

Oil for Europe Pends on Allies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—State Department broadly hinted today that emergency oil supplies for Europe will begin flowing as soon as Britain and France make a "definitive statement" about plans to pull their troops out of Egypt.

Ike Appoints Coordinator To Hungary

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower kept a continuing watch on the powder keg Middle East today and also appointed a coordinator to this country's Hungarian refugee program.

The President picked Tracy S. Voorhees, former undersecretary of the Army, to serve as his personal representative in the handling of that program—and to study whether more than 5,000 of the refugees from Soviet terrorism should be admitted to the United States.

Appeal Voiced
Eisenhower appealed, too, for generous public support of a newly launched American Red Cross drive for five million dollars in emergency funds for Hungarian relief.

"Amidst all their trials, the courage of the Hungarian people has been an inspiration to all freedom-loving peoples the world over," the President said in a statement announcing the Red Cross campaign for supplemental money.

150,000 Fed Daily
Eisenhower sounded his appeal after receiving a telegram from E. Roland Harriman, Red Cross chairman, saying the international agency now is feeding about 150,000 persons daily in Hungary, and that more funds are needed for such relief there as well as for aid to refugees being admitted to the United States.

Dorsey Given Final Tribute

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Show business said a sentimental farewell today to Tommy Dorsey, "The Sentimental Gentleman of Swing."

More than 600 persons, including leaders of music, television and films, thronged within the midtown funeral home where a nonsectarian 10-minute service was held for the famous dance band leader.

On the sidewalks outside were another 500 spectators.

In the chapel were massive banks of floral pieces—about 150 altogether—tears and a eulogy in the trade talk Dorsey knew so well. Playing softly on an organ before and after the service was one melody—Dorsey's theme song, "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You."

Threat to Baghdad Pact Warned Against by US

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—In a new move to support the friendly government of Iraq, the United States warned tonight that any threat to the territory or political independence of the four Middle Eastern nations in the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact would be viewed "with the utmost gravity."

Doctor Traces Cold Immunity To Heredity

SEATTLE, Nov. 29 (AP)—Whether you catch cold when you get your feet wet or sit in a draft depends on your heredity, a physician at the University of Washington Medical School reported today.

People who can paddle around in the rain or snow without catching cold probably are protected by the lack of a certain abnormal gene or hereditary factor. Dr. Arno G. Motulsky told a clinical session of the American Medical Assn.

Those who get the sniffles at the first exposure to colds have this gene, the physician said. It may be possible, he added, to suppress the gene and make susceptible people resistant, but the attempts to do this are only in the research stage so far.

There are two kinds of genes which may give rise to disease effects, Dr. Motulsky said. Some of these are potent enough to cause trouble without outside help. They alter some chemical action in the system and the chemical change in turn causes the disease.

The other gene varieties, which include the kind that precipitate colds, also cause chemical changes in the body, but disease does not result unless the temperature or some other outside influence acts further on the changed chemical. Dr. Motulsky said.

Some way of suppressing these genes subject to outside changes may develop through research now under way, he added, but did not go into detail.

Erie Struck Again By Heavy Snows

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—Heavy snow squalls hit this recently snowbound city today, slowing traffic and creating hazardous driving conditions.

About four inches of fresh snow fell on top of more than a foot still on the ground from a paralyzing two-foot fall on Thanksgiving Day.

timetable for troop withdrawals, would bring on American readiness to put an emergency plan into operation, to help relieve the European shortage caused by the closing of the Suez Canal.

Details Unannounced
They expressed this view in commenting on a decision by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to put off until Monday an expected formal detailed announcement of Britain's readiness to join France in a 'phased withdrawal' of forces from Egypt.

Anticipating a satisfactory British pledge, final arrangements have been completed by government agencies to trigger the emergency oil arrangements which would move from 5,000 to 1,100,000 barrels daily to Europe.

U.S. Plan Ready
A White House announcement officially setting the plan in motion is ready, authorities said, to reassure European allies of U.S. willingness to cooperate in solving the mounting oil crisis.

Plans to put emergency oil operation into effect late today or tomorrow were abandoned after Lloyd's apparently last-minute decision to delay his announcement. Officials involved in the oil arrangements said they expected they would be invoked early next week, presumably after Lloyd's Monday announcement.

Explanation Sought
In a move to reclose British-American partnership, British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia called on Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover to explain his government's plans.

Caccia's call was made after Lloyd addressed the British House of Commons. It was one of the few visits the ambassador has made at the State Department since British-American relations were jolted severely by the invasion of Egypt.
