

Salaries Given Priority In University Budget

By ED DUBBS
Collegian City Editor

Teachers' salaries were awarded number one priority in the University's budget request for the biennium beginning next July 1, according to President Eric A. Walker.

The budget request, believed to be in the neighborhood of $30 million or more, is now in the office of Gov. George M. Leader.

Dr. Walker, in a speech before the faculty last Tuesday, did not reveal the amount of state funds asked by the University but hinted that it was larger than that requested in 1954.

The University requested $25,194,000 in 1954. The figure was granted after months and months of delay as the General Assembly became bogged down in disagreement over a tax program.

Dr. Walker said he could not reveal the amount requested because the "figures may be changed." He said he and several other administrative officials will have to explain the requests in person to the Governor next week.

The process for having the appropriation request accepted includes initial approval by the Governor to include it in his budget message, approval by the General Assembly, and final approval by the Governor in signing it into law.

Dr. Walker said the University's salary situation "makes a very strong story" why the request should be granted.

Slides Shown

He showed the faculty slides on salary comparisons. They revealed that the University's pay scale when compared to other schools in the state and Big Ten schools became worse as they went up the line from instructor to full professorship.

The University, he said, should be considered in the "same league with Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio State, and so on."

Dr. Walker said the University isn't "too badly off at the instructor level, but we're in pretty bad shape when we get to the professorial level."

More Money Needed

To raise the teaching staff's salaries one per cent, he said it would take an additional appropriation of "one-third of a million dollars."

"Most of the additional money (asked in the budget request) is earmarked for salary increases," he said.

He said the University cannot stop with just raising teachers' salaries, but also must raise those of secretaries and service personnel, for they too need raises.

"If we raise salaries, we almost have to raise dormitory and food service costs too," since a raise in salaries reflects in the cost of running food service and dormitories, he said.

Dormitories and food service, Dr. Walker said, "must pay their own way."

Faculty Increase Needed

More money will be needed too for additional faculty members, he said.

He said the budget request included more money for "other expenses," such as maintenance and equipment. Dr. Walker said he found that no increases were made in this area in the last five or six years.

The only specific figure in the budget request revealed by the President was $100,000 to be used for research in the humanities. He said the decision for use of the money would be left to the departmental level.

1st Coed Studied Botany

Minerva Whitman, daughter of J. S. Whitman, former vice president of the University, became the first coed when she gained permission to attend botany classes.

Ag Student Named Scholarship Winner

Richard Grubb, junior in agricultural economics and rural sociology from State College, was named one of six national winners of $300 college scholarships at the 35th annual National 4-H Club Congress, which opened Sunday in Chicago.

Grubb, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Grubb, received the award for his 4-H agricultural program at the congress.

University Activities

The youth, a 1954 graduate of State College High School, is in the upper fifth of the junior class at the University and serves as vice president of the Penn State Agricultural Economics Club. He is an alternate representative to the Agricultural Student Council.

The 1954 winner of the Centre County award in recreation and rural arts, Grubb is president of the Centre County 4-H Council and is the 1956 recipient of the Farm Bureau scholarship. This year, he won the Centre County and Pennsylvania teen-age safe driving contests, placing eighth in the national competition.

In addition to this, Grubb is a member of Washington Grange degree team and is superintendent of Pine Hall Lutheran Sunday school. He is enrolled in the advanced ROTC program at the University.

Active Since 1947

Grubb has been in 4-H Club work since 1947 and has had projects in pig feeding, baby beef, capons, chick rearing, sweet corn, tractor maintenance, brood sow, and baby pigs.

He borrowed money from his father to start his 4-H projects, but since has earned about $3,000, which he hopes to start using next year to help get new members started in 4-H work.

APhiO Will Conduct Fund, Clothes Drive

A Hungarian Relief clothing and fund drive will be conducted by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, Thursday through Saturday on campus and in town.

Starting Thursday clothing will be collected by APhiO on College Ave. at the end of the Mall. The pile of clothing donated by students and townspeople will measure the progress of the drive.

According to State College Burgess, David R. Mackey, no services working with Hungarian Relief are accepting clothing made of thin nylon or rayon material or women's shoes as these items are not practical for the refugees.

People wishing to donate clothing or money to the relief drive who are unable to bring their contributions to the collection point on the Mall may call numbers of Alpha Phi Omega between 7 and 11 p.m. every night this week at AD 8-8541. Members of the service fraternity will pick up the donations Saturday.

Small trunks will be placed on for street corners in the center of town Thursday through Saturday by APhiO and Delphi, sophomore men's hat society, for donations of money from students and townspeople.

A small portion of the money collected will be used to transport the clothing collected to an embarkation port. The remainder of the money will be sent through CARE for Hungarian relief work.

In conjunction with the Hungarian Relief drive the State College Council of Churches has established Thursday as Austerity Day.

Fraternities and borough residents are asked to make Thursday dinner as simple as possible and send a check for the money saved

Deans Give Final OK On 3 Cases

The dean of men's office has approved three of four disciplinary cases as recommended by the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review.

Approval of the fourth case involving three students recommended for disciplinary probation by the board awaits a meeting of the Senate subcommittee on student affairs.

The students, one a freshman in mechanical engineering, one a freshman in agricultural engineering, and one a sophomore in journalism were charged with drinking beer in a Pollock dormitory.

In another case, a freshman in architectural engineering received indefinite office and board probation as recommended by the AIM board.

The student was found asleep on a sofa in the lobby of his Nittany residence hall. He admitted consuming an alcoholic beverage but said it was not the reason he fell asleep on the sofa.

A freshman in chemical engineering and a freshman in business administration received board probation.

The students were charged with leaving a tray of dirty dishes in the Nittany dining hall and refusing to cooperate with counselors when questioned.

In the final case, two freshmen charged with drinking beer in their Nittany residence hall received judicial probation and a letter home.
