Sykes Chosen to Receive APhiO Service Award

Clarence M. "Dutch" Sykes, assistant director of intramural athletics, has been selected to receive the Distinguished Service Award given by Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity.

The award is given to the member of the faculty or administration who in the opinion of an APhiO selecting committee has contributed most to the University in addition to the work which his job requires.

Sykes came to the University in 1936 and since then has helped build one of the biggest and best intramural programs in the country.

He spends an average of 15 hours a day at his job, and han-

Search Held For Missing Deer Hunter

A 40-year-old man lost in the woods near Whipple Dam while hunting for deer was the object of a search last night by about 25 state policemen and members of Alpha Fire Company.

The hunter, Frank Hoffmire, Gap RD 2, became lost while hunting with two other men in that vicinity. He was last seen about 3 p.m. yesterday when he left his companions to hunt in the Bell Ridge area, about eight miles from Whipple Dam.

The other two men in the hunting trio were Kermit Good, 25, Coatesville, and George Morrison, 37, Atglen.

The men said they had arranged to meet Hoffmire at their car at about 5 p.m. but that he did not show up. They searched the area for about four hours, they said, and then notified the State College fire police, who sounded a distress alarm at 10 last night.

Forest Ranger Ralph Park assisted in the search.

The search for Hoffmire was still in progress when The Daily Collegian went to press last night. Further details were not obtainable.

Parking Survey To Be Aired

George Britton, of the State Highways Department, will explain the 1954 campus parking survey at an open meeting at 7 tonight in the Board Room of Old Main.

The survey, made by the department in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, is analyzed in an 11-page report recently received by the University.

Britton has previously said that the report shows the campus parking problem to be one of distribution, rather than a lack of space. An excess of demand over supply exists near the center of the campus, but the situation is reversed around its edges, he said.

Lantern Circulation Staff

Members and new candidates of the Lantern circulation staff will meet at 7:15 tonight in 209 Hetzel Union.

The Lantern will go on sale Jan. 7. Contents will include poetry, fiction, short stories and sketches.

C. M. "Dutch" Sykes
Receives APhiO Award

dles well over 3000 athletic contests every year.

The Distinguished Service Award will be presented to Sykes at a dinner dance for Alpha Phi Omega and Gamma Sigma, women's service fraternity, at 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

At the banquet, Glen Elder, APhiO president, will award Sykes an honorary membership in the organization and a silver service key.

His name will be engraved on a plaque which will be placed in the HUB.

Speaker at the dinner will be Sidney North, national executive secretary of APhiO. He will speak on the services performed by APhiO organizations.

Newly elected APhiO officers for next semester will be introduced at the banquet. They include the following:

John Hunt, president; Paul Johnston, first vice president; John Lohman, second vice president; Thomas Spring, third vice president; Harry Kitzinger, treasurer.

Robert Koehler, recording secretary; Edward Springman, corresponding secretary; Benjamin Petersohn, alumni secretary; Tho-

Cabinet to Air Plan On Test Exemptions

The All-University Cabinet will start work tonight on a plan to exempt eighth semester seniors from final examinations when Joseph Hartnett, chairman of the committee working on a plan, will present his committee's report.

Seniors graduating in January will probably not be affected by the exemption since the procedure required for the administration's approval may take several months, some members of the Cabinet have estimated.

Most of the time will probably be spent waiting for action by the University Senate after it passes the Cabinet.

The Senior Class Advisory Board has interviewed faculty members and administrative officers to determine their opinions on the finals exemption.

Exemptions Favored

The board has said that many of those interviewed were in favor of the exemption.

One member of the board, Curtin Schafer, senior in business administration from Gibsonia, said that chances for the exemption look good since most of the persons interviewed gave their own opinions without consulting others.

Wait for Senate Approval

Edward Redfield, chairman of the board, said the next step the board will take will be to get the approval of the University Senate for the exemption. He estimated this will take from two to three months.

Arguments they will use in favor of the exemption are that it will be an incentive to students to keep their grades high throughout the semester, and that it will reward students for maintaining high averages if it applies to only those holding a "B" average or better.

It would also give the faculty members more time to process grades at the end of the semester.

The Supreme Court issue will not come up before the Cabinet tonight. All-University President Robert Bahrenburg said the committee report on the Court has not been completed.

Resolution to Be Proposed

Lawrence McCabe, co-ordinator for the National Student Association, will introduce a resolution asking that the University's Student Government Association offer its help to the students of Hungary who are revolting against communism.

The resolution does not say what kind of help should be offered.

Other committee reports the Cabinet will hear are those of the publicity committee, by Edward Long, junior in arts and letters from Wanamie, and the NSA report on its regional assembly at West Virginia University on Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2.

Clouds, Froth Disgust Lion

An extremely disgusted Nittany Lion observed the ominous clouds hovering over University Park this morning as he stepped outside his den for a few minutes to burn his latest issue of Froth, which has been cluttering up his den — unread — for the past few weeks.

After accomplishing this, he solemnly crept back into his den to read his soft-bound edition of the student directory.

Either rain or snow is expected in the area tonight, depending upon the temperature.

Last night's low was predicted to be about 20 degrees and today's high is expected to be about 35 degrees.

Conflict Filing Deadline Set

Saturday is the last day to file final examination conflicts at the scheduling office in Willard Hall.

Walker Cites Need To Expand Facilities

ALTOONA, Dec. 12—By 1970 the nation's colleges and universities must provide for a 100 per cent enrollment increase and raise faculty salaries 70 per cent, Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of the University, said here tonight.

Speaking before the Blair County branch of the Pennsylvania Economy League, Dr. Walker said such a jump in enrollment is necessary to help provide the adequate supply of "brain power" which the country lacks today.

He said the faculty salary increase is needed "simply to keep our professors abreast of our economy," and indicated that salaries would need to be tripled to compare favorably with Russian teachers' pay.

Shortage Not Being Met

Dr. Walker said the growing population and the increasing percentage of high school graduates enrolling in colleges will not meet the brain power shortage. He said: "The problem can be solved—and it must be solved, if our economic systems, our social structure, and our ability to withstand national enemies are to survive—only by taking immediate and drastic steps."

Many Scholarships Needed

Between 60,000 and 100,000 college scholarships would be necessary to reclaim the 100,000 high school graduates capable of completing college who cannot continue their education for financial reasons, he said.

To reclaim an additional 100,000 who fail to achieve a higher education because of a lack of motivation, Dr. Walker outlined a need for proper teaching and counseling facilities, including long-range programs to increase teachers' salaries, and to improve buildings and facilities and up-to-date school programs.

"We will have to construct as many buildings in the next few years," he said, "as were built in the past 300 years in America."

Urges 'Improved Efficiency'

To solve the immediate problem, Dr. Walker advocated improved efficiency on the part of professional people, accomplished through programs such as the University's engineering science curriculum, two-year higher education courses, and better teaching.

TIM Postpones Reorganization Of Constitution

The reorganization of the Town Independent Men was delayed last night as the motion for the reorganization amendments was tabled until the next meeting.

The amendments include: "A council of 26 men will be established. Members of this council will be nominated by a petition signed by 20 Town Independent Men. Elections of these men will be held by open ballot. Representatives-at-large to the Association of Independent Men board of governors shall be those men receiving the highest number of votes."

Trial Basis

The amendments, if approved, will go into effect on a trial basis for the spring semester.

According to the amendments, the last meeting of the spring semester will be open to all TIM members, who will have full voting privileges at that time. They will evaluate the proposed TIM Council by voting for accepting or rejecting it permanently.

A two-thirds majority vote will be needed at that time to make the amendments permanent.

Gift Appropriation

The group appropriated $25 to give "in some form" to needy children for Christmas. A committee was appointed to decide in what form to give this gift.

Open nominations were held for one additional representative to the AIM board of governors. Additional nominations will be heard at the next meeting. Voting will be held at that time.

Leaders Agree to Strengthen NATO

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—North Atlantic Alliance leaders agreed tentatively today to strengthen the treaty organization with wider political and economic powers.

But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles served notice that the United States reserves full freedom of action in defense of its vital interests without consulting its NATO allies in advance.

Endorse Recommendations

A spokesman for the conference of NATO foreign ministers said they endorsed the outlines of recommendations by Halvard Lange of Norway, Gaetano Martino of Italy and Lester B. Pearson of Canada, members of a committee who have been studying political and economic possibilities for NATO.

But, the spokesman said, action on their recommendations was delayed by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano, who said they wanted to submit amendments.

Consultation 'Unfair'

A high NATO source said Dulles told the 14 other foreign ministers of NATO member countries it would be unfair to the 30 other nations with which the United States has mutual defense pacts if Washington could not act in other parts of the world without consulting NATO.

The report by Lange, Martino and Pearson—called NATO's "Three Wise Men"—recommended that "before any new policy is adopted which might affect NATO, or a political pronouncement is made, there should be consultations."

Dulles Urges Adoption

Dulles, the sources said, told the closed ministerial meeting he approved of this principle and hoped it would be adopted. But, if taken literally, Dulles continued, this and another sentence stating "there cannot be unity in defense and disunity in foreign policy" both go too far.

Diplomats in the meeting were quick to point out that Dulles' statement appeared likely to cause a protest in view of U.S. resentment when Britain and France took military action against Egypt without prior consultation with the United States or any other NATO member.
