

'Chest' Returns Light; Drive Enters Third Day

The Campus Chest drive, seeking $12,000, entered its third day today with returns light the last two days.

Only $56.50 had been turned in to members of the Chest executive committee at 8:15 p.m. yesterday.

This figure represents contributions from 80 persons averaging 70 cents from each contributor.

Edward Long, tabulations chairman, said that he expects heavier returns today, tomorrow, and Friday, as the campaign draws to an end.

"Today's figures are certainly no indication whatsoever of the progress of the campaign," Long said.

He explained that returns have not been great to date, because solicitors found it necessary to contact prospective contributors two and three times.

Members on Duty

Campus Chest executive committee members who were on duty at the booth yesterday included Lawrence McCabe, Barbara Hendel, Merle Brooks, Katherine Dickson, Dennis McArver, and Long.

About 425 solicitors are working in the current drive. Solicitors have been divided off by groups including: independent men and women living in dormitories; sororities; fraternities; town men, and town women.

Service Groups Assist

Members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, and Gamma Sigma, national service sorority, are assisting in soliciting town men and women.

Sigma Delta Tau sorority shined shoes yesterday at a stand at the Main Gate and in fraternity houses. The stand will continue today and tomorrow.

Fraternities who want their shoes shined may notify the sorority suite and members will be sent out to the houses to shine shoes.

The goal of this year's campaign is 12,000 or "A Dollar per Scholar," according to Robert Gellman, chairman of the drive.

Preferential System

The card preference system, employed for the first time in last year's drive, is again in effect. By use of this system, each student can designate for which of five organizations he wants his contribution used.

There is also an undesignated spot on the IBM cards for student.

Court Plan Opposed By Eng Council

The Architecture and Engineering Student Council last night voted in opposition to the Supreme Court revision which is now before the All-University Cabinet.

The revised court proposed by Cabinet would have 32 members, of which 25 would be members of Cabinet.

A Third Vote Required
Cabinet has approved the revised supreme court plan on two votes. Since the plan would cause revision to the body's constitution, a third vote requiring a two-thirds majority is needed.

The council decided not to incorporate the Engineering Newsletter in the Penn State Engineer. It was brought out that the Newsletter, the council's own literary representative, would lose its identity by becoming a part of another magazine.

Larger Circulation Cited
The council also pointed out that the Newsletter has a larger circulation than the Engineer because it is free.

The Newsletter is the engineers' contact with their council, and by cutting down on the number of readers of the council's activities, the council would be defeating the purpose of the Newsletter, the council said.

The members of the Engineer said that they approved of the incorporation, but they would abide by the decision of the council.

Leadership Course to Meet

The Leadership Training Course will meet at 6:30 tonight in 119 Osmond, and not at the time originally scheduled.

Frosh, Sophomore Voting To Begin in HUB Today

Freshmen and sophomores will begin voting for their class officers today in the card room of the Hetzel Union Building.

The polls will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. today and tomorrow. Only first through fourth semester students may vote.

John Neifert, Campus party, and George Smith, Lion party, will oppose each other for freshman class president.

Running for sophomore class president are John Yeosock on the Campus ticket and John Sopko on the Lion ticket.

Other Campus party sophomore candidates are William Strieder, vice president, and Valentina Kopach, secretary-treasurer. Freshman class candidates are Mack Johnson, vice president, and Marjorie Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Matric Cards Needed

The remaining four running on the Lion party ticket are Charles Welsh, sophomore vice president; Elinor Wessel, sophomore secretary-treasurer; John P. Arnold, freshman vice president; and Gail Schultz, freshman secretary-treasurer.

Students must present their matriculation cards to vote. Voters' names will be checked with lists of names of all freshman and sophomore students.

Paper Ballots to Be Used

Voting will be conducted by paper ballot. Voters may either vote for all candidates in a party or may split their tickets. Students found voting more than once will be subject to disciplinary action by the deans' offices. Ten days of campaigning by the parties ended at midnight last night as candidates canvassed the last of the dormitories and fraternities on their campaign schedules.

Lion Platform Changed

Campus party has campaigned almost entirely on its original platform while Lion party has added the proposed plan to have All-University Cabinet members sit on the Supreme Court as its main issue.

Lion party said it will petition for a referendum requiring the separation of the Supreme Court from the legislative branch of student government.

It is opposing the amendment approved twice by Cabinet which

Personnel Committee Established

President Eric A. Walker has appointed an 11-member committee to serve as a two-day communication medium between the President and the student personnel officers of the University.

This committee will also study student personnel problems, seek mutually satisfactory solutions and make recommendations to the President.

Members Listed

The committee will be composed of the dean of men, dean of women; director of the Placement Service; director of the Health Service; chaplain and coordinator of religious affairs; director of the Division of Counseling.

Director of the Division of Intermediate Registration; manager of associated student activities and student union; director of foreign student affairs; dean of admissions and registrar; and the director of student affairs.

Chairman Named

The director of the Division of Counseling will serve as chairman and the dean of men will serve as secretary for the first year, ending June 30.

Officers will serve on an annual basis and the chairman will serve on the President's staff as a means of liaison.

The new committee will replace the Council on Student Affairs which was organized in 1948 but has been inactive for several years.

UN Team To Observe Canal Zone

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A team of 12 UN truce observers with white jeeps took up posts in the 600-yard wide no-man's-land in the Suez Canal zone today. They will keep tabs on the cease-fire between British-French and Egyptian forces pending arrival of the new UN police force.

Advance units of the police army still marked time at their assembly point at Capodichino in Italy. Postponement of their departure was officially ascribed to technical difficulties, but there remained the possibility that snags had developed over limits Egypt has placed on their operations.

UN Troops

Reports from airline officials in Cairo said there was a possibility the UN troops would be flown directly into the Suez Canal zone instead of to Cairo as had been planned.

A French Foreign Ministry spokesman served notice that France expected the police force to occupy "at least symbolically" the entire canal zone, not just the northern end held by the British and French.

No Suez Duty

By the account of the Middle East News Agency, Egypt's national news distributor, President Nasser insists that the international army have no duties in the Suez Canal zone, that British-French forces withdraw from Port Said immediately, and that the UN force be confined to policing the 1949 armistice line between Egypt and Israel.

These conditions ran head-on into the stated objectives of the British, French and Israelis.
