

Cabinet May Spend $36 To Mail Out Agendas

All-University Cabinet last night approved a single positive motion—to mail its agendas out to members at a cost of up to $36 per year.

Cabinet also heard part of a report on the National Student Association; completed part of a discussion on a Campus Chest report; and defeated a recommendation presented by the All-University Elections Committee.

Cabinet also dispensed with a motion from the floor concerning a partial holiday for a fall football game; heard a partial answer to a question concerning the Cabinet Personnel Interviewing Committee; and partially heard dozens of off-the-cuff remarks by its members.

Concerning the agendas, which were distributed two days late this week, Joseph Hartnett, senior class president, moved that Cabinet agendas be hereafter mailed to its members.

He said he had calculated during the meeting that the cost of the mailing would not exceed $36. After the motion was approved, it was called to Cabinet's attention that the appropriation must be given a second approval next week to go into effect.

The National Student Association report, presented by NSA coordinator Lawrence McCabe, was tabled because a delivery truck from Philadelphia carrying part of the report was apparently unable to get over the mountains yesterday.

Cabinet defeated an Elections Committee recommendation which would allow an eighth-semester student in a 5-year curriculum to run for an All-University office in the spring elections.

Members of Cabinet said that because the letter of the All-University Elections Code must be followed, a constitutional amendment would be needed to allow the student to run.

Cabinet concluded that since an amendment must be approved at three consecutive meetings and that the spring elections would have been completed by then, such a change would not be feasible. This was done after a brief parliamentary hassle over whether a recommendation had ever actually been made.

Cabinet limited debate on the Campus Chest report, presented by Robert Gellman, so that it could get on to the stranded NSA report.

John Arnold, freshman class vice president, presented a motion from the floor asking study of a football half-holiday for next fall.

After several members of Cabinet expressed their opinions on why such a motion was not feasible, it was decided that Arnold could not legally present a motion from the floor anyway—because he was not a member of cabinet.

Joseph Eberly, president of the Chemistry and Physics Student Council, asked on behalf of the council why CPIC has not been used this year. All-University Vice President William Clark—sitting in for All-University President Robert Bahrenburg—said he believed the use of CPIC was used at the discretion of the president. But he suggested that Eberly check the facts with Bahrenburg at next week's Cabinet meeting.

Speech Department Chooses Finalists For Reading Fetes

Five finalists have been chosen by the Department of Speech to participate in the National Inter-Collegiate Reading Festival and the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Reading Festival which will be held in May.

The finalists are Joyce Basch, freshman in arts and letters from Scranton, who read "Rest Cure" by Patricia Collinge; Gerald Denison from Philadelphia, senior in arts and letters from Philadelphia, who read excerpts from "The Vigilante" by John Steinbeck; Patricia A. Doll, senior in arts and letters from York, who read "The Girls in Their Summer Dresses" by Irwin Shaw.

John Wellen, senior in arts and letters from Pittsburgh, who read "Afternoon of a Pawn Broker" by Kenneth Fearing; and Jon Wilder, sophomore in arts and letters from State College, who read "Gunga Din" by Rudyard Kipling.

'Troubador' Gives Companion Pride

The way Henry Gruber, a graduate of animal husbandry, talks about it, you might think him to be the proudest farm boy ever and PS Troubadour to be almost human.

Gruber, who is "traveling companion" for PS Troubadour, sensation of the 1956 International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, talks about his "ward" as a proud papa might talk about his pride and joy.

Occasionally Gruber sleeps in the stall with the steer on trips. About this experience he says, "Troubadour knows his weight and keeps to his side so he won't hurt me. But one morning I woke to find his head in my lap. He was looking up at me as if to say, 'Where's my breakfast?'"

Gruber says that the prize-winner is good-natured and loves attention. "Fact is," he says, "he's really a ham about the crowds and cameras. When he wants attention, he bawls like a spoiled brat."

Gruber says that the sight of Troubadour is to 4-H kids what the sight of the "newest-model car is to city kids."

"Their eyes pop right out of their heads when they see Troubadour," he says, and "they dream of raising one like him."

Troubadour is very particular, Gruber says. He must be fed from the same crop on which he was raised during his earlier days at the University, and he must be combed 12 times a day to keep his coat gleaming.

He must be kept cool, but out of drafts, and must have his back scratched regularly.

He dislikes to be bathed, but has to suffer the experience once each week.

The celebrated pair are touring farm and stock shows and colleges and universities in 11 states and Canada. They are making the tour in a private railroad car.

Gruber is an old hand at winning prizes himself. He was high point man for judging beef cattle and horses at the Eastern Livestock Exposition at Springfield, Mass., seventh in the Eastern National Show at Timonium, Md. and tied for eighth at the American Royal in Kansas City.

Entry Deadline In 'Greek' Sing Set for Today

Today is the deadline for submitting entry blanks for the Interfraternity Council-Panhellenic Council sing to be held on March 26, 27 and 29.

Thomas Hollander, co-chairman of the sing, said that entries should be mailed to him.

The preliminaries for the sing are being arranged differently this year, according to Hollander. Fraternities entering the sing will compete in preliminary rounds from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on March 26 at Schwab Auditorium.

Sorority Preliminaries Preliminary rounds for sororities will be held on March 27 at the same time.

The winning choruses from each of the first two nights will compete in the finals which will be held at 7 p.m. on March 29.

Twenty-two fraternities and 12 sororities have submitted entry blanks for the sing to date, Hollander said. Last year, 19 fraternities and 14 sororities competed in the sing.

Permanent Trophies Awarded Permanent trophies will be awarded to the winning fraternity and sorority. In previous years, fraternities or sororities were required to win the sing for three consecutive years before they could obtain permanent possession of a trophy.

Bronze plaques will be awarded to second-place winners in both the fraternity and sorority divisions.

Groups to Seek Refugee Funds

Hat Society Council and the National Student Association will send letters to campus organizations requesting donations to the Hungarian refugee student fund. Every University activity is to receive a letter.

The letters were prepared by Amos J. Shaler, head of the Department of Metallurgy and the Hungarian Student Assistance Committee.

Checks should be made payable to the Hungarian Student Assistance Fund or the University. Donations may be turned in to Dr. Shaler, 5 Mineral Science, or to Richard C. Maloney, assistant dean of the College of the Liberal Arts, 132 W. Sparks St. The drive will continue until the end of March.

'Queen' Entries Due

Entries and pictures for the queen of the sophomore dance, "Flirtation Fling," to be held March 9, must be submitted at the Hetzel Union desk before noon tomorrow.

Nominations to Open For WSGA Election

Self-nomination blanks for the Women's Student Government Association elections, to be held March 19 and 21, will be available tomorrow through noon March 9 in the dean of women's office.

Those to be elected include president, vice president, treasurer and one senior, junior, sophomore and town senator.

Any member of the women's student body may apply for these positions if she has a 2.5 All-University average and no major judicial record.

Women applying for the presidency must be of sixth semester standing and have one year's experience on the WSGA Senate. Vice president applicants must be of fourth semester standing and coeds applying for the position of treasurer must be second or third semester.

Required Semester Standings

The senior senatorship requires sixth semester standing; junior senatorship, fourth or fifth semester standing; sophomore senatorship, second or third semester standing; and town senatorship, any semester standing except first.

At the time of applying, candidates should also sign the list in the dean of women's office for a screening appointment. Screening will be held the afternoon of March 9 in the WSGA office in the Hetzel Union Building.

Candidates to Meet

The candidates selected from the screening will meet at 7:45 p.m. March 12 in the HUB to receive information on the WSGA election code. The candidates will be introduced to the women's student body at house meetings held in the dormitory lounges March 14 and 17.

Primary elections will be held on March 19 and the final election, on March 21. Polls will be set up in the lounges of Thompson Hall, McAllister Hall, Atherton Hall, Simmons Hall and McElwain Hall. Women will vote in their own dormitories with the exception of those living in Women's Building and Grange Dormitory, and town students who will vote in McAllister Hall.

All women members of the student body are eligible to vote.

Chemist to Speak To Bible Group

Dean Walter, head of the analytical chemical branch of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D.C., will speak to the Bible Fellowship at 7:30 tonight in the lounge of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel.

Walter will speak on "Creature and Creator."

He is listed in "Chemical Who's Who" and has had articles published in the fields of gases, poetry and sermons.

TIM Elects 20 In Record Vote

Twenty new members were elected to the Town Independent Men Council in the elections held Wednesday and yesterday, in a record turnout of voters.

Four hundred ballots were received, which was a 448 per cent increase over the previous high of 75 votes.

Twenty-nine candidates were on the ballot, with the 20 men receiving the most votes being elected to the TIM Council.

Warren Miller, senior in chemistry from Cheswick, received the highest number of votes and will therefore sit on the Association of Independent Men Board of Governors as well.

The other 19 men elected to the council are Charles Moose, David Detzer, Dean Frey, James Settle, Frank Miller, Donald Dennis, Joseph Shea, Warren Heinly, Richard Huber.

Robert Altman, George French, Leo Fregly, James Birdsall, Lynn Breon, Stanley Wielobob, Donald Farabaugh, Charles Simpson, Paul Rosenberger and William Wetzel.
