

Campus Chest Will Open Annual Solicitation Drive

Campus Chest will open its annual solicitation campaign Monday, seeking to reach its $12,000 goal.

Contributions will be collected from Monday to Friday in dormitories, town living areas, and fraternity houses.

The theme of the drive is "a dollar a scholar."

A preferential designations system with the names of the five agencies that will receive funds from the drive will be listed on the IBM cards.

Robert Gellman, chairman, said that a student may specify which organization he wishes to contribute by means of this system. If he has no particular preference, he may check the undesignated spot on the card.

To Divide Equally

Undesignated contributions will be divided equally among American Heart Association, American Cancer Society, World University Service, Penn State Student Scholarship Fund, and Cerebral Palsy Fund.

A large clock, made by Central Promotion Agency, will be placed at the Main Gate to inform students of daily progress during the drive.

The clock will be divided vertically through the middle listing the days of the week on one side, and totals for each day on the other side.

To Award Trophies

Trophies will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority and individual living unit who collect the most money per capita.

Last year, which was the first time the presentations were made, trophies were won by Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority which contributed $144.65, and Acacia fraternity which contributed $83.50.

Collections at HUB

A collections booth will be set up at the Hetzel Union desk so that captains can deliver money returns from 1 to 10 p.m. on Tuesday through Friday to members of the Campus Chest executive committee.

From there, money will be transported to the Campus Chest office on the second floor to be counted for the second time by Edward Long, tabulations chairman, and his assistants.

Will Contact Ten

Solicitors working in the dormitories will each be given approximately 10 persons to contact. Members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, and Gamma Sigma, national service sorority, who are in charge of solicitations from students living in town, will each contact approximately 35 persons.

Sororities and fraternities each have chairmen in their individual chapters.

325 Attend

Approximately 325 persons attended the solicitors meeting which was the initial step in the actual fund-raising drive.

Speaking at the meeting were Dr. Arthur Davis, professor of physical education, representing the American Heart Association; (Continued on page five)

Lions Solid Choice To Crush Boston

By FRAN FANUCCI
Collegian Sports Editor

Rip Engle's seventh straight winning season may be fulfilled today when the surprising Nittany Lion football team meets air-minded Boston University before approximately 28,000 Band Day fans on Beaver Field.

Kickoff is 1:30 p.m.

The Lions are solid three-touchdown favorites to make the Terriers their fifth victim of the campaign. And if last season's game can be a criterion for today's game then the oddsmakers have little to worry about.

The Lions swept by Boston, 35-0, in the '55 season's opener and now hold four straight wins over the Terriers, who have yet to administer a defeat on the Lions.

This year the Terriers, who are still one to two years from their potential, have a 1-3-2 record, while the Nittanians have a 4-2 mark.

Boston beat Massachusetts in the opening game, tied the next two with George Washington and William & Mary, and then proceeded to lose three straight to Villanova, Syracuse, and Holy Cross.

The Lions' wins have been over Penn, Holy Cross, Ohio State, and Radio Station WMAJ will carry the play-by-play of today's Penn State-Boston U. football game at 1:30 p.m. Mickey Bergstein will handle the broadcast.

West Virginia while their losses were handed them by Army and Syracuse.

Engle has made only one change in his starting lineup, switching Doug Mechling to end in place of the injured Jack Farls, who is nursing a bad foot, but who will definitely see action in today's game.

The Lions, effective both on the ground and through the air, have been stressing their ground attack this week because of the emergence of a cold wave that has hit the area.

Boston's major threat to an upset will be via the air lanes with Phil O'Connell the top passer.

With O'Connell doing most of the pitching, the Terriers have amassed 708 yards on 42 completions a game for 116 yards. Six of the completions have gone for touchdowns.

The Lions, led by quarterback Milt Plum, have completed 38 out of 81 attempts for 596 yards and six touchdowns. But their major offensive threat is centered around the ground attack, fortified by Ray Alberigi, Billy Kane, and Emil "Babe" Caprara.

Alberigi is the leading ground gainer on the team with 365 yards on 83 carries for a 4.4 average, while Kane is in the runner-up spot with 333 yards on 72 carries for a 4.6 average. Kane also leads the team in scoring with 18 points.

DEAN McCoy, fraternity posters and lusty singing led by Frank Podlizek combined to make last night's pep rally one of this season's best despite the small attendance.

McCoy Lauds School Spirit; 500 Attend BU Pep Rally

By DICK DRAYNE

Dr. Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education and Athletics, congratulated students on the spirit shown during the football season at last night's pep rally.

Dr. McCoy said the spirit for all University sports has been very high during the few years he has been here.

The pep rally, held in front of Recreation Hall, was attended by approximately 500 students.

Dr. McCoy, in his talk, denied that small attendance at pep rallies meant a lack of school spirit. "I don't think that the number of students at a pep rally is indicative of a lack of spirit," he said.

He explained that the test of school spirit is the attendance at the actual sports event. The attendance at University sports events has been very good, he said.

The pep rally was sponsored by Parmi Nous, senior men's hat society, and Scrolls, senior women's hat society.

The rally began with the Blue Band marching from the Hetzel Union Building to Rec Hall. The band was joined at the Mall by the hat society members and other students. The students formed a snake chain and followed the band to Rec Hall.

The pep rally was led by Samuel Wolcott, head cheerleader. Wolcott alternated with Alfred Klimcke, the Nittany Lion, in entertaining the crowd between cheers.

Wolcott told the students they were the leaders in school spirit. The cheerleaders depend on the students who attend the pep rallies to bring out the spirit at the football games.

Senate OK's Fraternity's Reactivation

The Senate subcommittee on student affairs Thursday approved a petition from Omega Psi Phi social fraternity asking permission to reactivate the fraternity.

The fraternity has been inactive since the spring semester of 1954. It went inactive then because its membership fell below the level required to maintain the house.

Reactivated Yesterday

It was officially reactivated yesterday; with 18 members, 12 brothers and six pledges.

The fraternity's house is located at 401 Clay Lane.

The University chapter was founded in 1921, ten years after the fraternity was established nationally at Howard University in Washington, D.C.

The president of the University chapter is Matthew Robinson, junior in arts and letters from Philadelphia. The vice president is Ronald Ross, junior in business administration from Philadelphia.

Edwards Named Secretary

Jerome Edwards, junior in pre-medicine from Annapolis, is the secretary of the chapter; and William O'Neal, sophomore in business administration from Philadelphia, is treasurer.

The only other petition received by the Senate subcommittee was from a group asking official recognition as the Penn State Lacrosse Club. The petition was referred to the subcommittee on organization control for further consideration.

Grid Weather Forecast Today

As the kick leaves the Nittany Lion's "educated" toe this afternoon, the weather man says it should soar into a clear blue sky, with a slight breeze carrying it through the up-rights.

"Perfect football weather," he said.

The "scouts" in the weather station predicted there will be "frost on the pig-skin" early today as the temperatures were expected to fall to a chilly 20 degrees.

Forecasts indicate no really strong passing winds, but all chances of rain appear to have been intercepted.

Yesterday's weather scrimmage brought the temperatures to a nippy-but-pleasant 49-degree line.

Weird Sounds to Echo From Farm 13 Tonight

Students should not be alarmed by the strange sounds echoing from Farm 13 tonight, as it will be only the roar of cannons or the rumble of tanks.

The noises, which will be amplified from recordings are part of an Army Reserve Officers Training Corps project being conducted at the University Farms, near the Chemistry Storage Building.

The exercise is scheduled for 7 to 9 tonight.

Russian Actions Denounced by UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—The General Assembly tonight formally branded Russia's actions in Hungary as an "intolerable attempt" to enslave the Hungarian people and a violation of the UN Charter.

At the same time, the United States announced that it is contributing a million dollars to the UN for the relief of Hungarian refugees.

5 Nations Propose Action

The indictment was part of a five-power resolution which expressed deep concern over Russia's refusal to comply with a Nov. 4 UN order for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary.

The resolution described the Soviet action as "violent repression" of the Hungarian people. It said the "foreign intervention in Hungary is an intolerable attempt to deny the Hungarian people . . . freedom and independence."

The sponsors of the resolution were Cuba, Ireland, Italy, Pakistan and Peru.

Vote Overwhelming

The 76-nation Assembly voted on it paragraph by paragraph; approving each by overwhelming majorities.

The resolution as a whole was approved by a vote of 48-11 with 16 absententions.

The five-power resolution called on Russia to withdraw her troops from Hungary "without further delay." It also called for free elections in Hungary.

Delegates Scorn Russia

Delegate after delegate poured fire and scorn on the Russians today. Soviet actions in the stricken nation were characterized as "bestiality, . . . horrifying callousness . . . massacre . . . sickening spectacle."

At one point, during a particularly sharp attack, Russia's permanent delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, rose and left the chamber. The other Russian representatives, however, sat listening with stony indifference, or busied themselves with documents on the desk.

Football Tickets To Go on Sale

Less than 1200 regular and 1500 temporary bleacher tickets will go on sale in the Beaver Field ticket booths at 9 a.m. today.

The regular seats cost $3.50 each, but children may purchase special tickets at 50 cents each for seating in the bleacher section only.

Three thousand tickets for the Pitt game, Nov. 24, will go on sale Wednesday at the ticket window, 248 Recreation Hall.

Edward M. Czeka, ticket director, has set a maximum of six tickets a purchaser for the Pitt game.

Tickets for the North Carolina State game, Nov. 17, are still available at the ticket office.
