State Budget Expected in Ten Days

Gov. George M. Leader's budget for the biennium 1957 to '59 is expected to be completed within ten days, Dr. John H. Ferguson, secretary of administration, told the Associated Press yesterday.

When the Governor presents it to the Legislature after New Year's Day the University's budget request for the next two years will be revealed. President Eric A. Walker has declined to say what the University's budget request will be but it is believed the University is seeking more than $30 million.

Dr. Ferguson, a former professor of political science at the University, said the State budget will list specific expenditures with detailed breakdowns for the first time.

Capitol Hill observers estimate that it will be in the neighborhood of $2 billion.

The Governor has promised to submit the budget early in the legislative session beginning New Year's Day.

The only figure in the University budget request the President has revealed is $100,000 to be used for research in the humanities.

The University requested $25,194,000 in 1954. It was granted by the Legislature after months of delay when the General Assembly became bogged down in a disagreement over a tax program.

Increases for teachers' salaries received chief consideration by President Walker when he drew up the budget request for the coming biennium, he said.

To raise teachers' salaries one per cent, the President has said, would take an additional appropriation of "one third of a million dollars."

Wilder to Read Dickens' Work

The University Christian Association, the Belles Lettres Club, and the Speech Department will sponsor a reading of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" by Jon Barry Wilder, a third semester speech and theatre arts major at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the Memorial Lounge of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

The reading is open to the public.

Wilder is known for his characterizations as the character Face in Jonson's play "The Alchemist," the title role in Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya," and the duo reading of "Amphitryon 38" and "Aria da Capo," which he presented for the Intercollegiate Reading Festival group.

This fall Wilder was co-director of the Thespian show "Hat in the Ring." At present he is rehearsing for the Inspector's part in Giradoux' "The Enchanted."

Public May Obtain Athletic Tickets

A block of 300 tickets will be made available to the general public for indoor winter athletic events.

The tickets will be placed on sale an hour and a half prior to each home event at the main ticket windows.

This block of tickets, athletic officials pointed out, will be made available as a gesture of good-will to the general public.

For single events, the tickets are priced at one dollar each. For double-header events, the price will be $1.50.

University Prohibits Sewage Pollution

The University issued a stern directive yesterday designed to avert another incident of contamination by the dumping of poisonous waste products into the University sewage system.

The directive was recommended by the 8-man-committee created by President Eric A. Walker to investigate the poisoning of 175,000 trout two weeks ago in Spring Creek.

The directive forbids the dumping of "chemicals, oils, toxics, or unknowns" into University drains without supervisory approval.

President Walker signed it and it went into effect immediately.

Recommends Directive
The directive was the first recommendation by the President's special committee, which is seeking measures to prevent further dumpings of toxic substances such as the sodium cyanide solution which caused the fish killings.

The committee met yesterday and discussed measures for indoctrinating new personnel, methods for controlling dumping procedures of waste chemicals, and a system for obtaining consultation service on dumping problems.

The committee also discussed the posting of additional warning signs in laboratories, and an inventory review of chemicals.

More Meetings Scheduled
The committee will hold further meetings to review the effectiveness of safety measures now in use and consider other ways and means of increasing the effectiveness of the dumping program.

R. Rupert Kountz, professor of sanitary engineering, was named technical consultant to the committee. He will approve the dumping of waste products when any department head is not certain that the dumping is safe.

Other members of the committee are Dean Ossian R. MacKenzie, special assistant to the President; A. H. Holtzinger, director of the chemistry laboratories; Frank F. Morris, director of the Department of Personnel Services; Harold J. Read, professor of physical metallurgy; Donald V. Josephson, head of the dairy science department; Arthur T. Thompson, assistant director of the Ordnance Research Laboratory; and Walter H. Wiegand, director of physical plant.

its charter and official papers from Harrisburg. All past activities have been informal.

Herbert R. Imbt, chairman of the authority, said this week the authority would immediately begin steps designed to lead to construction of an all-weather airport in the State College vicinity.

Meeting Open to All

Imbt said tonight's meeting would be open to the public and suggestions or criticisms which would help in the building of an airport would be welcomed.

The immediate steps expressed by Imbt are as follows:

Notify the Civil Aeronautics Administration of intent to build so State College may be included in the National Airport Plan.

Consult with CAA and Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission engineers on size and plan.

Conduct a study of need and potential of an airport.

Select a site and draw up a master plan.

Determine the method of local financing to meet State College's 25 per cent of the cost.

Apply for 50 per cent of the cost from the Federal Government and 25 per cent from the State Government.

"Naturally these are broad, generalized steps," Imbt said, "and each requires extensive leg-work on our part."

In our unofficial status during the past few weeks, we've tried to start the ball rolling by contacting many of the people necessary, and telling them of our intentions.

Response Gratifying

Imbt said he was gratified by the response, because many people have indicated their sympathies with the project and their willingness to help. He said, "I can only assume that State College really wants and needs an airport."

The authority is currently considering seven possible sites for such an airport. Six of these are recommended in a report by the Aviation Committee of the State College Area Chamber of Commerce in March 1952, and the seventh is the present lack Moshannon Airport, recommended by the Philipsburg Chamber of Commerce.

The six in the State College Chamber report are the present State College Air Depot, a location at Pine Hall, one at Scotia, two near Boogersburg and one near Houserville.

ChemPhys Group to Air Proposed Aid to Lantern

The Chemistry and Physics Student Council will decide whether or not to allot money to the Lantern, University literary magazine, at 7 tonight in 209 Hetzel Union.

The council will also discuss the possibility of holding an inter-college mixer with the College of Education. The mixer, if held, will be one of the first inter-college affairs ever held at the University.
