Delta Sigma Phi Third; Finals Tomorrow Night

Paul North and Joe Sabol finally fought their long-awaited duel in last night's Intramural boxing semifinals at Recreation Hall.

North was tangling with 175-pounds of dynamite, but he managed to come out on top. The victory, combined with heavyweight Jim Lockerman's triumph, kept Delta Upsilon in a dead-heat with Theta Kappa Phi for the fraternity lead, each showing 55 points.

Delta Sigma Phi's George Hunter won a close decision from Bill Reilly, of Delta Tau Delta, to keep Delta Sig breathing down the pace-setter's backs with 50 points.

The finals will be fought at Rec Hall at 8:15 Wednesday night when the four independent and nine fraternity entries square off.

If noise is any criteria, the North-Sabol fight was the big one of the evening, with the 500-plus crowd on its feet screaming wildly throughout most of the bout.

North was the aggressor and had a lot of success with a left jab that loosened up the loser in many instances. Sabol got in a few flurries, but North had a little too much of everything and took the decision.

Lockerman followed North with a win over Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Russ Mandeville in the heavyweight bout. Lockerman used a crouch defense to counteract the big Mandeville's powerful swings. The winner held the upper hand most of the way, Mandeville scoring solidly only once.

Theta Kappa Phi's 135-pounder, John Heffron, brought home five points with a decision over John Bittinger, Chi Phi. Heffron played the role of the attacker in winning over the tough Bittinger.

Delta Sig's Hunter was hard-pressed through the first two rounds, but landed a hard right which led to eventual triumph. Reilly was scoring well with short jabs early in the match, but appeared dazed after Hunter's punch.

Ralph Brower, Alpha Sigma Phi, advanced to the finals of

Triangle Ties for Lead

Triangle fraternity gained a first place tie in League E Friday night by copping a 22-17 triumph over Beta Sigma Rho on the Recreation Hall floor. Dick Bunn led the victors with eight points.

In other fraternity cage tilts Pi Kappa Alpha trounced Kappa Sigma, 22-8, Theta Kappa Phi ran over Alpha Phi Delta, 47-20, and Theta Delta Chi edged Phi Sigma Delta, 26-24.

Pi Kappa Alpha's triumph was spearheaded by Bill McDade's six points while Theta Kappa Phi's rout was due mainly to Bob Olseski's 14 points. Jim Olexa was high man for Theta Delta Chi, dumping in 10 counters.

The most exciting game of the evening was in an independent contest between Irvin Hall and the Black Knights.

With the score tied at 32-all at the completion of the regular time, the two teams went into overtime.

The ice broke when the Black Knights went ahead by a foul shot, only to have Irvin Hall's Ron Burdette score the winning basket for a 33-32 triumph.

In the other overtime game of the evening the Bulls scored a 36-34 win over Hamilton 5 despite Trig Rohrbach's 18 points for the losers.

The Tribe moved up into a second place tie in League C as the result of their 27-15 win over the Co-ops.

The Dutchmen took advantage of a 15-5 halftime lead and went on to defeat the Panthers, 31-8. Pete Lanza hit the net for 9 points in leading the victors.

The other scheduled game saw the Zips win by forfeit over the Rebels.

THE GIFT HORSE

The college life is a busy one, especially at this time of year. What with going to classes and studying for exams and pursuing a full social schedule and constructing rope ladders to foil dormitory curfews, the average undergrad is so pressed for time that he cannot do justice to his Christmas shopping.

Therefore, to aid you in your Christmas shopping, I have gone into the market place and selected for you a list of gifts, notable for their originality.

Perhaps the most original gift of all this year is a carton of Philip Morris Cigarettes. "Original?" you exclaim, your bushy young eyebrows rising. "Why, we have been giving cartons of Philip Morris for years!"

True, I reply, but each time you give Philip Morris, it is a new treat, a fresh delight, a pristine pleasure. Each carton, each pack, each cigarette, each puff, is just as good as the first one you ever tried.

Another gift destined for certain popularity this year is a gift certificate from the American Dental Association. This certificate, good at any dentist's office in America, is accompanied by a handsome gift card upon which is engraved this lovely poem:

Merry Christmas, little pal,
Do you need some root canal?
Prophylaxis? Porcelain caps?
Bridgework to close up them gaps?
Shiny braces that will straighten?
Inlays? Fillings? Upper platen?
Merry Christmas to your teeth,
And the rosy gums beneath.

Another gift that is always welcome is a book, especially to people who read. This Christmas the selection of books is particularly attractive. For lovers of anthologies, there is William Makepeace Sherpa's A Treasury of the World's Great Treasuries. For those who fancy inspiring success stories, there is the stirring autobiography of William Makepeace Pemman entitled How I Got a Forty Pound Monkey Off My Back and Started the Duluth Zoo. For devotees of skin-diving, there is I Married a Snorkel by Lydia Makepeace Watershed. For calorie counters and waistline watchers, there is Harry Makepeace Wildfoster's Eat and Grow Fat.

My own favorite book this season is a pulse-pounding historical novel from that famous author of pulse-pounding historical novels, Daphne Makepeace Sigafos. This one is called Egad and Zounds, and it tells the poignant romance of two young lovers, Egad and Zounds, who, alas, can never be married, for fiery Egad is but a gypsy lass, while tempestuous Zounds is a Kappa Sigma. They later become Ludwig of Bavaria.

My final gift suggestion is one that a great many people have been fervently wishing for since last year. Do you remember the introduction last Christmas of tiny personal portable radios that plugged into your ear? Well, this year, you will be delighted to know, you can buy an ingenious pick to get them out.

Old Max said it, but it bears repeating: A carton of Philip Morris, made by the sponsors of this column, is a Christmas gift that's bound to please everyone!

Parker Charges Halas With Instigating Infractions

DETROIT, Dec. 17 (AP)—Striking out at what he called "a disastrous trend that is making pro football a slugging match," Buddy Parker today threatened to resign after six seasons as head coach of the Detroit Lions.

He said the game "has gotten far out of line because of deliberate and flagrant infractions." The game, he added, is being "run" by George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears, and George Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins.

Setting it off was the collision in the second period between Chicago's Ed Meadows and the Lions' quarterback, Bobby Lane. Parker, Detroit Owner Edwin J. Anderson, players and fans accused Meadows—on what they said were instructions from Halas—of deliberately setting out to "get" Layne.

Layne suffered a brain concussion in the crash with Meadows, who later on was banished from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct against Detroit's Bill Bowman.

Meadows said it was accidental, that he didn't know Lane had handed the ball to another player.

Kerr New Captain

Freddie Kerr, former Pennsylvania schoolboy mile champion, has been named captain of the 1957 Penn State cross-country team. He's the first junior since 1949 to be so honored. He was a standout as a sophomore this year.

SWEATERS . . .

With cold weather here, one of these handsome sweaters makes a really timely Christmas present. Besides being warm they are completely washable and require no ironing. Pennshire's low, factory-to-you prices makes this an ideal gift at only 5.95.
