

Ice Rink Profits Swell Kadis Fund Over $300

By FRAN FANUCCI
The "Dick Kadis Fund" swelled to over $300 last night when the largest skating crowd of the week donated approximately $80 dollars at the University ice rink. Total money collected from the rink for three days and nights amounted to $202.55.

This along with other donations received during the week raised the fund to $307.55. Only one fraternity—Lambda Chi Alpha—turned in a donation up until yesterday. The donation was $19.

Last night was the last time the ice rink was to be operated by the Varsity "S" Club and the Daily Collegian, co-sponsors of the Kadis drive.

The two groups obtained permission last week from University officials to take charge of the rink and to reap all profits from admissions and concessions.

Club President Paul Roberts said last night that he was very pleased with the turnout and the total amount of money collected and he added: "I just hope fraternities and sororities would do their best to donate something to this cause. With additional help from the students it can bring much good will to our campus."

Fraternities and sororities are asked to leave all money collected at the Daily Collegian office from 4 p.m. on or to mail the money care of Dick Kadis Fund, The Daily Collegian.

Benefits in all parts of Western Pennsylvania have begun in order to aid the stricken Geneva athlete.

The Varsity "I" Club of Indiana State Teachers College will hold a benefit basketball game with all profits going to Kadis. This is one of many athletic organizations holding benefits for the 21-year old grider.

Kadis, who is still listed in "poor" condition at a Cleveland hospital, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in a football game against Waynesburg Sept. 29, and has been in a coma ever since.

His medical bills now total over $13,000, with little hope that his stricken family can ever pay them.

SPE, SAE, Cop IM Wins

In a battle of the unbeaten, Sigma Phi Epsilon downed Alpha Tau Omega, 34-24, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon was forced into overtime to defeat Tau Phi Delta, 25-22, to remain undefeated in basketball action.

SPE, led by Jim Moore and Sam Valentine, gained undisputed first place in the 'B' cage league in handing ATO its first setback. Charles Myers scored three points in the overtime period to break up a 22-22 deadlock and give SAE the league 'C' lead.

dict over Theta Delta Chi, as Ron Faris with 20 and Dick Dill with 14 points paced the winners.

In the final fraternity cage contest, Alpha Phi Alpha jumped ahead in the second half to down Sigma Pi, 29-16. Independent action saw the Campus Trotters defeat Watts Hall, 19-17; the Dutchmen downed the Schorers, 19-15; the Gunsmokers blasted Aiche, 29-14; and Irvin Hall win a forfeit over the Warriors.

Baseball Candidates

All prospective varsity infield and outfield baseball candidates are requested to report at 5 p.m. Monday, February 25, to 241 Recreation Hall, Coach Joe Bedenk announced.

Matmen Seek 6th Win at Cornell

By LOU PRATO
Penn State's wrestling team, already assured of its 45th winning season in 48 years of intercollegiate wrestling competition, will try for its sixth victory of the campaign tonight against Cornell University at Ithaca, N.Y.

It is the third straight away test for the Lion matmen who close out the regular dual meet season next Saturday at Pittsburgh.

Coach Charley Speidel will not change the starting lineup which brought him a 24-8 victory over Syracuse last week.

Co-Captain Sid Nodland will start at 123; Johnny Johnston will open at 130; John Pepe will get the nod at 137; and Co-Captain Dave Adams will be at 147.

Nodland is unbeaten in six matches while Johnston goes one better with a seven-match undefeated mark. Pepe has only one loss in seven encounters while Adams is unbeaten but twice tied.

The upperweights, which have been giving Speidel the most trouble, will have Earl Poust at 157; Bruce Gilmore at 167; Les Walters at 177; and Sam Markle in the heavyweight position.

Poust owns a 1-1 mark, winning his first last week against Syracuse, and Gilmore is 2-5 for the season. Walters has failed to win in both of his appearances while Markle has a 1-5-1 record.

Nodland, Poust, and Gilmore will face against the Big Red's toughest opponents. Nodland will face Carmen Molino, 7-2; Poust will meet Dick Vincent, 3-0; and Gilmore will tangle with Steve Friedman, 4-0.

Nodland, Molino, and Vincent saw action in last years 20-6 Penn State victory. Nodland edged Molino, 3-2, on a stalling penalty in the last 30 seconds and Vincent lost a 7-4 decision to Pepe.

Johnston, Adams, and Cornell's 177 pound entry, Steve Smethurst, also competed in the 1956 meet. Johnston defeated Bill Jemison, 10-4; Adams pinned Turco; and Smethurst lost a 8-2 decision to Joe Krufka.

3 Events May Hold Key to Gym Crown

Three events—the rope climb, horizontal bar and the flying rings—may decide whether Army keeps its Eastern Gymnastic Championship and maintains its dual-meet winning streak of 17.

In the three remaining events, the Lions are expected to break even in the side horse and are favored to take the tumbling honors and Armando Vega's specialty, the parallel bars.

The rope climb may prove to be the real decider if Eastern Champion Phil Mullen can reach his 1956 form. Up to this date, Mullen's best time has been 3.7. During the 1956 campaign the junior was clocked in times down to 3.5.

The big "BUT" is Paul Dean, Army's lanky climber who has been clocked in 3.5 and 3.4 this season at West Point. Dean and teammate Bob Deegan both beat Mullen at the Military Academy last year.

Sophomore John Hidingar has showed Wettstone signs of improved climbing and the number two man, Dick Rehm, tied Mullen in the Syracuse meet at 3.9. All three Lions can hit the disc in less than 4 seconds.

In the flying rings and the horizontal bar it is a matter of one team having the top man while the other has the three top challengers.

Army's 1956 Eastern Horizontal Bar Champion Bill Thomson will defend his undefeated streak against Dion Weissend, Gil Leu and Vega.

Weissend has been consistent on the high bar, scoring a 281 total against Syracuse Saturday night. Leu and Vega are fighting it out for the number two spot on the team. Both are good 260 scorers.

Army's other competitors in the high bar will be John Sewall and Pete Calyer.

The formula is reversed on the flying rings where Vega will be favored to win his fourth straight of the campaign. The all-around athlete has marked up totals of 263, 268, and 288 on the rings.

But the Cadets have three potential winners on the flying rings in J. O. Hanford, Bill Clark, and Bill Giallourakis. Backing up Vega will be Ed Sidwell and Jack Donahue.

HOW FAR WILL A DOLLAR GO?

George Washington is said to have sent a silver dollar spinning all the way across the Rappahannock River.

But young George's dollar wasn't in the same class with the dollars you spend for electric service.

Your electric dollars go farther than any other dollars you spend. And they work miracles that Washington never dreamed of—automatic cooking, automatic dish-washing, automatic air conditioning.

If he were alive today, George would think twice before he threw away a dollar that could do that kind of work!
