

Today's Forecast:
Partly Cloudy,
Warmer

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Have You Given
To Campus Chest?
$1 Will Do

VOL. 57, No. 47

STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 15, 1956

FIVE CENTS

Chest Drive Lags Behind '55 Returns

Campus Chest today remained a long way from its $12,000 goal as the campaign entered its fourth day with only $251.92 collected to date.

Yesterday's returns amounted to $195.42, which was almost four times as great as returns for Tuesday. Only $56.50 was collected Tuesday.

Last year, $1500 representing 25 per cent of the $6000 goal, had been collected during the first three days of the drive. A total of $3515.90 was collected during last year's four-day drive, falling short of the goal by $2483.10.

Only 15 Solicitors Report
Edward Long, tabulations chairman for the drive, said that these returns are no indication of the eventual outcome of the campaign, because only 15 out of approximately 425 solicitors have made returns.

The average contribution per person so far has been 90 cents. This falls short of 10 cents per person for the goal established by the Campus Chest executive committee as: "A Dollar per Scholar."

Long said that strongest returns came from Nittany, Thompson, and McKee dormitories. He commended these contributors whose average contribution was more than a dollar per person as well as the solicitors in these areas.

Weak Areas Noted
The weakest returns to date have come from Town Independent Men and the Pollock area, according to Long.

"I feel the final result of this campaign will be far better than last year's," Long commented. Judging from the individual contributions received so far, our campaign should be successful. I attribute this to the fact that this year's drive was much better-organized than last year's.

The deadline for making returns is 11 p.m. tomorrow, in order to be eligible for the trophies.

Captains May Make Returns
Captains may make returns from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 10 p.m. today and from 2 to 11 p.m. tomorrow at the lounge opposite the Hetzel Union desk.

Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority are conducting a car wash at fraternity houses this week to raise funds for Campus Chest.

Waiting in Line—Easy Way

—Daily Collegian Photo by George Harrison

RALPH VOLPE, sophomore in liberal arts from Lansdale, brought his chair along with him yesterday morning to wait in line for Pitt game tickets, while other students made use of their time by reading The Daily Collegian. Three thousand tickets were sold within two hours.

Land-Grant Group Secretary Decries Federal Scholarships

The executive secretary of the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities has cautioned against what he called "disturbing" proposals for Federal scholarships.

In his annual report Tuesday to the association, which represents one-fifth of all United States college enrollment, Russell I. Thackrey said that if any further federal aid were extended to higher education it would be better to give it to institutions rather than individuals, according to the Associated Press.

Dangers Emphasized
"The dangers of Federal control are often emphasized in discussions of federal relationships with colleges and universities," Thackrey said.

"The experience of the land-grant institutions is that these dangers can be minimized when federal funds go directly to institutions under broad authorizations."

Bills Introduced
Several scholarship bills have been introduced in Congress and members of the association's policy-making body voted 4 to 1 in favor of federal scholarships in an association-conducted poll.

Thackrey told a reporter that sentiment among members had
(Continued on page five)

Temporary Parking Extended in Town

Use of some of the temporary emergency parking stickers issued by the borough for certain blocks have been extended, pending completion of off-street facilities.

Burgess David R. Mackey yesterday said 110 of the stickers were issued originally for a two-week period.

He also said he expected two parking lots, capable of holding most of the overflow of fraternity cars, would be completed by Thanksgiving.

Soph Student Given Probation for Year

A sophomore physics student charged with being at least partly responsible for his date being returned to her dormitory 40 minutes late has been placed on office probation for the rest of the academic year.

A Tribunal recommendation asking the action was accepted yesterday by the dean of men's office. The incident occurred Oct. 27.

A campus patrolman investigated the situation after he observed the student and his date, a freshman, in a parked car about 12:15 in area 38.

Under office probation, the student must report to the dean of men's office from time to time for informal conferences. No notation of his act is placed on his record.

The student told Tribunal he had not realized that his date was late until about 12:10, but had persuaded her to remain with him after this to finish a personal conversation in which they were engaged.

In a report to the dean of men's office, the patrolman said the student expressed the attitude that, since his date was already late, she "might as well be good and late."

She reportedly took a one o'clock permission the night before after the same student escorted her to her dormitory too late to take a 12 o'clock.

Although he admitted drinking off and on throughout the day, the student said he was not drunk. He said his date had not been drinking. The patrolman said he was attracted to the car because it had a flat tire and because of the student's attire, consisting of a pair of shorts and body markings in conformance with the Indian theme of a fraternity party they had attended.

The student said he did not know the automobile had a flat
(Continued on page three)

Weather News Ain't No Good

The ol' weatherman ain't gonna be so good to us today. He sez the sky will be all full o' clouds, for the most part, and that it's likely they'll kick through with a mite bit rain during the day. This ain't good.

But he sorta butters us up with a guess in favor of warmer readings on your thermometers, which don't rightly peeve us none—specially after that blasted cold blast several days back. He sez it's gonna hit 'bout 70 degrees. This is good.

Hold on, now! Sumpin' tacked onto the end here. Drat it! Gonna get cooler Friday. Thunderation! Jes' as I was gettin' all chirpy-like.

Class Voting Light; Polls Close Today

Voting for freshmen and sophomore class officers was light yesterday in the first day of elections, as 1014 of the 6027 sophomores and freshmen cast ballots.

Three hundred seventy-one sophomores and 643 freshmen turned out to vote.

The polls will be open again today from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m., when the election closes. Only first through fourth semester students may vote.

Vote Exceeds Last Year's
Although balloting was light, this year's vote was higher than last year.

Last year on the first day 950 freshmen and sophomores voted, which was 13 per cent of the 7021 eligible. Of the 950 that voted on the first day last year, 622 or 15 per cent were freshmen, and 328 or 11 per cent were sophomores.

There were 4102 freshmen last year and 2919 sophomores. This year there are 3050 freshmen and 2977 sophomores.

Second Year in HUB
This was the second year of centralized voting in the HUB spread over two days. In other years the vote was taken in several buildings, with the entire vote being cast in one day.

On entering the card room in the Hetzel Union Building where the polls are situated, the students must show their matriculation card to an elections committee member, who crosses the student's name off the registration list to prevent his voting more than once.

Candidates Listed
Candidates for sophomores class president are John Yeosock, Campus party, and John Sopko, Lion party, and for freshman class president, John Neifert, Campus party, and George Smith, Lion party.

The other sophomore candidates for Campus party are William Strieder, vice president, and Valentina Kopaich, secretary-treasurer. Their freshman candidates are Mack Johnson, vice president, and Marjorie Miller, secretary-treasurer.

The other sophomore candidates for Lion party are Charles Welsh, vice president, and Elinor Wessel, secretary-treasurer. Their freshman candidates are John P. Arnold, vice president, and Gail Schultz, secretary-treasurer.

A victory party sponsored by both Lion and Campus parties for all candidates and steering committee members will be held at 7 tonight at Kappa Sigma fraternity.

3 Gridders Will Speak At Pep Rally

Halfbacks Billy Kane and Ray Alberigi and guard Sam Valentine are expected to speak tomorrow night for the last home game pep rally of the year.

The rally will be held at 7:30 p.m. in front of Recreation Hall.

Blue Band to Appear
Scheduled to join Kane, Alberigi, and Valentine are the cheerleaders, the Blue Band, and members of Mortar Board and Skull and Bones, senior hat societies, sponsors of the rally.

Other entertainment will be provided by Alfred Klumpke, the Nittany Lion, and William Landis, ninth semester student in aeronautical engineering from Shanksville, in the form of a skit.

Lion to Perform
The Lion will also perform his familiar antics.

The name of the winner of a raffle sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism society, will be drawn at the rally. The winner will receive a twin boy-girl shetland wool crewneck sweater set.

Debate Team Opens Season

The men's debate team will leave today for Burlington, Vt., where they will participate in the first debate tournament of the year.

The tournament will include debaters from more than 30 other colleges and universities who will debate on a national topic. Resolved: "That the United States should discontinue direct economic foreign aid."

Affirmative speakers from the University are Jay Feldstein and Robert Neff. Jonathan Plaut, team manager, and Edward Klevans will debate the negative.

U.S. to Help Block Russian 'Volunteers'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged American support today for United Nations action to block Russia and Red China from sending weapons and so-called "volunteers" into the troubled Middle East.

At a news conference, he said "it would be the duty" of the UN, including the United States, to oppose any such Communist intervention.

The President did not say what form the opposition should take, saying, "it would depend upon the circumstances."

Asked what steps would be taken "beyond simply subscribing to resolutions," the President replied:

"Well, I can't tell you what it would be. But the United Nations, if you will read its charter, is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions, and in one instance, at least, showed that it was not so limited.

"So I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances." The "one instance" to which he referred apparently was the UN military action against Red aggression in Korea.

The President spoke only a few minutes before Moscow dispatches reported Egypt had formally requested Russia to dispatch "volunteers" to bolster its armed forces.

The State Department declined to comment on the Moscow report but top officials were reported gravely following all developments, fearing such a Soviet move might wreck the jittery cease-fire in Egypt.

Replying to other questions, Eisenhower made these points in commenting on international problems:

1. This "is simply not the time" for a summit conference with Russia's leaders because the UN should be given time to settle
(Continued on page three)