

FMA to Give Fraternities Ultimatum on Its Future

By TERRY LEACH

The Fraternity Marketing Association, hampered four years by poor fraternity participation, will present a resolution to Interfraternity Council that it either endorse FMA or disband it.

Robert Krakoff, FMA board member who introduced the plan, said FMA will call on IFC to endorse the organization by 100 per cent membership.

Ticket Sales Reach 5800 For Concert

Approximately 5800 tickets have been sold for the United States Marine Band concerts, Stephen Higgins, publicity manager for the concerts, said yesterday. Sales for the matinee performance have reached 1900 and 4900 for the evening show.

Tickets will be sold through the day of the concerts or until a capacity crowd of 6000 for each concert is reached. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Oldest Military Band

The band, the oldest military symphonic organization in the country, will present concerts at 3:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Thursday in Recreation Hall.

Tickets for the matinee are 50 cents for children and $1 for adults. Reserved tickets for the evening's performance are $1.50 and unreserved tickets are $1.

Tickets at HUB

Tickets may be purchased at the Hetzel Union desk, Waring Lounge desk, the Music Room and Sigma Chi fraternity.

Soloists for the performances will be Eramwell Smith, coronet, William Jones, vocal baritone, John Beck, marimba, and Charles Erwin, coronet.

Navy to Interview For CE Program

Applicants for the Navy's new Civil Engineering Corps program will be interviewed today in 206 Engineering "E."

A representative of the Fourth Naval District Engineer is in charge of the interviews which began yesterday.

The program is designed for those seniors who, due to curriculum requirements, were not able to take advanced Reserve Officers Training Corps. Graduates in civil, mechanical, architectural, mining and petroleum engineering may become commissioned officers under the program.

Housemother Never Forgets Dorm Rules

It seems that some housemothers have to bring the rules into everything—even favors.

Take, for example, the case of a certain housemother who telephoned a certain coed one certain night.

Our lucky coed was visiting down the hall so her unlucky roommate took the call.

Being a helpful sort of a girl, she dashed around the dorm trying to find her roommate.

Without success she dashed back to the room to see if she could take the message.

The housemother was the considerate type. She said very apologetically, "I'm so sorry I made you lose your breath."

"That's perfectly all right," replied the gullible roommate.

"But," the rule-conscious housemother continued, "you shouldn't be running in the halls!"

Students Pick Grapes

One of the prized privileges of students in "the good old days" was that of gathering grapes and other fruit from the college vineyard and orchard. They would usually take advantage of this by bringing along their pillow cases and filling them with all the fruit they would hold.

Weather to Put Warm Clothes In Style Today

Winter weather and winter clothes should be the style throughout today and tonight.

A cold front reaching University Park yesterday afternoon filled the skies with clouds and sent temperatures scooting downward.

The possibility of snow flurries or rain arrived with the front. This condition is likely to remain today and into tonight.

Strong winds and brief rain accompanied the arrival of the cold front.

After a predicted low last night of near 32 degrees the temperatures today are expected to climb no higher than the forties.

Weekend weather featured very cold temperatures throughout the county and particularly in University Park.

The lowest official temperature of the season was recorded by the University weather station as 25 degrees.

Temperatures for University Park yesterday showed a high of near 50 degrees and a low in the morning of near 46 degrees.
