

'Greeks Everywhere' To Be Poster Topic

"Greeks Everywhere," the theme of this year's Greek Week which will be held from March 26 to April 5 has been selected as the theme for the Greek Week poster contest which is now underway.

The deadline for submitting entries has been set for 5 p.m. March 20 at the Hetzel Union desk, according to Belva Stryca and Alan Rubens, co-chairmen of the poster contest committee. Letters have been sent to fraternities and sororities by the poster committee explaining the rules set up for the contest and information about it.

One significant change has been made in the rules for the contest this year. Posters will be limited to two-dimensional designs, using three straight lines. One of the lines should be placed perpendicular to the other two. The lines may be arranged in any way on the poster and can be of any width. The style of lettering is also optional.

Poster Requirements
Posters should be 17 inches by 22 inches. The dates of Greek Week, March 26 to April 5, should be shown on the poster. The name of the contributing group may, or may not, be directly on the design, but it must be included somewhere on the poster.

Milton S. Osborne, professor of architecture, will head the staff of judges who will rate the posters. The names of other judges have not yet been released. Posters will be judged on neatness, originality and relation to theme, and simplicity of design.

Trophies to be Awarded
The prize-winning fraternity and sorority will each be presented with a trophy. All entries will be placed on display in the HUB and in downtown stores from March 31 to April 5. Any groups that wish to have their posters after the contest may pick them up at the HUB on April 10 and 11.

The co-chairmen of the contest said that the poster contest is one of the main events of Greek Week and is conducted each year to highlight Greek Week activities and to promote interest in them.
