

26 Students Tour UN Building Crash--

By JANE KLEIN

The United Nations Seminar provided an education in world affairs and in such non-serious subjects as the use of chop-sticks for the 26 members attending.

The seminar, sponsored by the University Christian Association, was held from Nov. 17 through last Tuesday.

During the four-day seminar the group toured the United Nations—attending two meetings of the General Assembly; visited various U.N. missions; and saw practically every section of the sprawling Manhattan Island.

Architecture Impressive

The striking, practical architecture of the U.N. impressed the group.

The buildings, they learned, were constructed by a team of 11 architects of different nationalities who worked together to construct the building suitable for the functions of a world body.

The topic discussed in the General Assembly sessions which the group attended was the Hungarian upheaval.

They were able to understand the different languages of the speakers by listening to the translated message received through ear-phones. Languages which were receivable on the ear-phones were French, Chinese, English, Spanish and Russian.

Suez Problem Discussed

The group was able to obtain first-hand information concerning the Hungarian and Suez problems by speaking with the publicity managers of the missions of the United Kingdom, United States, Israel, Yugoslavia, and Russian.

Souvenirs from the missions included folders containing information of the Israeli nation and Russian magazines and newspapers.

However, the trip afforded more than an education in world events. On Sunday morning the seminar members attended the great churches of the city.

See Cathedral

Several attended the huge gothic cathedral, St. John, the Divine, and following the service toured the edifice, the guide pointing out-sections of interest.

Some members toured Greenwich Village ordering strange bitter coffees in its Bohemian cafes and watching the theatrical people who lived there.

They ate in Chinatown one evening and some mastered the art of eating with chop-sticks.

Broadway plays, operas, and movies also were part of the seminar's evening program.

persons to death in the Atlantic off Asbury Park, N.J. That was the world's worst disaster on a regular airline flight.

Today's plane, due at 7:30 a.m., was running a little late. It was 8:05 a.m. when the French pilot, Capt. Marcel Combalbert, 34, radioed it was coming in for a landing at Maiquetia, Caracas' seaside airport. Between the airport and the city of Caracas is a mountain range dominated by 7,800-foot Mt. Avila.

Swinging in from the Caribbean through the rain, the Constellation apparently crossed the range. It plunged into the south side of a wooded mountain about 150 feet from the crest.
