

Disciplinary Action OK'd For Dormitory Drinking

The dean of men's office has approved a recommendation by the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review for action on disciplinary cases involving 10 freshmen from the West Halls area who violated University drinking rules.

Two freshmen received indefinite board probation after they entered the room of another student and pretended to be drunk. The students, dressed in swimming trunks, were returning from a party.

They admitted drinking but at first refused to identify themselves to a counselor.

Another freshman received indefinite judicial probation after a counselor discovered an empty beer can in his room. The student at first denied drinking the contents but later admitted it.

Steel Firm Gives Post To Mauthe

J. L. Mauthe, alumnus and a member of the Board of Trustees and its Executive Committee, has been elected chairman of the board of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company of Ohio.

Mauthe, who had been president of the firm, received his bachelor of science degree in metallurgy in 1913.

Blast Furnace Expert
From his graduation until 1917, he was assistant superintendent of blast furnaces at the National Tube Company at McKeesport. He left there to become superintendent of blast furnaces for Midvale Steel Co. at Coatesville.

In 1919 he became assistant superintendent of blast furnaces for the Illinois Steel Co. in Gary, Ind.

Acquires Executive Post
From 1921 to 1930 Mauthe was employed by the National Tube Company at Lorain, Ohio, as superintendent of blast furnaces and then as assistant general superintendent of the plant.

Mauthe has been with his present firm since 1935, holding the following positions in succession: assistant general superintendent of the Youngstown district, general superintendent, vice president in charge of operations, a company director, and president, in 1950.

Has Multiple Duties
Besides his position with the University Trustees, Mauthe is also a member of the board of governors of Youngstown University, member of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers, and director and member of the Executive Committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute, and a life-time member of the American Society for Metals.

Shivering Lion Scurries From Cold Weather

The weather today should be mostly fair and cold, with the high temperature predicted at about 35 and a low tonight of 20.

The Nittany Lion could not be reached for comment on the weather situation. Collegian reporters found him absent from his den.

There seem to be some clues to the reason for the Lion's absence. A reliable source has been quoted as saying that there was a gathering of some size in the Lion's den last night, and that the activities lasted well into the morning.

Rumors are circulating to the effect that the Lion was seen at the head of a procession of animals early this morning, headed in the direction of Bellefonte.

University hospital officials have been alerted, on the chance that the Lion may be in need of emergency treatment for exposure when he returns to campus.

WDFM to Present Don Early Quartet

The Don Early quartet will be presented from 8 to 8:30 tonight on "Hubzapoppin'" over radio station WDFM.

The student program is broadcast live from the Hetzel Union assembly room every Saturday night.

Featured on this week's show will be Early on bongoes; Toby Janowitz, drum; Clarence Rodgers, bass; and Stan Michalak, piano.

The Continentals, a rhythm and blues vocal quartet, will also be presented.

The show is produced and broadcast by station WDFM. It will be tape recorded and re-broadcast over WMAJ after the basketball game.

The original Old Willow was blown down during a storm in 1922.

Tells AIM Board
The student told the AIM board he was given the beer and didn't want to be seen carrying it outside the dormitory.

Three other freshmen received office probation for the remainder of the academic semester after a counselor discovered nine empty beer cans in a student's room.

In a fourth case, letters will be sent to the parents of four freshmen discovered drinking in one of the student's rooms.

Denied Entrance
The students, drinking while playing cards, at first refused to admit a counselor who demanded entrance. All received office probation, two received indefinite board probation and two indefinite judicial probation.

In other case the subcommittee on discipline, following a recommendation by the AIM board, gave indefinite disciplinary probation and indefinite judicial probation to a sophomore and two freshmen discovered drinking in a Pollock dormitory.

According to an AIM board member and a member of the subcommittee, the students received disciplinary probation for a poor attitude toward the incident.

Letters will be sent to the parents of the students.

University Reactor Subject of Article

The underwater lights used in the Research Reactor at the University are the subject of an article in the October issue of Nucleonics.

The article, entitled "Underwater Lights for a Pool-type Research Reactor," was written by Clyde J. R. Witman, instructor in industrial engineering; Robert G. Cochran, acting director of the Research Reactor Project; and R. D. Rung, of Curtiss-Wright Corp., Quehanna.

Behind the FMA Question

FMA Membership Considered by 16

Second of a Series

Sixteen non-member fraternities have indicated a willingness to join the Fraternity Marketing Association for at least a semester if all other fraternities would take the same action, according to an Interfraternity Council survey.

But the survey, embodied in an IFC report on the association, said that most fraternity men "are not interested in where their food comes from just as long as they eat."

A committee headed by IFC Vice President Howard F. Thompson interviewed the caterers or presidents of 49 houses in an effort to determine how many fraternities would be willing to join FMA provisionally and the reasoning behind their decision.

Only four of the representatives of the 20 non-member houses contacted said they would not join the association under any condition. Twenty-nine fraternities surveyed already belonged to FMA.

The report said an "abundance of money in fraternity houses" is hampering the association and recommended continuation of FMA and greater education concerning the joint-buying program.

It blamed "complete ignorance of the FMA plan" and "no particular interest in saving money" for the indifference found among non-member fraternities.

The report also called for presentation to the IFC of a motion concerning cooperative buying in general. A motion favoring a joint-buying program in principle was approved at the council's last meeting 39-2.

The report concludes that FMA can continue to operate as in the past and "still gain momentum," but that a need exists "for a general shaping up of fraternity treasurers, presidents, and caterers."

"They don't know where their money goes and they don't care," it said.

Women students at the University were first permitted to attend an "away" football game in 1899.

Thesis Production Tryouts to Begin

Tryouts for the thesis production "The Enchanted" by Jean Giraudoux will be held at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow and 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Green Room of Schwab Auditorium.

"The Enchanted" will open as an arena production Feb. 8 at Center Stage for a two-week run. It will be directed by Ruth Yeaton, graduate student in theatre arts from State College.

Parts are available for eight males and three females. Previous acting experience is not needed. The only requirement is that the lead female be more than 5 feet 3 inches tall.

Classes at the University in 1859 started at 6 a.m., immediately after devotionals and breakfast.
