

Lion Party Wins—

(Continued from page one) students who voted in the election last fall. Paper ballots were used this fall instead of voting machines, which were obtained for the last freshman and sophomore election. The All-University Elections Committee decided against voting machines this year because of the great expense involved. Last fall the two parties split the elections as Campus party took all three sophomore class positions and Lion party won all three freshman class positions.

Remaining winners in the freshman election race were John P. Arnold, Lion party, who beat Mack Johnson, Campus party, for the vice presidential post by a vote of 759 to 494; and Marjorie Miller, Campus, who defeated Gail Schultz, Lion, for class secretary-treasurer with a 680-574 vote. Charles Welsh, Lion, won over Richard William Strieder, Campus, by a 483 to 265 vote for sophomore class vice president. For the sophomore class secretary-treasurer post, Elinor Wessel, Lion, defeated Valentina Kopach, Campus, by a vote of 392 to 352.

Yule Extension—

(Continued from page one) coordinating his data with the predicted fatalities of the National Safety Council, he will try to determine the danger of student traffic fatalities from the total miles that will be traveled by all students. Of the 10,969 students on campus last year, he reports, 915 were from out of State. Twenty-one were from Mass., 79 from Md., 76 from Del., 59 from the District of Columbia, 50 from Va., 25 from Conn., 21 from W. Va., 13 from Ill. and 5 from Maine. The rest were scattered throughout the states. Of the 10,054 students on campus last year who lived in the State, 686 were from Philadelphia County, 1021 from Allegheny County (Pittsburgh), 444 from Delaware County and 191 from Erie County. These counties are located in the more distant intervals. To gain further support for the extension, each of the nine presidents of the college councils is trying to obtain 50 letters from faculty members in his college endorsing the recess extension. Cabinet also expects to receive many letters from parents of students which will ask that the recess be extended.

BizAd Publication To Be Distributed

The BizAd Bulletin will be distributed today at the Hetzel Union desk, in the lobbies of Sparks and Willard, the Corner Room, and the New College Diner. The first issue of the semester includes articles about new faculty members in the College of Business Administration, pre-registration business administration television courses and "BizAd Brain Busters" according to Patricia Hunter, managing editor. BizAd personalities in this issue are Edmond Kramer, president of the Business Administration Student Council; and Julie Maybury, senior in business administration from Bradford.

German Art On Display

"German Architecture Today" is the subject of an exhibition located in the corridors of the Main Engineering Building. Sponsored by the department of architecture, the exhibition of 151 panels will continue until Nov. 29. It is open daily, except Sunday, until 11 p.m. The best work of German architects since the end of World War II is represented in the collection. The problem of reconstruction in Germany was a difficult one, and the first buildings erected after the war reflect the shortage of necessary building materials and the strict functionalism that resulted.

Phi Mu Alpha Sets Concert

Members of Phi Mu Alpha, national musical fraternity, will present a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Hetzel Union Building. Included on the program are instrumental solos by John W. Eastman, junior in archeology from Honesdale, flute; Thomas L. Mentzer, junior in psychology from Lebanon, clarinet; and William C. Neal, senior in music education from Philadelphia, cello. Vocal solos will be presented by Frank Podleiszek, senior in music education from Bethlehem, tenor; and Donald E. Fought, senior in aeronautical engineering from Mechanicsburg, baritone. The Sinfonian Chorus will present four numbers.

It's that new V8 in the '57 Chevrolet. It's as quiet as a contented cat and as smooth as cream . . . and it's cat-quick in response when you call for action!

No household tabby sitting in a sunny window ever purred more softly than Chevy's new V8 engine. You can scarcely tell when it's idling.

But when you nudge the accelerator, you know it's there, all right! Its right-now response keeps you out of highway emergencies. It overpowers steep hills with such ease they seem like level landscape.

This new Chevrolet V8 puts up to 245 high-compression horsepower* under your command! It's sassy, sure—but as tame to your touch as a purring pussycat. Come try the smoothest V8 you ever put a toe to.

*270-h.p. V8 also available at extra cost. Also Ramjet fuel injection engines with up to 263 h.p.

that purr you hear is no pussycat!

Sweet, smooth and sassy! The Bel Air Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher.
