

Nittany Pass Defense Faces Test Tomorrow

The Nittany Lions' highly-touted pass defense will get a going over tomorrow when the air-minded Boston Terriers tackle the Lions on Beaver Field.

The Nittany pass defense, rated fifth in the nation, has held the opposition to only 18 completions in six games while intercepting 16 passes.

The Terriers, in their six games, have thrown 100 passes and completed 42, an indication that they like to throw passes and usually complete them. The 42 completions have gained 708 yards as against 596 for the Lions, who have completed 38 out of 81 attempts. Six of the Terrier passes have gone for touchdowns.

Although the possibility of an air duel appears inevitable, the Lions will definitely travel via the ground because of the supposed weakness of the Terrier line.

Boston has a heavy and strong line but it lacks experience. The Terriers have been able to score, but so have their opponents. In the six games this season the Terriers have tallied 98 points while their opponents have scored 113.

This is almost directly opposite from the Lions' statistics. In the same amount of games the Lions have pushed across 116 points while holding opponents to 49, an average of approximately eight per game.

The mainstay of the Boston forward wall is guard Lou Lovely, who does not play as his name implies. Lovely is rated by Coach Buff Donelli as one of the top linemen in the East. The 6-0, 195 pound senior is also an outstanding candidate for post-season All-East honors.

Along with Lovely at the Terrier guard posts is Joe Verscharen, who is a converted back. Verscharen was switched because of his defensive ability and lack of talent at guard. Only 185 pounds, he lacks experience and weight at that position.

Donelli lost both of last year's starting ends through graduation and has had to play a sophomore and junior at the wing spots. John Regan, 6-2, 205, and Bob Knight, 6-3, 210, will probably be the ends for Donelli. Knight is a sophomore but is one of the top defensivemen on the team and, ac-

According to Terrier reports, he can develop into All-American material in a few years.

At tackles John Migliore and Ed Paulauskas prevail. Paulauskas, 6-1, 213, is only a sophomore, but was voted the outstanding freshman player in '55. Migliore, 6-0, 211, is a hold-over from last year and is regarded as a rugged and aggressive lineman.

Charley Wanosky, 6-1, 200, was converted from guard to center this year and has shown good potential at that position.

Approximately 4500 high school band performers will help swell tomorrow's crowd to about 30,000, the largest crowd of the year. Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EST).

Rip Engle, Penn State football coach, considers his center, Dan Radakovich, of Kennywood, Pa., one of the finest in the East.

North Carolina State will bring a strong Pennsylvania contingent to Beaver Field for its game with Penn State, Nov. 17.

Nittany 44 Wins Cage Contest

Action in Wednesday night's independent intramural basketball league saw Nittany 44 scoring a 24-22 win over the Shantytown Nine in an overtime period. In other games, Nittany 43 defeated the Five Nitts, 22-19, the Calder Alleycats trampled the Hotshots, 37-12, and the Old Ones defeated the Atherton Men, 28-16.

Penn Haven tripped the Bullets, 30-27, and the Wesley Five won 38-20 over the I.I.'s. Bob Thomas's 18 markers led the Cougars to a 40-6 win over the Co-ops, and Nittany 31 downed the Violators, 31-24. By virtue of a strong second half, Nittany 41 defeated the Twenty Five Fives, 17-14.

ASSIGNMENT WITH A FUTURE

Engineering history is being made at Chrysler Missile Operations. We are meeting and conquering the challenge of two of today's most important missiles—the Redstone and Jupiter Ballistic Missiles.

As a graduate engineer we offer you an opportunity to share in this adventure in engineering for we need young men with the necessary vision and creativeness to work in today's newest and most rapidly expanding field. In no other area of engineering are the opportunities as great or the future as bright for a young engineer as in this dramatic industry.

You will find at Chrysler Missile Operations a work atmosphere which is geared to new ideas and where ample opportunity is given each individual to achieve leadership and full command of all phases of missile development. You will work shoulder to shoulder with many of today's greatest missile scientists and pioneers whose names are synonymous with pilotless flight.

If you wish to become part of a wide open—full of the future—engineering field, one which will literally lift you out of the ordinary and into a whole new world of engineering opportunities, then graduate to Chrysler—Guide Post to Opportunity!

We invite you to discuss your opportunities at Chrysler Missile with
