

Cager Loss a Lesson? Colgate 'Test' Will Tell

Nittany cage Coach John Egli is hoping that Wednesday night's loss to West Virginia taught his team a well-deserved lesson: it must play its own type of game if it expects to win, especially on a foreign court.

With tomorrow night's game against Colgate at Recreation Hall next on tap for the hoopsters, the Lion mentor feels that his team must profit by its mistake if it expects to get back on the winning path.

One of the big Lion shortcomings at Morgantown was that the cagers tried to play West Virginia's running style of game rather than their own possession type of ball.

The result: West Virginia successfully converted Lion mistakes into baskets to win rather handily. This was especially true in the opening minutes of the second half when the victors increased their lead to 12 points, all but clinching the victory.

Egli did say, however, that the Lions kept battling all the way in spite of the strong West Virginia lead. This was probably the only consolation he gained all night.

In order to prepare for the Red Raiders, Egli said that he would run his team through its offensive patterns without any dribbling. The early Mountaineer second half surge resulted from Lion dribbling instead of passing.

Colgate promises to provide the Lions with creditable opposition—not as tough as West Virginia or N.C. State, however. Headed by three-year veteran Jack Nichols, the Red Raiders have six lettermen back for another year of competition.

Bill Allen, Phil Bisselle, Russ Brummer, Don Burke and Bob Giordano are, along with Nichols, Colgate's only seasoned performers. Giordano is the team captain.

Nichols, a 6-4 senior, scored 589 points last year—a new Colgate single-season scoring record—in leading the Red Raiders to an 18-9 season mark. The Lions split their two games with Colgate last year, winning 83-75 at Rec Hall and losing 72-64 away.

Due to a lack of height, Nichols has been switched from forward to center to add more punch to the Red Raider offense. Height is Coach Howard Hartman's biggest problem.

The Lion-Colgate contest will follow the Lion-Colgate wrestling match at 7 p.m.

Delta Upsilon Holds Fraternity Ring Lead

By LES POWELL

Delta Upsilon continued to hold the top spot in fraternity boxing standings, as Paul North's forfeit win over Jake Shook, Phi Kappa Sigma, boosted the DU point total to 45.

Theta Kappa Phi ranks second with 40 points; Sigma Phi Epsilon third with 35 points; and Phi Sigma Kappa fourth with 30 points.

A record-smashing, 14-second finish highlighted last night's quarterfinal action. George Sullivan, Beaver House, stopped Ray Flint, Theta Kappa Phi, to lower the 15-second mark set last week by North. Referee Frank Patrick halted the 165-pound bout after Sullivan sent Flint to the canvas with a solid left hook to the head.

Dan Land, Sigma Nu, completely outclassed Bill Scott, Phi Kappa Psi, knocking his taller opponent down with a short right to the jaw in the opening round of a 128-pound match. The bout was stopped after Land floored Scott with a right uppercut in the third round.

Mike Vignola, Phi Mu Delta, displayed an aggressive, two-handed attack in beating Charles Myers, Delta Sigma Phi. He won the first round handily, landing a solid combination to Myers' head, and kept his rival off balance during the second stanza. Myers came on string early in the third, but Vignola held the upper hand as the 155-pound fight ended.

Chuck Zandt, Lambda Chi Alpha, also faced a taller foe in Tony Rotell, Phi Kappa Sigma, but dominated the action throughout a 121-pound thriller. He scored well with combinations to the body in the initial round, and with left hooks to the head in the second. In the final stanza he had Rotell on the ropes with a flurry of blows to the head.

In a 145-pound encounter, Bill Reilly, Delta Tau Delta, took a decision from Ken Todd, Phi Delta Theta, by virtue of a right uppercut to the jaw and a solid right to the head in the last round of a close fight.

Joe Gamble, Phi Kappa Sigma, stopped Dave Bucke, Delta Chi, in a free-swinging 175-pound bout. Gamble landed several combinations to the head in the first round. The fight was stopped in the second, although Bucke forced the action, as Gamble both out-punched and outboxed his opponent.

John Bittinger, Chi Phi, decided George Maier, Alpha Chi Sigma, in a close 135-pounder. Both boys scored well with combinations during the fight, but Bittinger held the edge in infighting to cop the decision.

In an Indie 128-pound fight, Dave Patterson defeated Bill Sullivan, holding the infighting advantage in the first round and landing several good shots to the head in the second.

Herb Hayes garnered a win over Tom Rathmell when the

(Continued on page eight)

Gnarps Take Cage Lead

The Gnarps took over undisputed first place in the B League of the independent intramural basketball program Wednesday night when they beat Aiche, 24-15, in the Recreation Hall courts.

Sigma Chi remained undefeated in three outings and tied for the lead in the F league of the fraternity basketball program by virtue of a 38-18 triumph over Beaver House. Jim Keith with 13 markers and Phil Reese with 10 points spearheaded Sigma Chi.

Ramon Casey, Jordan Two, led his team to the League A leadership by tossing in 22 points in a 32-13 win over Watts Hall.

With four boys scoring six points or more, the Pugh Street Cats defeated the Red Knights, 29-11. Korfman scored 7 points, while Clinnard, Croft and Dragan swished the cords for 6 points each to keep the Cats in first place of League A.

The Terrapins upset the Wesley Five, 28-26, to hand the Wesley Five its first loss in six games.

In the second fraternity contest of the night, Theta Chi copped its second win when it downed Phi Mu Delta, 23-13. Ed Rhoads with 10 points and Jim Starr with 6 led the victors.

The Hungry Five trounced the Campus Trotters, 30-8. Snyder tossed in 13 points to pace the winners.

The Bullets shot ahead early in the game to go on to defeat the Shuffleboards, 22-13. It was the Bullets' first win in five games while the Shuffleboards are winless. Straiter scored 10 points for the Bullets.

Also winning their first game of the season were the Green-smokers, who posted a 40-23 win over the Geeche Birds. Peharek with 10 points and Pivik with 9 markers led the winners. Tom Allshouse dropped in 16 points for the losers.

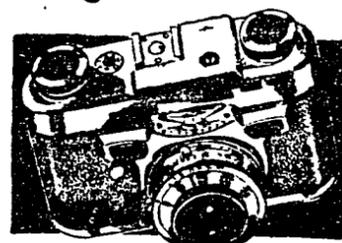

Five Fraternities Score Victories In IM Bowling

The fraternity "B" bowling league results on Wednesday night showed shutout victories by Delta Chi and Alpha Sigma Phi, and four 3-1 wins posted by Theta Chi, Alpha Chi Sigma, Kappa Sigma and Triangle.

Delta Chi defeated Sigma Chi, 4-0; Alpha Sig Phi dropped Phi Mu Delta, 4-0; Theta Chi tripped Phi Kappa, 3-1; Alpha Chi Sig downed Delta Theta Sigma, 3-1; Kappa Sigma toppled Phi Epsilon Pi, 3-1; and Triangle defeated Alpha Epsilon Pi, 3-1.

Kappa Sigma's Jim Adams bowled the highest single game score, 220, and Joe Meredith, Delta Chi, posted the top three game tally, 523 points. Rolling the most number of points for a single game was Kappa Sigma with 846.

THE Perfect LAY-AWAY for Christmas

GRAPHIC® 35 with PUSH-BUTTON FOCUSING CAMERA; CASE & FLASH ONLY $8950

Pay 10% down — Low mo. payments EXTRA HIGH TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE

CENTRE COUNTY FILM LABORATORY 122 W. Beaver Ave.

PENN STATE'S OWN WIZARD of KDR APPEARING AUTOPORT This Weekend

The AUTOPORT HOTEL by arrangement with the WIZARD, will be very pleased to have him perform for you the famous "Three Shell Game." The next time you see this clever entertainer whether at Alpha Sigma Phi or Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, stop and ask him to demonstrate the "Old Army Shell Game." You'll be amazed.

Possessed of a remarkable pair of hands the WIZARD'S skill can be greatly appreciated when seen at close quarters.

So this Friday bring your date out to the Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity House where you will see and hear amidst fluttering cards, disappearing coins, and baffling handkerchiefs, that sly query "Did you see me do something?—Well I did do something—For I want you to remember this the rest of your life"—and you will too.

The Freshman class always have a standing invitation to come out to see the WIZARD perform at the Kappa Delta Rho Fraternity where you'll find the greatest guy in the world is a KDR at Penn State.

oooooooooooooooooooo

All of the WIZARD is startling — gripping — unaccountable

oo

The WIZARD has finished successful appearances in the finest hotels and supper clubs in Pennsylvania.

- *Fred Waring's—Shawnee Inn
*Bellevue Stratford—Phila.
*Ben Franklin Hotel—Phila.

Alan Paine

IMPORTED SHETLANDS

Men in the Know want the real thing when it comes to Shetland Crewneck Sweaters. You can be sure your gift is right if you select one of these handsome pullovers—especially made for us in England by Alan Paine. See our large array of pleasing colors.

$11.95

Gift Wrapping Mailing Service Available

Kalin's MEN'S STORE STATE COLLEGE