

Cabinet Again Kills Gift to Hungarians

Editorial on page four

All-University Cabinet has again voted not to make a gift of $375 it loaned to five Hungarian students to pay book, clothing and other expenses.

Thursday's Cabinet vote was 13-8 with two abstentions. Last week Cabinet voted 12-11 not to make the money a gift.

Discussion was reopened Thursday when Leonard Richards, All University secretary-treasurer, introduced a motion to make the money a gift.

Richards said the $375 is a negligible amount and that most students he talked to thought it should be given to the students.

Appeared Grateful

Philip Gottlieb said that he talked with the Hungarian students and that they appeared grateful.

Cabinet could make them feel it is a well-doer as well as a well-mannered by making a gift of the money, he said, and it would be a good start for Brotherhood Week. (Brotherhood Week begins Monday.)

Dean of Men Frank J. Simes, who was present at the meeting, said the United States government has brought the students, along with many other Hungarians, into the country free of charge as a gesture of good will.

It would be a very poor gesture, Simes said, for Cabinet to ask the students to repay the money.

Substitute Motion

Lash Howes, president of the Association of Independent Men, pointed out that the money was given to the five students as a loan and that they understood it was a loan when they received the money.

Howes introduced a substitute motion stating that the money loaned by Cabinet be repaid at the student's convenience with no time stipulation.

Howes said Cabinet must have faith in the American economy. The University is giving the students an education, he said. (Each has a full academic scholarship.) When they graduate, Howes said, they will be able to get good jobs.

Within one year after being graduated, he said, the students should have no trouble repaying the loan. Giving the students the money as a gift would be destroying the American spirit of working for what is gained, he said.

By making no time stipulation, he said, the students will have no fear of having to repay the loan by a fixed date.

Plant Blaze Results In $1000 Loss

State College firemen were called on yesterday morning to extinguish a $1000 blaze in the heating plant of State College Cleaners, 1004 W. College Ave.

Luckily, a brick wall prevented the fire from reaching the explosive fluid in the adjoining cleaning portion of the plant.

T. E. Sauers, Jr., chief of the Alpha Fire Co., estimated that damage to the heating equipment amounts to about $1000, but that smoke from the fire may yet prove to have caused more damage.

The stacks of clothing, although not reached by the fire, may have been damaged by the smoke, Sauers said.

Billows of smoke rose into the air, sometimes to a height of 50 feet, making it almost impossible for the firemen to see. They had to use smoke ejectors to clear away the clouds.

A petroleum-base residue of cleaning fluid, used to start the furnace, backfired and spread flames about the room, thus causing the blaze.

No one was hurt in the fire. Firemen were called at 8:08 a.m. and had it under control by 8:35.

Rockview Penitentiary To Undergo Rewiring

The General State Authority has called for bids March 13 on construction of State Police projects at Bellefonte and York, according to the Associated Press.

The Bellefonte project includes rewiring of the electrical system at Rockview Penitentiary.

The Associated Press did not say whether the project would include the chair.

Dormitory Gambling Results in Probation

By DENNY MALICK

The University Senate Subcommittee on Discipline yesterday placed seven Nittany area students on disciplinary probation for the rest of the semester for gambling in the residence halls.

The subcommittee followed up the recommendation on the case by the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review.

One other case of gambling was reviewed by the Senate group involving two students of the Pollock area. One of the students, for whom the AIM group recommended disciplinary probation, appealed his case and the Senate committee delayed its decision until next week.

More Cases

In a third gambling case handed down by the AIM board, six West Dorm students were placed on judicial probation by the dean of men's office. In accordance with this action, the violation will not be placed on the students' permanent record. The AIM judicial group warned the group against further violations and suggested that the students write to their parents explaining the incident and its outcome.

The Senate committee also placed a senior on disciplinary probation and withdrew his driving privileges for the remainder of his college career. The action was taken on recommendation by Tribunal.

Charged With Misuse

The senior was charged with misuse of an automobile, driving recklessly in a University parking lot and provoking a campus patrolman with abusive language. The committee considered these offenses and the fact that the student was previously on disciplinary probation in reaching its decision.

The Nittany area students who received probationary action were implicated in the offenses by George Kohlweiler Jr., of Walingford, recently convicted on forgery.

Russians Replace Shepilov

Gromyko Gets Minister's Post

MOSCOW, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Soviet government changed foreign ministers today, relieving bushy-haired Dmitri Shepilov after only eight months in the office. Unsmiling Andrei Gromyko succeeded him.

Westerners in Moscow believe the reshuffle is a signal for a return to the tough policies of former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. Dour, noncommittal Gromyko rose to prominence under Molotov, and is regarded as a follower of Stalinist lines.

Khrushchev Protege

On the other hand, easy-spoken Shepilov was regarded as a protege of Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party. Last year Khrushchev downgraded Stalin and adopted a letlive policy toward independent Communists in the satellites—policies from which the Soviet party shows signs of retreating.

Gromyko, as former ambassador in Washington and representative at the United Nations, has symbolized in Western eyes the Russian postwar habit of saying "No" and casting vetoes. Gromyko staged a dramatic walk from the Security Council in 1946 to block action on continued Soviet occupation of northern Iran.

No Purge

There was no indication Shepilov was being purged. He returns to his old post as one of the eight secretaries of the powerful Communist party Central Committee under Khrushchev. He was relieved of the secretariat job less than two months ago to allow him more time for his Foreign Ministry duties.

Before his appointment as foreign minister to replace Molotov last June 1 he was editor of the party newspaper Pravda.

His last important act as foreign minister was a major foreign policy speech to the Supreme Soviet last Tuesday. He proposed the big powers stop arms shipments to the Middle East, withdraw their troops and bases and join in cooperative economic developments.

Brotherhood Dinner To Be Held Monday

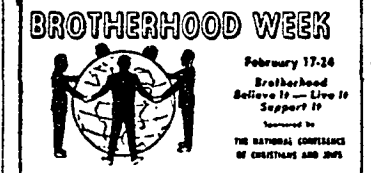

Students, faculty and townspeople will be brought together in an atmosphere of brotherhood at the fourth annual Brotherhood Banquet which will be held at 5:30 p.m. Monday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

The Rev. Gustave Weigel S.J., professor of ecclesiology at Woodstock College, School of Divinity, Woodstock, Md., will be the speaker.

Each year a week is set aside for the observance of National Brotherhood Week during which time special activities are scheduled around the country.

Planned by Advisory Group

The University's banquet was planned by the Committee on Inter-religious Affairs, which is an inter-religious advisory group to the University Chaplain. The committee is composed of one faculty, one staff and two student representatives of the three traditions—Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish.

More than 200 tickets have been sold for the banquet. Tickets, priced at $2.50, may be obtained at the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel or from any member of the committee. Reservations may be made by calling ext. 595.

Weigel will speak on "The Role of Religion in American Society" at the banquet.

Native of Buffalo

Weigel is a native of Buffalo, N.Y. He graduated from Woodstock College in 1925. He received his Ph.D. and S.T.D. degrees at the Universita Gregoriana in Rome and his Lit.D. at the Catholic University of Chile in Santiago.

Weigel has been professor of Dogmatic Theology and dean of the faculty at the Catholic University of Chile. Weigel has lectured at Harvard, Columbia, Georgetown, Stanford, John Hopkins, Purdue, Rutgers, Lehigh, Fordham, Utah and Catholic University of America. He has also lectured at Puebligen, Mainz and Regensburg in Germany; the Catholic University of Peru; and the University of Antioquia in Columbia.

Freezing Rain Upsets Lion

A weary search party today reached the mountain tavern where the Nittany Lion has spent the past few days.

The Lion was found stretched across a table, sleeping heavily. Pieces of furniture were strewn throughout the room.

One of the members of the party shook the Lion, and he awoke groggily. He glanced at the wet snow running down the windowpane outside. "I knew I couldn't sleep 'til spring," he groaned as the rescuers hoisted the table to their shoulders and carried him out the door.

Today's forecast calls for freezing rain or snow. The high this afternoon should be about 33, with a low tonight between 13 and 15. Sunday is expected to be partly cloudy and warmer.

'Brotherhood' Fund Campaign Set Monday

Claude H. Decker, borough burgess, has proclaimed Monday as Brotherhood Day for the benefit of the University's Hungarian Student Assistance Committee's drive to aid seven Hungarian refugee students.

The fund-raising campaign, which will begin tomorrow, has set $3100 as its goal.

The burgess' proclamation reads as follows:

"Whereas the university students of Hungary have given courageous inspiration in their nation's recent heroic bid for freedom; and

Whereas, in so doing these young patriots have probably exiled themselves forever from home and school; and

Whereas, our community of State College has, from its inception, been a seat of learning;

Now, therefore, I, Claude H. Decker, Burgess of State College, Pa., do hereby proclaim Monday, Feb. 18, 1957, as Brotherhood Day.

I therefore call upon my fellow citizens to open their hearts to those Hungarian students, who have, to our good fortune, sought sanctuary among us and learning in our University."

WH Council Nominations

Nominations for West Halls Council president and vice president will be held at Monday night's meeting of the council in McKee Lounge.

Elections will be held the following week.

ICCB Will Consider Placement Expansion

By BARB MARTINO

The Intercollegiate Council Board, a group composed of the college council presidents, will investigate the possibilities of expanding the University Placement Service, as suggested by the encampment workshop on academic policies.

The move to expand the service would be made primarily for the student of the non-technical college such as the College of the Liberal Arts. The service apparently has not, and is not, growing in proportion to the enrollment, the council thought.

Job opportunities are readily available for engineering students and students with other specialized background, but the ICCB feels there is a definite need to improve and organize the service in all respects.

Representatives Lacking Neither the local nor the out-of-state corporations in which the non-technical students are interested generally send representatives to campus, members said.

The student is left with a scattered assortment of job information—pamphlets supplied by his college, advice from professors, perhaps some personal contacts—but for the most part he must rely on his own wits, said Susan Hill, president of the Home Economics Student Council.

There is no immediate solution to this problem, but a complete up-to-date address file would be a step in the right direction, she said, and this is where the University Placement Service comes in.

Address File

For the liberal arts student, for the education student who wishes to enter a field other than teaching and for certain departments in home economics, the ICCB feels there should at least be an address file of the companies to which the students may refer.

Taking action on another encampment recommendation, the ICCB is working towards more unity and co-ordination between
