

Orange Tops Cagers With 'Foul' Strategy

Fouls can win games, but not without field goals. If nothing else, this fact was proven when Syracuse topped the Penn State cagers, 66-55, Saturday night at Syracuse, N.Y. Aside from the team loss, Ron Rainey saw his consecutive foul shooting skein finally broken when he missed his first attempt. He had a string of 33 straight going for him, dating back to his last two fouls against Lehigh. It left him nine short of Dave Ricketts', Duquesne, newly-created record.

The Lions, leading 33-32 at half-time, found field goals as rare as a Russian compliment when they hit only four two-pointers in the second half. This, without a doubt, was the biggest factor in the loss.

The Lions had a creditable 30.2 shooting percentage in the second half, but the fact remained that Syracuse was fouling before they could shoot.

This gave the Nittanians only a one-and-one opportunity instead of a possible three-point play. Scoring totals for the second half read: Penn State—4 field goals, 14-22 fouls, 22 points; Syracuse—11 field goals, 12-18 fouls, 34 points.

After the game, Coach John Egli said, "We played our best game of the weekend (the Lions edged Colgate Friday night), but lost. Syracuse was tough off the boards... they're a tough club." Egli did have praise for the Lion defense, despite the loss. He said the Lions were at their toughest when they were set up, completely checking the famed Orange fast break.

Syracuse was able to use its fast break, its best offensive weapon, only when the Lions made a mistake—such as a poor shot, a bad pass, or a steal.

Syracuse held a small lead for the majority of the first half, only to have the Lions stage a minor scoring drive to grab the half-time lead.

With the Orange leading 17-14 at the 12-minute mark, the cagers scored four straight points—a goal by Tom Hancock and two fouls by Bob Edwards—in the next minute to take an 18-17 lead.

The score was then tied, 26-26, with three minutes left before Edwards scored five points and Rainey two for the Nittany half-time advantage.

Once the second half began, however, Syracuse jumped into a 38-36 lead at the two minute mark and was never headed thereafter. Jon Cincebox led the Orange drive, scoring their first four points of the period.

From then on, the game was a battle of Syracuse field goals and fouls against Penn State fouls. The result was obvious; Syracuse's margin grew bigger and bigger until the game was finally out of Lion reach.

Frosh Matmen Lose

Penn State's freshman wrestling team suffered its second loss of the season Friday night when the powerful Cornell frosh defeated the Lions, 19-10.

Cornell, sporting seven wins and one loss, tallied one fall, four decisions and a draw. Coach Don Watkin's matmen were limited to a fall, a decision and a draw.

The Big Red's Dave Ruble scored a very impressive 6-0 win over Gordon Danks at 123-pounds to open the action. Ruble registered two takedowns, an escape, and riding time in the win.

Bob Costaglio put Penn State into the lead with a quick fall over Clifford Teeter at 130 pounds at 1:53 of the first period.

Cornell's Bob Wagg scored a 3-0 victory at 137 pounds when he outlasted Duane Foresman. At 147 pounds the Lion's Sam Minor and the Big Red's Jim Carter deadlocked at 5-5 when Carter spurted for five markers in the third period.

In the 157 pound encounter Cornell's Al Rose defeated Bob Faris, 9-2, while at 167 pounds the Nittanians' Don Mangle deci-sioned Dave Kitts, 4-2. In the highest scoring match, Penn State's Al Lasko lost a 17-7 decision to Dan Holmes at 177 pounds and in the finale the Lion's Sam Stelatella was pinned in 44 seconds of the third period by Fred Schweizer.

Kadis Drive Ends Friday; Fund Now Totals $479

By FRAN FANUCCI
Five contributions, totaling $60, were added to the "Dick Kadis Fund" drive, which heads into its final week. Friday has been set as the deadline for all contributions and groups and individuals have been urged to turn over all money as soon as possible.

Money can be dropped off at Delta Upsilon Fraternity or at The Daily Collegian. All checks should be payable to the Varsity "S" Club, co-sponsor of the drive along with The Daily Collegian.

Blue Key Hat Society handed over a check for $25 yesterday to rank as one of the highest contributors of the drive. Three sororities—Alpha Epsilon Phi, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Delta Zeta—and one fraternity—Pi Kappa Phi—contributed the remaining $33.

With the $60 added yesterday the total amount of money in the fund is $478.80. Club President Paul Roberts said yesterday that collections of sororities will begin today. He also added: "I hope fraternities will also make some kind of collection and turn over the amount no later than Thursday of this week. If we collect from the remaining sororities and fraternities we can easily get an additional $200."

Kadis, meanwhile, is still listed in "poor" condition in a Cleveland hospital. The Geneva football player was injured last Sept. 29 in a game with Waynesburg and has been in a coma ever since.

TOP JOBS

The shoe is on the other foot

Soon you will decide on the kind of company in which you want to invest the knowledge you have acquired through engineering education.

You will probably have more companies to consider than those who graduated before you... many more than the men who collected their sheepskins before 1950. While the number of engineering graduates once exceeded the number of openings, today there are more good opportunities than there are capable young men to pick up the pay checks. In short, the shoe is on the other foot—YOUR FOOT!

Although we recognize that fact, we cannot relax our standards. We still want only those who have the creative spark, the imagination, the talent to make important contributions in our organization. No doubt you will understand why... when you read our booklet. It tells about the exciting progress of helicopters and indicates something of the part Sikorsky has played and will play in their development.

This informative booklet is yours for the writing, no strings attached. Should you be considering Sikorsky as a company where you might like to get started, then tell us, too, a little about yourself. Address your letter to Mr. Richard Auten at our Bridgeport Personnel Department.
