

Sno' Ball Queen Finalists

Modern Jazz Artists To Play Tomorrow

University students will have an opportunity tomorrow to hear some of the outstanding modern jazz artists on the East coast.

The Penn State Jazz Club will present a Jazz Revue at 2:30 p.m. in Recreation Hall.

Among the headliners will be vocalist Chris Connor, The Gerry Mulligan Quartet, The Les Jazz Modes and The Kai Winding Septet. Miss Connor and The Kai Winding Septet appeared at the University last year.

Tickets are on sale at the Hetzel Union desk, the Music Room and at the door of Rec Hall for $1.75. Students may also buy a membership to the Jazz Club for $2 plus $1 admission to the revue at Rec Hall. A membership card will entitle them to reduced rates for future jazz club presentations.

Sang With Kenton

Miss Connor, who first gained recognition when she replaced June Christy for two years with the Stan Kenton band, will sing with a rhythm section composed of musicians from the other jazz groups. Miss Connor has toured the country since she left Kenton as a nightclub singer. One of her most successful recent record albums is titled "Lullaby in Birdland."

Gerry Mulligan's band is the first pianoless quartet in the jazz field since the 1920's when Dixieland was at its peak. Mulligan, who graduated from a Philadelphia high school in 1948, began his musical career by arranging

Morse to Give Freedom Talk

Dr. J. Mitchell Morse, assistant professor of English composition, will speak on "Freedom from Censorship" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Hillel auditorium.

Dr. Morse's literary source for this lecture will be "Areopagitica" by John Milton of seventeenth century England. "Areopagitica" is one of the classic documents on freedom of thought and speech as the fundamental condition of a successful quest for truth.

Dr. Morse's talk will be the third lecture in the Hillel cultural committee's current series on the general theme "The Structure of Freedom."

A question period will follow the lecture, which is open to the public.

Coed Omitted from Rush List

The name of Judith Ringgold was omitted from the list of coeds ribboned by Alpha Kappa Alpha for Kenton. Later he moved to the West coast where he performed with his baritone saxophone.

Mulligan Won Polls

Recently Mulligan has won numerous polls in Downbeat, Metronome and Playboy for his trombone playing. His present quartet features Bob Brookmeyer on the valve trombone, a bass and drum.

The Les Jazz Quintet is the newest of the jazz groups to achieve recognition. The quintet features Julie Watkins on the French horn, Oscar Pettiford on the string bass or cello, a tenor saxophone, drum and piano. The band is an experimental one, trying to achieve a "different sound" by using an unusual selection of instruments.

Kai Winding, who appeared here last year with J. J. Johnson, has since formed his own band with four trombones, piano, bass and drum. Winding came here from his native country, Denmark, as a young man. After playing trombone for Kenton, Woody Herman and other name bands, he joined with Johnson. Since their split last fall, Winding has been working to develop a "trombone sound."

Five Readers To Be Chosen

Five finalists for the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Reading Festival and the National Inter-Collegiate Reading Festival will be chosen by members of the Speech Department at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Simmons lounge.

The semi-finalists were chosen last week by Dr. William D. Hamilton, assistant professor of speech, and Harriett D. Nesbitt, assistant professor of public speaking.

They are Joyce Basch, Gerald

Denisof, Patricia A. Doll, James Gould, James Jimmiro, Eleanor Moran, Tim Rotzoll, Bruce Taylor, John Wellen and Jon Wilder.

The Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Reading Festival will be held May 2 and 3 on campus. The Speech Department has sent invitations to 80 colleges throughout the state.

The National Inter-Collegiate Reading Festival will be held May 7-9 at Michigan State University.
