

UN Police Army Flying to Suez

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 10 (AP)—Vanguards of the new international police army are flying to the Suez Canal zone today on a peace mission without precedent on any battlefield.

The three invaders of Egypt-Israel, Britain and France—all declare they welcome the UN force recruited from small nations to take over occupation duties.

An official Egyptian spokesman in Cairo said late Friday night the Nasser government has agreed provisionally to have the UN force keep peace in the Middle East.

This is the long talked of—but never previously organized world peace patrol.

Norwegian Units

The first units are being flown from Norway and Denmark to a staging area near Naples, Italy, and after a brief stop on to the Middle East.

U.S. Air Force planes left Charleston, S.C., Friday night to pick up soldiers in Colombia and transport the first South American contingent to the Italian staging area.

Britain began pulling assault forces out of Port Said at the Mediterranean end of the canal and replacing them with infantry remaining only until the UN force can take over.

Canal Quiet

The canal-side battle area was quiet. A British government source spiked reports of Soviet moves to intervene in the Middle East and of Egyptian preparations to attack the British-French forces after three days of ceasefire.

A French Foreign Office spokesman said the Russian planes reported in Syria might be Soviet-built Egyptian aircraft, flown to Syria to escape British-French attacks.

Nasser Makes Speech

Egypt's President Nasser made a two-hour speech in Cairo, saying he saved the Egyptian air force from destruction by keeping planes out of the air and putting dummies on the airfields to be bombed.

He said both the United States and the Soviet Union stood by Egypt when it was attacked.

He declared Egypt would not clear blockships from the canal "as long as there is one foreign soldier on Egyptian soil."

Hoxsey Testimony

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two physicians today rebutted testimony given by defense witnesses in a federal court trial to decide what should be done with a half million pills seized at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, Pa.

Budapest Quiet, Rebels Blast Uranium Mines

VIENNA, Nov. 9 (AP)—Budapest radio reported a lull tonight in the fighting in the Hungarian capital, but rebels were said to have blown up the nation's uranium mines in south Hungary.

Hungarian refugees told Vienna newspapers the great uranium mines near Pecs were so thoroughly dynamited it will be a long time before the Russians can reopen them.

The mines were a major objective when Soviet military forces launched general attacks Sunday to crush the anti-Russian revolt. The rebels had demanded Hungary cease handing over Uranium to the Soviet Union.

Sullen, striking workers and rebel guerrillas apparently still defied Russian might. Hunger and lack of medical treatment added to their misery.

Late today, Budapest radio said that "generally there is no shooting any more" and that "complete order" had been restored in the 14th District on Budapest's eastern outskirts. Rebel radios remained silent for the second day.

$500 Grant Given To Grad Student

Anne E. Hughes, graduate student in clinical speech from Slatington, has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the American Speech and Hearing Association.

The award is made possible by a grant to the Association from the Education and Research Foundation of the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

It was established to stimulate the training of a more adequate supply of urgently needed qualified professional workers in speech correction and speech pathology.

Soviets Blast Diplomats

MOSCOW, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Soviet Foreign Office took a slap at the American and French ambassadors here today in retaliation for the Western diplomatic social boycott of the recent Soviet holiday celebration.

U.S. May Establish Israeli Security Pact

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The United States was reported considering a mutual security pact for Israel today as a means of further simmering down the battle-torn Middle East.

Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress came away from a 2½-hour White House conference with President Eisenhower voicing optimism and faith in his handling of the tense situation.

Eisenhower was said to have told them that, while no man can foretell the future in the area, the peak of the crisis may have passed.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty ruled out any immediate Big Three meeting on the Middle East, and he held out no hope of any quick summit conference, such as Switzerland has suggested. But he left the door open to both ideas should they look better later on.

These were late developments in a jittery situation which found American officials breathing a little easier but still treading softly. The big fear was that some misstep might cause Russia to try to carry through with a vague threat to intervene in the Middle East to throw soldiers of Britain, France and Israel out of Egypt.

To avert that threat, the Israelis announced yesterday they were giving up the Sinai Peninsula which they had wrested from Egypt. The British, who with the French had halted halfway through their military seizure of the Suez Canal, announced today they are replacing assault troops with regular soldiers and demphasizing air power on the nearby Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

President's Margin Nears 10 Million

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower's total vote climbed today to 34,750,946, or 9,323,585 more than the 25,427,361 Adlai Stevenson got.

Meanwhile the Democrats seemed likely to have a wider margin in House seats than the 232-203 edge they held in the 84th Congress.

Already assured of 232 seats, the Democrats led in three of the four House races still remaining to be decided.

UN Treaties Reevaluated By Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 9 (AP)—Iceland's independence party today called on the government to reconsider its international treaties in the light of recent "terrifying international incidents."

Iceland earlier had been demanding withdrawal of U.S. forces from their North Atlantic bases in this island country.

All 19 Parliament members of the independence party made the call in a motion submitted to a joint session of the Icelandic Parliament.

It said the forthcoming revision of the defense treaty with the United States "shall be carried out with the purpose that adequate security of the country should be maintained."

Icelandic and United States representatives were to hold talks here next week on revision of the treaty.

The independence party always has opposed withdrawal of U.S. forces from Iceland, but the coalition government it dominated was defeated in elections last July.

The winners, a coalition of the Progressive and Social Democratic parties, campaigned on a pledge that U.S. troops would leave and that military installations in Iceland would be taken over by Icelanders.

Experimental Jet Crashes in Test

DOVER, Del., Nov. 9 (AP)—The Navy's lone Seamaster, giant seabased jet plane still in the experimental stage, crashed in flames today in northern Delaware. Its civilian crew of four parachuted to safety.

The Seamaster, known as the XP6M, broke up while cruising in a test flight from the Glenn L. Martin Co. plant in Baltimore, where it was built.

It was the second of the big planes to crash within a year, and so far as can be determined, the only one in existence.
