

IM Football Reaches Semi-Final Competition

Uncoordinated offenses led to a domination of defense in last night's intramural quarter-finals in both independent and fraternity divisions.

Of the two independent and fraternity quarter-final games, the highest scoring contest occurred in the fraternity games when all four scored a touchdown each.

Phi Delta Theta managed to make good on their extra point attempt and defeated Phi Gamma Delta, 7-6.

In the other fraternity game, SPE won in an overtime after coming from behind and tying the regulation contest, 7-7.

In the indie tourney, the Timites edged Stan's Boys in an overtime, and the Violators kicked a field goal to defeat bare-footed booter King Lu Ching's Pollock 12 squad, 3-0.

In a dull first half neither team could move for a first down except for a Bill Schwab to Stoddard to Al Buffington ariel that covered 20 yards but was nullified by a penalty.

Phi Delt scored their TD on the first series of plays in the second half as a pass by Phi Gam's Terry Hutton was intercepted by Tom Hancock on the Phi Gam 35. Hancock tossed to Earl Poust on the 15 for the TD.

Tom Burns leisurely booted the seventh point that was to be the deciding one later in the game.

With three minutes left in the contest, John Lessig snared a Stoddard aerial on the Phi Gam 47 and moved down the left sideline with a Phi Delt defender 15 yards in front of him attempting to cover an eligible Phi Gam receiver. At the 10-yard line, the Phi Delt made a late move to stop the Phi Gam, but Lessig cut back to the right and burst into TD-land.

Behind 7-6, with less than three minutes, Terry Hutton slipped the conversion off his foot and missed.

An attempted short kickoff by Phi Gam failed when a Phi Delt lineman smothered the ball on his 35 and Phi Delt retained possession of the pigskin except for the last play of the game.

On that last play, Hutton received a pass on his 21 and heaved a long one to the Phi Delt 37 as the clock ended the game. The Phi Gam receiver had only one defender to elude and score the winning tally, but was stopped.

In the Timites game, the sensationalists who won a game earlier in the season with only six players, scored a victory over Stan's Boys after each could get only one first down in regulation play.

Defense won the overtime for the Timites as they dropped the "Boys" for a 10-yard loss and another 5-yard loss. Neither team actually advanced the ball in the overtime but the losses put the ball in their opponent's territory after the six plays and the Timites won.

The Violators' victory came when Tony Taormina passed to Ted Leffler from the 45 to the 17 where the attack lost yardage and stalled. But Keith Deardorff booted the 41-yarder for the 3-0 score.

Ching attempted an equalizer from the 36 late in the second half, but the "bare-footed boy" was not up to his usual par and the pigskin fell short of the uprights.

Margeran grabbed a three-yard toss from Jim Macklan for the Theta Xi six-pointer. Lynn Baker added the conversion for a 7-0 lead.

SPE came back with Jack Michaels tossing 40 yards to Funseck. Duane Campbell evened the game at 7-all and another IM game went into overtime.

After a series of interceptions and no completions, the ball rested on the Theta Xi side of the gridiron for the SPE win.

Scoring is spread among 12 players with Kane top man with 18 points, all on touchdowns. Plum is second with 15, accumulated on two field goals and nine extra points. Four players—Andy Moconyi, Paul North, Dave Kasperian, and Bruce Gilmore—are all tied with 12 points each.

Nittany Lions Drop From Top 20 In Associated Press Football Poll

The Penn State football team, dropping from the top 20 teams in the nation for the first time in two weeks following its loss to Syracuse, according to the latest Associated Press weekly football poll.

The Lions had jumped into the nation's spotlight with a 7-6 win over Ohio State, good for an 18th rating and advanced up the list with a 16-6 victory over West Virginia, good for the 12th place.

However, the defeat dropped the Lions from the list of the nation's best. The victory pushed Syracuse into ninth place—the first time the Orange has entered the first 10.

The seventh weekly poll showed Oklahoma receiving 116 first place ballots out of a possible 172 for first place honors. The Sooners' rating was not affected because of its 27-19 comeback win over Colorado. Colorado led at half time, 19-6.

Georgia Tech, who edged Duke, 7-0, retained its second place rating with 30 first place votes.

Tennessee is third in the listings. Tech and Tennessee meet in one of the top games across the nation Saturday.

Michigan State's Spartans, on top of the pack for a week, remained in fourth place while Texas A&M stayed in fifth place.

Minnesota, 9-6 victor over Pitt in another controversial contest, jumped from eighth to sixth, while Ohio State dropped one place to seventh. Miami of Florida advanced from ninth to eighth.

Syracuse holds the ninth spot, with Michigan—entering the top 10 for the first time—in 10th place.

The second 10: Clemson, Navy, Florida, Oregon State, Iowa, Southern California, Texas Christian, Colorado, UCLA and Pitt tie, and Stanford.

Lenny Moore, since graduated, scored Penn State's only touchdown against Army at West Point last year.
