

Cerebral Palsy Victims Aided by Campus Chest

(This is the last of a series of articles explaining the works of the organizations benefiting from Campus Chest donations.)

Cerebral palsy victims in the United States today number approximately 550,000, or a city with a population equivalent to Minneapolis, Minnesota. This number includes 350,000 adults and 200,000 children.

Students may aid victims of cerebral palsy this week through the Campus Chest drive.

The Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults is one of the five organizations which will benefit from this year's five-day drive.

Brain Injury Causes Disease

Cerebral palsy is a disability of the neuro-muscular system caused by injury to the motor centers of the brain. It may occur before, during, or after birth by damage to, or developmental defects of certain centers of the brain governing muscular control.

At present, cerebral palsy cannot be cured, but varying degrees of improvement are possible in most cases. Four out of every seven children afflicted with the disability are of normal mentality and should be able to obtain reasonable improvement when they have been classified so that each type receives suitable treatment.

Treatment should begin as soon as the child has been diagnosed as a victim of cerebral palsy. Medical aid may be obtained from a specialist in the field of cerebral palsy who is qualified to order therapies as needed — speech, physical, occupational.

The Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults is one of 2000 members of the national organization. It was organized in 1923, and has continuously been pledged to the prevention, care, training, and placement of all physically handicapped persons.

Program Has 3 Divisions

In cooperation with the national society, the state cerebral palsy program was divided into three operations:

1. Education of the public, the cerebral palsied, and their parents.
2. Direct services to the cerebral palsied.
3. Research into the causes, diagnosis, and treatment of cerebral palsy.

Liberal Arts Council Adopts Faculty Evaluation Program

The faculty evaluation committee of the Liberal Arts Student Council has adopted a faculty evaluation program to go into effect the last few weeks of this semester.

Under the program, each professor in The College of the Liberal Arts will receive questionnaires to be filled out by members of a cross-section of his classes.

Results Kept Secret

The results will be known by only the professor conducting the survey, and they will be chiefly for his own use and benefit.

The council, however, will send each professor a letter containing five basic questions about the survey. The faculty evaluation committee will then submit a report to the council based on the results computed from these letters.

The chairman of the coffee hours committee reported Tuesday night at the council's meeting that this year's program has been both successful and discouraging. It has been successful for those who have attended, but the percentage of students attending has been discouraging.

Committees Investigate Problem

On the average, one quarter of the invitations sent out have been answered. Committees were set up to investigate the problem. The council's recommendation for a pre-registration program for

Question: What's funny, honey? Answer:

Sticklers!

IF YOU'RE A SMOKER who's never tried a smoke ring, get in there and start puffing. While you're at it, remember: Lucky smoke rings come from fine tobacco. This makes no difference to the smoke ring, but it does to you. You see, fine tobacco means good taste, and Luckies' fine, naturally good-tasting tobacco is TOASTED to taste even better. So make your next cigarette a Lucky, and call your first smoke ring a Proud Cloud.

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

STUCK FOR DOUGH? START STICKLING! MAKE $25

We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used! So start Stickling—they're so easy you can think of dozens in seconds! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
