

DU, OPsiPhi Fighters Highlight IM Competition; Six Others Earn Wins

John Maher, a 128-pound Delta Upsilon, and Arnie Roane, a 145-pound Omicron Psi Phi, proved to be the top contenders in their classes when they easily outclassed their opponents on the eight-match Intramural boxing card last night.

Another outstanding fighter, 175-pound Dick Muller from Kappa Delta Rho, appeared to be en route to a win but was stopped over the protests of the crowd when he developed a nose injury.

In the 135-pound class Bill McCann, Theta Chi, decisioned Denny Bowen, Kappa Delta Rho; and John Meisel, Lambda Chi Alpha, decisioned Gerry Smith, Phi Sigma Kappa; in the 155-pound class Tom Geanopulos, Acacia, defeated Larry Kramer, Phi Epsilon Pi and Clair Heckathorn, Tau Kappa Epsilon, stopped George Hawk, Theta Xi.

In the 165-division Tom Lozaw, Delta Sigma Phi, decisioned Ted Schultz, Delta Upsilon.

Maher, with a high, nearly-impregnable guard and a pair of lightning-fast fists, forced Jim Coleman, Theta Chi, to backpedal for all three rounds.

After Maher made Coleman's hit-and-run attack more of a miss-and-get-hit proposition, Referee Frank Patrick stopped the one-sided action in the final frame.

Roane, making his second start of the tournament, parried with Falk Kanter, Phi Epsilon Pi, for a round before flashing a Floyd Patterson leaping-left hook stopping the fight. Roane was very impressive with his accurate, poised punching.

Muller, the unlucky 175-pounder, pleased the large turnout with a series of heavy blows aimed at Jack Ruskak, Delta Sigma Phi. Ruskak was backed up consistently but managed to hit Muller at the end of round one. As a result

Olympic Lead Growing Slim

MELBOURNE, Wednesday, Dec. 5 (AP)—The United States, its cascade of Gold Medals dwindling to a meager trickle, sends two teen-age swimming stars—Carin Cone and Shelley Mann—out after possible championships today to stem a late points rush by Soviet Russia in the fading stages of the Olympic games.

Miss Cone, a 16-year-old high school whiz from Ridgewood, N.J., is conceded a good chance in the 100 meters backstroke finals although two British girls, Margaret Edwards and Judy Grinham, had slightly better qualifying times.

Versatile Miss Mann, 19, of Arlington, Va., is a stout favorite in the 100-meter butterfly after leading the qualifying trials in the record-shattering time of 1:11.4.

Meanwhile, preliminary diving begins in the men's platform competition with three yanks expected to dominate—Gary Tobian and Bill Farrell, both of Los Angeles, and Dick Connor of Pasadena, California.

In other venues, Russia can be expected to fatten its point total and push closer to America in the unofficial race for team honors.

With three more days of competition remaining, the U.S., which won 15 Gold Medals in men's track and field for the greatest victory in the history of the modern games, held a slight lead over the Russians.
