The Association of Independent Men is planning to send about five delegates to the National Independent Student Association convention to be held April 15 to 17 in Champagne, Ill.

Lash Howes, AIM president, said that possibly more representatives will attend depending upon the expenses involved in the trip.

Work Week Interpreted By Leader

Gov. George M. Leader said yesterday his new policy if insisting on a full 40-hour work week from state employes did not apply to members of boards and commissions, the Associated Press reported.

"We have not had a tradition of full-time service on boards and commissions," Leader told his weekly news conference.

The subject came up when a newsman asked Leader what he thought of Republican criticism of plans by Dr. Merritt A. Williamson to continue his work at the University on a part-time basis while serving on the Turnpike Commission.

Leader said he did not expect Williamson to come to Harrisburg at a financial sacrifice. Leader said the University will pay Williamson $2000 a year for his part-time services.

Together with the $13,000 he will receive from the Turnpike Commission, it adds up to the $15,000 he was receiving at the University as dean of the College of Engineering.

Leader said that if the legislature wants a plan to impose a full 40-hour work week on members of boards and commissions, he would support it.

Harvard Official To Visit Campus

William Warren, of the dean's office at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, will visit the University Feb. 26 to talk with students interested in enrolling at Harvard for the two-year program leading to a master's degree in business administration.

There are no prerequisites for entrance to the program, either in terms of courses or undergraduate majors.

Arrangements to discuss the program with Warren may be made with Donald M. Cook, assistant in the University Placement Service.

Those who volunteered to attend were John Rhodes, George Smith, Carl Smith, John Hess and James Wambold.

NISA Week Planned
It was announced at a meeting Wednesday night that NISA Week will be held this year from April 6 to 13. Activities included in the week are the AIM-Leonides spring dance and the joint chapel service.

Tentative plans were formulated for the AIM-Leonides spring banquet, but no date was set for the affair. Annual awards which will be presented at the banquet are trophies to the outstanding independent students for athletics, for scholarship, and for activities. A trophy is also presented to the student who has contributed the most to AIM.

Decides on Trophies
The executive committee decides the recipients of all the trophies except for the trophy to the student who has contributed the most to AIM. This selection is made by the board from five nominees submitted by the executive committee.

William B. Crafts, assistant to the dean of men, in charge of independent affairs, presented a report to the board on the Outstanding Living Unit trophy.

For some time now, the AIM Board has been working on an idea whereby a trophy would be presented to the outstanding living unit. The group has met with difficulty because of the task of compiling group averages of the various living units. The scholastic averages of the living units would be one of the finest determining the winner of the award.

Other Workers Listed
A trophy for this purpose was made by a residence halls counselor in industrial arts.

Others working with Crafts on this project are William Hassler and Bernard Hodinko, counselor co-ordinators, and David Cummings, counselor for Pollock 9.

In other business before the board, John Morgan was appointed administrative assistant to Howes, replacing Stanley Rudzinski who resigned.

● Alumni of the University total nearly 52,000.

'Phantom Dorm' Hangs Dietician In Effigy

"The Phantom Dorm" has struck again!

The person or persons popularly unknown who have been pasting campus doors with "warning" stickers yesterday morning hanged in effigy the University dietician from a tree near the Mall bulletin board.

Students on their way to 8 o'clock classes stopped and gaped at the ghostly white figure dangling from the branches above. A small knot of students gathered near the board to read the poem inscribed on the front of the body.

Two hours later, normalcy had returned and the "dietician" had been removed from the tree. But still remaining on doors all over campus are stickers reading: "For action . . . Look to the Phantom Dorm!!! Soon . . ."

Farwell Teaches Group Industrial Psychology

Raymond S. Farwell Jr., assistant professor of industrial engineering, is conducting a 32-hour class in industrial psychology in Lewistown for the Industrial Management Club of Central Pennsylvania.

The class is conducted in cooperation with the General Extension Services of the University.

Rushees Cut Choice To Two Sororities

With the closing of four days of chatter dates, rushees last night cut to two the number of sororities they wish to visit for parties Monday.

Under this method, which is different from any used in previous rushing periods, rushees will have no further opportunity to narrow down the number of sororities they will visit.

Rushees Will Choose
After Monday's parties, the women will attend two coffee hours on Wednesday. Immediately after coffee hours, each rushee must decide which sorority is her first choice, and which, if either, her second.

This week's chatter dates have been divided into two rounds, the first Monday and Tuesday, and the second Wednesday and yesterday. For the first round, rushees could accept eight invitations. Wednesday they cut this number to five.

Invitation Distribution
Party invitations will be distributed at the Panhellenic post office in Women's Building Monday from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Rushees must answer them at this time. Sororities must have their invitations for parties at the post office at 8 a.m. Monday. They may pick up acceptances at 1:30 p.m. Sororities may not take rushees back to dormitories after parties, nor may they call for them. Dress for rushees should be in accordance with invitations received.

Center Stage to Present 'The Enchanted' Tonight

"The Enchanted," by Jean Giraudoux, will be presented at 8 to 10 p.m. and tomorrow night at Center Stage.
