

3 Students Will Observe Dickinson Honor House

By PAT EARLEY

The Women's Student Government Association will send three women to Dickinson College next weekend to live in Biddle House, the honor house of the college.

The purpose of the trip is to investigate the possibility of setting up an honor house on campus.

Janet Davidson, chairman of WSGA implementations committee, another member of the committee, and a reporter of The Daily Collegian will leave campus Friday morning and will return Sunday evening.

The women will learn how the honor house was instituted at Dickinson College and they will see for themselves how the house is run.

Will Talk to Students

They will talk with both men and women students to find the general opinion of the student body toward the honor house.

Victoria Hann, dean of women at Dickinson College, has volunteered to talk with the women and to give them any information they might need for their report.

The president of Biddle House will take the women on a tour of the house explaining the system. No other plans have been made, because the women want to live there as if they were students of the college living a normal weekend.

Honor Code Used

Biddle House is a residence hall housing 32 senior women. The women who live there sign a pledge saying that they will obey the rules of the college. The girls are on their honor to obey the rules. There is no housemother living in Biddle House. The women enforce the rules themselves.

The idea of an honor system was re-introduced last week to the Senate by Marilyn Seltzer, former chairman of the implementations committee. She gave a full report on the findings of the committee. The committee had talked with members of the psychology department to obtain further information for the report.

Club Schedules Bridge Matches

The Bridge Club will hold pairs championship matches March 25 and April 1, in the Hetzel Union cardroom.

A contestant must play with the same partner in both sessions to place in the overall competition. However, each weekly session will have its winners.

The club will hold its weekly meeting from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday in the HUB cardroom. The meeting is open to all bridge players. Winners receive fractional master point certificates.

AIM Board Grants $25 To Hospital

The Association of Independent Men Board of Governors has allotted $25 to the building fund of the Centre County Hospital.

In bringing the motion to the floor, James Tipton, Town Independent Men president, said that the drive, of which President Eric A. Walker is chairman, is falling below quota.

$400,000 Needed

The hospital needs $400,000 more in its drive to double its capacity, he said.

The board decided to install the new AIM officers at the annual AIM banquet to be held on Saturday April 27.

The officers, to be elected by the board on April 3, will be sworn in before the banquet, according to Lash Howes, AIM president.

Requirements Listed

Nominations for the AIM elections will be held on March 27. Any independent man with an All-University average of 2.0 or better may run. The president must have 5th or 6th semester standing.

A candidate may be nominated by a member of the board, or by a petition signed by 300 independent men.

Must Submit Letter

Howes asked all prospective candidates to submit a letter to him stating the office they seek.

Norman Hedding, AIM treasurer, read the names of 30 men eligible for AIM service pins.

2 Artists to Present Mime, Music Show

"Counterpart," a program of music and pantomime, will be presented at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in Schwab Auditorium.

Frans Reynders, mime, and Herman Chessid, harpsichordist, will present the program under the auspices of the School of Arts. Admission is free.

Mime is a kind of drama in which scenes from life are imitated and generally represented in a satirical manner. Reynders studied pantomime with the foremost exponent of this art in modern times, Etienne Decroux, teacher of Marcel Marceau and Jean Louis Barrault.

Toured Abroad

As a member of Decroux's troupe, he toured extensively in Europe and Great Britain and later starred in musical comedy in his native Holland.

Reynders was an art teacher and scenic designer. His interest in music, particularly in the harpsichord, led to his belief that the harpsichord and its literature would afford an ideal accompaniment for his mimes.

After arriving in the United States, he met Chessid, a former pupil of the well-known harpsichordist, Ralph Kirkpatrick.

Clarified Forms

Chessid's practical experience as a recording and performing artist, plus his background in composition, enabled him to clarify musical forms to Reynders so that they could be used as a basis for developing abstract and narrative mimes.

Therefore, the music becomes "mirrored" in its human counterpart—mime.

Included in the program will be selections by Bach, Mozart and Sweelinck with mimes depicting "The Bird," "Game with the Hand," "The Park Bench," "Consort with Angels," "The Tree" and "The Trials of Pierrot."

The Governor was accompanied at the crowded coffee hour by President Eric A. Walker and Ossian R. MacKenzie, dean of the College of Business Administration. Dr. Walker was chided by several of the company for his deep tan, a result of his recent 12-day Caribbean cruise.

The governor flew to the Philipsburg airport yesterday afternoon and then upon arrival here was taken on a campus tour. He left the coffee hour at 5 p.m. to go to a banquet given by the Business Administration Student Council.

On his way out of the coffee hour with Dr. Walker the Governor glanced at a student in Bermuda shorts standing along the sidewalk. He commented:

"It's good weather for Bermudas—do you have an extra pair?"

Food Authority Will Discuss Eating Patterns

An authority on regional foods, Nell B. Nichols, will talk on "Modern Patterns of Eating Across the U.S.A." at Home Economics Spring Weekend, April 12 and 13.

Mrs. Nichols is associate editor and director of food and equipment of Farm Journal magazine, and has charge of its food and equipment operations, as well as its countryside kitchens.

A former field food editor of The Woman's Home Companion and an authority on regional foods, Mrs. Nichols has visited every state and Hawaii in her search for the best foods which families prepare and eat. She is also author of "Good Home Cooking Across the U.S.A." and "The Farm Cook and Rule Book."

Mrs. Nichols received her bachelor's degree from Kansas State College and master's degree in home economics and journalism from the University of Wisconsin.

"Modern Patterns for Eating Across the U.S.A." is scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday, April 12 and will be repeated at 9 a.m. on Saturday in Room 101, Hetzel Union. The meeting is open to the public.

7 Running for 3 HEc Offices

Leslie Shultz, junior from State College, and Patricia Moran, junior from Broomall, have been nominated for president of the Home Economics Student Council.

Nominated for vice president are David Allison, sophomore from Pittsburgh; Eleanor Judy, sophomore from Cochranville, and Suzanne Aiken, junior from Edgewood.

Candidates for secretary-treasurer are Suzanne Keener, freshman from Greensburg, and Barbara Bixler, sophomore from Dawson.

Nominations for these offices will remain open until the elections Tuesday.

To Hold Self-Nominations

The council this week voted to hold self-nominations for representatives to council Saturday through Monday before the elections on April 2 and 3. This is the same procedure that has been used other years.

Plans were discussed for a mixer to be held with the members of the Business Administration Student Council. The suggestion was made that a talk on criminology be given at this mixer, rather than the previously suggested talk by a representative of a book agency.

Permission was given the chairman of the mixer committee to arrange the details with the chairman from the Business Administration Council.

Display Plan Dropped

It was announced that the bulletin board display the council had agreed to supply had not been put up due to some confusion in getting the plans from the chairman. The council voted to drop the plan because of the late date.

Under the report on the Spring Weekend to be held May 12 and 13, it was announced that the committees for each of the major fields in home economics had arranged for space for their displays. Since the council representatives are not on the major committees, the coordinating committee was urged to work closely with both the council and the other committees.

The council decided that it would leave a list of recommendations for the incoming council members. Among the suggestions for such a list were creating the office of parliamentarian and moving the council meetings to the Hetzel Union Building in an effort to stimulate discussion.
