections last fall 41.1 per cent of the eligible students voted, while only 25.1 per cent voted in the sophomore elections.

West Halls Favor Yule Extension

West Halls Council went on record Monday night favoring the extended Christmas vacation after being presented a petition to that effect signed by approximately 1150 students.

President Daniel Thalimar said there is still time for some action to be taken and he will take the petition to AIM Board of Governors.

Food Complaints Answered

In answer to student complaints concerning food service in the West Halls area, dining hall exit doors will be unlocked for fire safety. These doors will remain unlocked only until students begin leaving their trays on the tables.

Milk machines will be left out until 6:40 p.m. for students, such as athletes, who can't come for the evening meal before 6:15 p.m., Thalimar said.

Hours Considered

In addition, action is being taken on changing snack bar hours to 9 a.m. to midnight.

In order to better acquaint students with the problems facing food service, West Halls Council members will go on a tour of food service facilities and report back to their respective units.

Club to Type Blood

The Rod and Coccus Club will type blood for students from 7 to 9 tonight in 206 Patterson for 50 cents a person.
