

University's Champion Steer To Appear in 34 U.S. Cities

The University's International Grand Champion Steer, PS Troubadour, is being displayed in 34 of the nation's towns and cities during a four-month tour.

As befits a celebrity, the $20,000 Shorthorn steer will travel in his own private railroad car. A baggage car was especially outfitted with a portable pen, plywood bulkheads, display panels and feed bins for PS Troubadour. One end of the car was closed off into living compartment so that the Shorthorn steer's attendants can travel with him.

The tour was first suggested by animal husbandry professors when PS Troubadour won his honors at the International.

Then, on Dec. 14 the 14-month-old roan steer made his debut on network television and was seen by 30,000,000 people in the United States and Canada, when Edward R. Murrow took his "Person to Person" cameras to Acadia Farms in Northfield, Ohio, where the steer's dam, Queen of Beauty 2d, was raised.

Queen of Beauty 2d was carrying PS Troubadour at the time she was purchased from the farm by the University. After the television appearance of the steer scores of requests were made to his owners asking that he be placed on exhibition and the tour was planned.
