

Lion Cagers Upset, 70-56; Kubista Leads Offense

LEWISBURG, Pa. — Bucknell's hot-handed Bisons, led by the talents of 6-6 center Hal Danzig, scored a strong 70-56 victory over Penn State here last night to break even in the home-and-home series, one game apiece.

Danzig, a bulwark off both boards all night for the Bisons, topped the game's scorers with 21 points—most of them came from his pivot post. Jumping Ted Kubista led the

Five Yanks Remain From 1949 Champs

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP)—The New York Yankees, apparently strengthened by the acquisition from Kansas City of pitchers Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz, have had a vast player turnover in Manager Casey Stengel's eight-year regime.

But so have most of the other American League teams—and it hasn't done them any good.

A check showed today that only five players on the Yankees' current roster were with the club in 1949, the season Stengel became field boss. They are pitcher Tommy Byrne, catcher Yogi Berra, infielders Joe Collins and Gerry Coleman and outfielder Hank Bauer.

Except for the Cleveland Indians, each of the American League clubs has undergone more changes than the Yankees, who have won seven pennants in the last eight years.

The Indians also have five 1949 players left. The Boston Red Sox have only pitcher Mel Parnell, outfielder Ted Williams and second baseman Billy Goodman. The Chicago White Sox have lefty pitcher Billy Pierce and Washington has third sacker Eddie Yost.

The Athletics, in picking up pitchers Maury McDermott, Tom Morgan and Rip Coleman, shortstop Billy Hunter, second baseman Milt Graff and outfielder Irv Noren in yesterday's 13-player deal, now can field almost an entire team of ex-Yankees or Bomber farmhands.

15 Coeds to Enter Cage Sports Day

Fifteen coeds will travel to Dickinson College to participate in the basketball sports day Saturday.

The eight forwards are Patricia Barnitz, Judith Clancy, Jean Melvin, Maxine Hampton, Joan Brown, Barbara Knight and Mary Harbein.

The seven guards making the trip are Carolyn Briggs, Rita Witmer, Mary Troutman, Carla Widdowson, Patricia Ulrich, Sally Jervis and Gail Hazen.

The Women's Recreation Association spring semester leagues will begin on Monday in White Hall with volleyball, bowling and bridge being the main sports.

Lions with 17 points.

Down 48-44, with 8:20 left in the game, the Bisons scored 10 consecutive points in the stretch to pull away from the tiring Lions.

Jump shots by Jack Flanagan and John Beatty, a drive by Joe Baccelli, and a lay-up and two fouls by Ellis Harley gave the fast-working Bucknell squad a 54-48 lead—a lead they never lost. From then on, Penn State pressed for the ball in a rally effort, but the Bisons never faltered.

Ron Rainey opened the game with a one-handed push shot and Steve Baidy followed with two foul conversions for a 4-0 Nittany lead. Harley's field goal and Rainey's jump pushed the score to 6-2.

With Danzig finally entering the scoring picture, the Bisons jumped into a 14-8 lead. Danzig scored six straight points on two jump shots and a tap-in. Norm Vorhees scored the Bison's 14th point, their eighth straight, on a jump from underneath.

Limiting the victors to only one point—a foul by Flanagan—in the next two minutes, the Lions rallied for a 16-15 lead on fouls by Baidy and Bob Edwards, a jump by Kubista, and a drive by Leisher.

It was nip-and-tuck the rest of the way with the lead changing hands five times, both clubs scoring in spurts. With the score 26-26 Kubista scored with a jump and a tap and Edwards converted a foul to give the Lions their final lead of the first half.

Bucknell came storming back to take a 32-31 halftime lead as Danzig and Flanagan each scored three points with a jump shot and a foul apiece. Flanagan's foul, the final score of the period, came with 20 seconds left.

In the opening minutes of the second half the Lions looked as if they might walk off the court with an easy win outscoring the Bisons, 13-7, to take a 44-39 lead. Danzig, however, again stepped into the picture with five more points—two jumps and a foul—to tie the game, 44-44.

Kubista scored two quick goals, both jump shots from the pivot, to give the Lions a 48-44 advantage. Then came the winning Bucknell spurt, a spurt which seemed to take the spark out of the Lion offense.

Kubista, an early substitute for Tom Hancock, was undoubtedly the best Lion player on the court last night. Working from the pivot, the youthful sophomore scored six of his eight baskets with a twisting jump shot that Danzig couldn't stop.

Sigma Chi Extends Skein

Sigma Chi extended its undefeated record to six games Tuesday night as both independent and fraternity teams highlighted the intramural basketball scene at Recreation Hall.

Sigma Chi, fraternity League F leader, made Sigma Tau Gamma its sixth straight victim by a 40-30 score. Sigma Chi's Dick Boggs accounted for 18 points while Mark Roller scored 17 for the losers.

Zeta Beta Tau almost overcame a 12 point halftime deficit but fell three points short and bowed to Beta Sigma Rho, 27-24. Beta Sig's Harris Coleman took scoring honors with 11 points.

Alpha Chi Rho, aided by Bill Cooper's ten tallies, squeezed past Theta Xi, 22-21. Jim Machlan of Theta Xi also scored ten.

Undefeated Phi Gamma Delta took a 28-22 decision from previously undefeated Delta Chi and moved into the lead of League D. Phi Gam's Terry Hutton contributed 15 points to pace the scorers while Delta Chi's Fred Evans followed with eight.

Sigma Phi Alpha handed Alpha Gamma Rho its seventh straight loss as they held on to a halftime lead of three points to win, 19-16. Dick Frederick of SPA, and Chuck Rine of AGR shared the scoring lead with nine points apiece.

Phi Kappa Sigma, leading 14-4 at the half, turned back Alpha Chi Sigma, 23-9. Guy Tirabassi and Harold Fellow accounted for 13 points for the victors.

In the independent activity, Nittany 41 dumped the Pollock 6 Dinks, 29-22. Don Robinson of Nittany was high scorer with 12 points, followed by Hart Langer with eight.
