

Reds 'Solid Contenders' Says Manager Tebbetts

TAMPA, Fla., March 18 (AP)—Waite Hoyt, the Redlegs' play-by-play announcer, wound up the taped interview by saying "that was Birdie Tebbetts, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs," and Birdie walked away, stopping about midway in the dugout at Al Lopez Field.

He had just been asked the usual questions you hear in spring training camps. Now, he put one foot up on the dugout step, using his leg for a prop.

"You know," he said, "they told me I had the weakest pitching of all the contenders last spring, but we finished just one game behind that 'great' Milwaukee staff. Lawrence Looks Good

"Brooks Lawrence has looked good so far this spring. What he's going to do, I don't know. Maybe he won't win 19 again. Maybe he'll win more. Anything you say now is pure speculation. Strictly a guess."

Tebbetts ran a hand under his chin, rubbing his fingers over silver whiskers as though he were reading braille.

"I guess you could say we're 'set.' We know just about who is going to play for us," he said. "But you never know what newcomer you've been overlooking, what kid might just show something and make it.

Weaknesses Are Few
"Our weakness, or weaknesses, we'll find out as the season moves along. Nobody wins a pennant down here. You do that between April 16 and September 29."

Birdie bent over, picked up a pebble. "It's going to take something to beat Brooklyn," he said, not so much in a way of an answer, but as an observation.

"That Brooklyn is a great club. They're good. Professionals. You have to beat them. They won't lose.

"But we're a contender," he added, then corrected himself: "A real solid contender."

TUCSON, Ariz., March 18 (AP)—Virus infections have sidelined Early Wynn and Vic Wertz in what Cleveland Indians' Trainer Wally Bock said is the worst siege of spring illness in his seven years with the Tribe.

Giambra Pick Over Andrews

OAKLAND, Calif., March 18 (AP)—Sixth ranking middleweight Joey Giambra, who recently moved headquarters from Buffalo, N.Y., to San Francisco, rates as the favorite over Al Andrews when the two box a ten-rounder tomorrow night.

Andrews, of Superior, Wis., makes his first West Coast appearance while Giambra fought in the last major Bay area show when he outpointed Rocky Castellani on Dec. 10. That was his seventh straight victory of 1956.

Andrews dropped from the 160-pound rankings last year so a verdict over Giambra would bounce back into the picture again.

how high is UP?

There's an old saying that your future with a company depends on your own initiative and ability. The fact is, your future also depends on the attitude of the company toward the growth of the people they employ.

At West Virginia, we believe that our own growth depends on the growth of our engineering people. We want imaginative, inquisitive engineers whom we can assign to small teams to solve our product, quality control and manufacturing problems. Each of our plants operates as a separate unit with engineering a basic part of each operation. This climate of freedom of action and quick recognition of work well done is one that appeals to many young engineering seniors.

Chalmers Barr, Personnel Director, will visit your campus shortly. He would like to talk with you. Be sure to see him. Contact your placement director for time and place.
