

Cagers at W. Va.

The Penn State basketball team plays its second consecutive away game against a major collegiate cage power tonight when it meets West Virginia at Morgantown. The Lions will be looking for their third win of the season. They have lost one, a 66-60 decision to North Carolina State last weekend.

Coach John Egli said yesterday that he planned to take the same 10 men to Morgantown that he did to Raleigh. This means that Ron Rainey, Steve Baidy, Captain Bob Leisher, Bob Ramsay, Carm Palmiero, Greg Schwendeman, Tom Hancock, Rod Perry, Ted Kubista, and Bob Edwards will dress for the Mountaineer game.

KDR Cops 3rd Straight Cage Win

By BOB GULLO

A runaway win by defending champion Kappa Delta Rho over Phi Sigma Delta highlighted Intramural Basketball action Monday night.

KDR, holding a halftime lead of 28-13, scored its third straight win when it routed Phi Sigma Delta, 48-26, as Billy Kane dumped 16 points, and teammates Dan Radakovich and Jack Arnst accounted for 25 more tallies. Fred Trust was high man for the losers, scoring 10 points.

In other fraternity games, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Acacia, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Kappa, and Delta Sigma Phi all emerged victorious.

Maurice Schleicher and Ken Fasick, who each scored eight points, led Sigma Phi Epsilon to a 27-16 win over Alpha Zeta; and Acacia dumped Tau Phi Delta, 22-11.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, paced by Mike Walsh's 10 points, dropped Phi Delta Theta, 20-12. Phi Kappa held a five point lead at half-time and went on to win by the same margin, 22-17. Andy Toman and Dennis Uhrin each contributed seven points to the Phi Kappa cause. Delta Sigma Phi nosed out Chi Phi, 24-22, as Heubel topped the scoring with 12 points.

In three independent games, all winners were representatives of Nittany, as the Nittany Tigers, Nittany 31, and Nittany 43 all recorded wins.

Ray Peil and Walt Voigt scored nine points each for the Tigers, as they humbled the Shantytown Nine, 23-13. Lou Chillot, who sank 12 points, led Nittany 31 to a 25-27 victory over the Drunks. Jerry Abraczinakas topped Drunk scoring with eight. The other Nittany triumph came to Nittany 43 when it took a forfeit from the Ramblers.

Mounties Cite Seven Gridders

Three Lion football players—guard Sam Valentine, quarterback Milt Plum, and tackle Walt Mazur—were chosen on the West Virginia all-opponent team, according to a release received from Morgantown yesterday.

The Mountaineers, beaten by the Lions 16-6, picked tackle Sam Calderone, guard Dick DeLuca, and halfback Billy Kane on the second team, while center Dan Radakovich was a third team choice.

Mazur also received an additional honor this week when he was chosen to represent the Lions in the Senior Bowl game Jan. 6, at Montgomery, Alabama.

Hosterman's Mark OK

Ken Hosterman, youthful soccer coach who drew the unenviable assignment of succeeding the fabulous Bill Jeffrey at Penn State, is doing all right by himself. Unbeaten two of four seasons, his teams own an over-all record of 30 wins, 4 defeats, 1 tie.

Egli expects to use his regular starting lineup of Rainey and Palmiero at forward, Ramsay at center, and Leisher and Baidy at guard. Palmiero, however, is suffering from a cold and may not be ready to start tonight. Unless his cold grows worse, he will definitely dress for the game, Egli said.

If Palmiero is not fit to start, Egli said he would use either Hancock or Edwards in his place. Hancock also has a slight cold but is expected to be ready at game time.

The Lions went through two light practices Monday and Tuesday nights to rest from the grueling trip to and from NC State. To add to Egli's woes, the game was played in 90-degree temperature and the team seemed to be slightly tired Monday night.

Egli said that he will probably play a cautious, "feel-em" out type of a game at first and increase the pace as the game progresses. His offense will depend on the West Virginia defense.

The Mountaineers are led by "Hot-Rod" Hundley, the "clown prince of collegiate basketball." Hundley, a pre-season All-America choice on practically every poll taken, can do almost anything with a basketball except make it talk, and holds six West Virginia cage records—points scored in a career, career point average, points scored in a season, field goals in a season, free throws in a season, and point average for a season.

He won numerous All-American honors in his two years of varsity ball, although most of his acclaim has come from his antics during the late stages of a game. However, as most Mountaineer opponents realize, he is one of the best in the game when he plays serious ball because of his scoring, ball-handling, and rebounding skill.

Bob Smith, 6-4 sophomore, is expected to join Hundley at starting forward, although he lacks game experience. Coach Fred Schraus considers him to be one of the Mountaineers' best rebounders and ball-handlers.

Lloyd Sharrar, 6-10 junior, will handle the West Virginia pivot chores. Sharrar, the tallest man on the squad, averaged 10-points per game last year, although he averaged only 23 minutes in playing time.

Clayce Kishbaugh, 6-2 senior co-captain along with Hundley, and Joey Gardner, 6-0 junior, are expected to open at guard. Letterman Don Vincent is another guard possibility.

West Virginia won both games against the Lions last year, 81-79 at Morgantown and 76-73 here.

"HOT ROD" HUNDLEY, whom experts say is the number one clown of basketball and one of the best players in the game, will be the man the Lions will have to check tonight at Morgantown.

Aces, Termites Remain Tied in Bowling Lead

The Aces, refusing to give ground to the Termites, barely nosed out Hamilton 6 and kept the Independent Bowling league a lead deadlocked.

The Termites turned back Jordan 2 in a strong bid for undisputed possession of first place, but the Aces came back and squeezed past Hamilton 6 to crush the Termites' hopes for the lead.

The Holy Rollers set back the Sleepers, the Bowlovers beat the UPO's, and the GDI's downed Pollock 11 in other league A activity. A scheduled Nittany 31 vs Ten Pins contest was dropped when both teams forfeited.

The four shutouts were recorded by Nittany 36 over the Nittany Glassers, The Gutterballers over Timmy's, The Dark Horses over RAR, and the Oddballs over Pollock 12.

Nittany 23 took a close one from McKee 5, 3-1, 2004-2000, and The Atherton Me downed the Seven Tens, 3-1, 1926-1838.
